ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

Mr. Lawrie and family wish to thank their many friends for all the kind sympathy of which they were the recipients in their recent sorrow.

Mrs. FitzGerald R. Wall, The Hermitage, Holycross, desires to return sincere thanks to the many kind friends who sent expressions of sympathy in her recent sad and tragic bereavement, also to those who sent floral tributes. As it is impossible to reply to each one personally, it is hoped that this acknowledgment will be accepted by all.

WIRES "LINCOLAN DUBLIN"

The life-blood of every industry that counts is competition. The rivalry in the motor car world is sufficiently keen to ensure the public a fair deal with almost any car. Three cars, however, have succeeded in digging themselves into the heart of the public to a remarkable degree. They are—The Austin and The Sunbeam (both oldtimers), admirably supported by that wonderful product of recent years, The Clyno. Study the prices here given—then see the cars. If you cannot call ask us to send you literature.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT

OVER THE ROOF.

THIEVES' HAUL FROM GRAFTON STREET SHOPS.

(BEFORE MR. COLLINS.)

William Lawlor (25), Nicholas O'Reilly (23), and Michael Collins (25) were remanded in custody for a week, charged with having, in pursuance of a conspiracy, broken into the lock-up drapery shop of Margaret Brennan, 22 Grafton street, and the lock-up fancy and antique shop of W. V. Freke, 23 Grafton street, and stolen from the former 5s. in silver and coppers, £4 worth of insurance stamps, and a white linen cover value for 10s., and from the latter a paste pendant value for £4 4s., four strings of pearls, twelve dozen gipsy coins, five serviette rings, two candlesticks, and two ash trays, of a total value of £11.

It was alleged that the accused men got into the first shop by climbing a wall ten feet high to the roof and pulling down a window. Crossing the roof afterwards they got into Mr. Freke's shop, which adjoins, in the same way.

There was a further charge of breaking into Messrs. Scully's premises, 25 Grafton street, and stealing £2 10s. 2d. in cash.

Detective Sherlock said that he arrested Lawlor on Monday night, and found in his possession a box containing the missing coins, six strings of pearls, and two brooches. When questioned the defendant said that he got these articles from a man, whose name he refused to give.

Collins, who was arrested later, said that Lawlor met him in Grafton street last Friday evening and asked him if anyone lived in Scully's, Freke's or Brennan's shops, remarking that he thought that it would be a "cop." Lawlor asked him if he would go with him "on the job," and he replied that he would not. Lawlor then said that he would do it himself if he could not get anyone else. On Saturday he (Collins) saw in the papers what had happened and knew that Lawlor had done it. On Monday he met Lawlor, who told him that he had carried out the "jobs" in the shops, and had some jewellery which he was going to sell.

Collins further stated that at seven o'clock on the same evening he met O'Reilly, who asked him if he saw Lawlor to tell him to wait for him (O'Reilly) at the fountain on the Green at 10.30 that night. Lawlor afterwards told him that O'Reilly fell through the glass and broke three panes in Freke's.

FORGED PAY ORDERS.

EX-NATIONAL ARMY CLERK SENT FOR TRIAL.

Brendan Harrington, who gave his address as 10 Paradise street, Marylebone, London, formerly a clerk in the Free State Army Pay Department, Portobello Barracks, was returned for trial to the Circuit Court, on bail of £100, on the charge of having, between February and October, 1923, obtained from Mr. Farley, publican, St. Stephen's Green, a sum of £63 18s. by means of forged pay orders.

Mr. Farley gave evidence that he cashed for the accused man twenty-two pay orders, which he believed were for his mother and were bona fide.

Captain Cannon, of the Army Pay Department, said that he believed that the forged signatures on the paying orders (produced) were written by the accused man, with whose handwriting he was familiar, the accused man having been a sergeant in the Army Pay Department in 1923.

Detective O'Connor said that in 1923 Harrington made a claim in respect of his mother, who was in an asylum. He was granted an allowance of £1 8s. a week, but, not satisfied with drawing that, he used to draw some weeks £5 and other weeks £10. At the end of twelve months the bank notified Mr. Farley that he was indebted to them in the sum of £63 18s., and that aroused his suspicions.

TROUBLE TO POLICE.

BAIL INCREASED IN CASHIER "HOLD-UP" CASE.

Thomas Kirwan, John Dillon street, who was charged on remand in connection with the "holding up" of Miss Eileen Coyne, a cashier, in the employment of Messrs. Fallon and Callanan, Lower Bridge street, was returned for trial to the Circuit Court.

Detective O'Connor said that the accused man got out on bail in order to assist the police, but the assistance was not forthcoming.

Mr. E. Burne, solicitor, who defended, said that the defendant told the police who the parties were. He gave them their last known address where he believed they could be found.

Detective O'Connor—He told us a lot of lies from the start. Your worship has seen the trouble we have had with one of the witnesses. We have received no help from the accused, and I am instructed by the Superintendent to apply for increased bail.

The Justice said that he had seen the difficulty which the police had in this case. It was a very difficult job, and he was not going to embarrass them.

Bail was fixed at £300, £100 more than in the first instance.

CAR ON FOOTPATH.

FOUR PERSONS KNOCKED DOWN IN GRAFTON STREET.

Bernard Gray, commercial traveller, Homeville, Glasnevin, was remanded for a week on the charge of having, between 4 and 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon, driven a motor car in a reckless and negligent manner and at a speed dangerous to the public in Grafton street, whereby he knocked down and injured four persons, one of them—Tessie Gennings, a maid employed at the Grosvenor Hotel, Westland row—as a result having to be detained as a patient in Mercer's Hospital.

The other persons alleged to have been knocked down were Mrs. Ellen Lockerton, 25 Arbour Hill; Mrs. William Jones, 27 Merrion street, and John Crofts, 14 Merchant's quay. These were slightly injured.

Gray was further charged with having wilfully and maliciously damaged the left rear mudguard of a motor car driven by Mr. Edward M. Murphy, civil engineer, 51 Northumberland road, by striking it with the front wheel of the car which he was driving.

Inspector Ryan said that when the defendant was brought to the station he stated that he was making to turn into Wicklow street. He tried to avoid another motor car, but his car failed to swing, as the clutch did not work.

Mr. Edward Murphy said that he was driving his car along Wicklow street towards Grafton street when he saw a girl falling off the kerb and a car running along the footpath straight for his car. The car struck his rear mudguard and smashed it. A girl was pinned beneath the defendant's car, which had to be lifted up before she could be released. The defendant's car was going at about eight or ten miles an hour, and it appeared to be out of control.

The Justice—He was driving a defective car, and that appears to have injured four people?

Inspector Ryan—Three received minor injuries and there is one in hospital.

Answering Mr. Mayne, solicitor (for the defendant), the witness said that the first thing that he saw was the girl falling.

Mr. Mayne—Did you see anything that led up to the accident?

The Witness—Nothing at all. I saw the car coming through the people on the kerb.

ONE HUNDRED LABOURERS' COTTAGES.

LIMAVADY HOUSING SCHEME.

The Limavady Rural District Council has approved of a scheme for the erection of 103 labourers' cottages at a cost of £35,170. The clerk said they thought that they would be able to let the houses at 3/- per week. The loan would be repayable over a period of 68½ years, in annual instalments of £731 4s. 10d., for principal and interest; so that the houses would be virtually self-supporting.

First consignments, from British Columbia, of pilchard oil (190,000 gallons) and fish meal fertiliser have just reached London, says the Canadian Official Press Bureau. Two hundred tons of Canadian hay have also been bought by Edinburgh firms, which have booked further orders for delivery up to March next.

PRODUCE AND FOOD MARKETS.

CATTLE.

LEEDS.—Slow trade for cattle; brisker for sheep. On offer—512 beasts, 8d. to 10½d.; sheep 2,492, 11d. to 1/2, ewes 8d. to 9d., tups 6d. to 7d., lambs 1/2 to 1/5. Pork pigs (11) made up to 15/- per stone.

CAMBRIDGE.—Beasts 237, beef 11/- to 12/-. Sheep 369, mutton to 8/4, lamb to 1/3. Pigs 776, pork to 16/-. Calves 83. Fat cattle—Adequate supplies and rates slightly higher. Store beasts a larger show; best sorts in demand. Fat sheep—About the same number as last week and trade better at late rates. Fat pigs—A good supply and trade unchanged. Store pigs—Business rather sluggish.

SALFORD.—On offer—Beasts, 828; sheep and lambs, 8,108; included in above numbers were 274 Irish fat cattle, 86 dairy cows, and 269 sheep and lambs. Restrictions due to recent outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease now removed, and business again normal in character. Cattle generally ruled slow, quality being of very moderate character. Well finished beasts scarce and readily sold. Sheep and lambs met good trade, especially handy-weights. Supplies of Irish lamb confined mainly to stronger sorts. Best butchers' beasts quoted up to 9½d., a few choice heifers 10d., Irish 9d. to 9½d., good fat young cows 7½d. to 8½d.; choice light sheep 1/- to 1/1½, Welsh and North Country lambs 1/2, strong Irish 1/- to 1/1, ewes around 9d. per lb. Cows suitable for dairy purposes numbered 92, but trade ruled slow at £22 to £29 per head.

GRAIN.

DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE.—The attendance of the trade is small, and business, therefore, of limited dimensions. Demand for wheat has slackened since last report, and prices for the small transactions passing worked out around 30/- to 31/- per barrel for wheat, with inferior qualities, say, 28/- per barrel. White oats averaged 12/- to 13/6 per barrel, and odd samples 14/- per barrel; black oats 10/9 to 11/9, and for better qualities 12/- per barrel.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC.—WHEAT cargo market remained quiet, but nominally steady in absence of selling pressure. North American grades being sparingly offered. No. 2 Northern Manitoba October sellers 57/6, white Pacific October-November 53/6, No. 2 hard winter afloat 56/3; Rosafe (62½lbs.) January-February 54/3, Barusso (63lbs.) do. 52/3, Australian January-February 55/-. Parcels quiet, but the turn dearer for Canadian grades; No. 1 Northern Manitoba September sold 56/-, October-November 54/6; choice white Karachi early October 55/6. The Benavon, 5,000 tons of white Pacific 15th October done 55/6 to Continent. MAIZE cargoes steadier, and shippers more reserved in face of firm rates for freightage. Plate steamers afloat sellers 29/6 to 30/-, as to size and position; October-November 29/9, December-January 29/10½. Parcels in fair demand, and the turn dearer; Plate August-September, also September-October, sold 29/1½, November-December 29/1½ per 480lbs.; steamer, 5,200 tons of Plate January sold 29/9. BARLEY—Better demand, and prices steady both for cargoes and parcels. Part cargo, 2,000 tons of South Russian October sold 29/6, and parcels of No. 3 Canadian Western September 29/3 per 400lbs. OATS quietly steady; Plate f.a.q. afloat sellers 21/-, September-October, also 15th November, 20/9; January-February 20/9; No. 2 Canadian Western October 30/3, No. 3 do. 28/6, Chilian afloat 21/9, September-October 21/3 per 320lbs.

LIVERPOOL.—WHEAT—The unexpected sharp advance in Winnipeg and Chicago had a strengthening effect on wheat here at the outset, when forward deliveries marked a liberal improvement. Values further hardened, then receded somewhat, but again moved upwards on a good demand for c.i.f. parcels and shorts covering, and showed a decided gain at the finish. C.i.f. parcels dearer; No. 2 Manitoba Oct. 8th sold at 54/9, Sept. 30th 55/4½ to 55/6, Oct. 11th 54/6, Oct 28th 53/9; No. 2 hard winter Sept. 54/-, No. 2 red winter afloat 52/3, No. 2 mixed winter arrived 52/-, early Oct. 52/- to 52/1½ per qr. C.i.f. parcels MAIZE River Plate Sept.-Oct., Oct.-Nov. and Nov.-Dec. sold at 29/1½ per qr. Wheat on the spot quiet, and prices irregular. Maize spot parcels quiet at 6/5 to 6/6½ per cental for River Plate. FLOUR quiet, with only a moderate inquiry. Graded wheat futures opened ¼d. per cental dearer, further improved, then fluctuated slightly, but later advanced considerably, the market closing 1½d. to 1¾d. over Monday night.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL.—BACON—Irish and Danish remains quietly steady, but Canadian is more freely offered, and 2/- lower at 98/- to 104/- per cwt. American selections also generally easier, with a limited demand. Wiltshire being reduced to 95/- to 99/-, light Cumberlands 108/- to 111/-, heavier averages 109/- to 112/- per cwt. HAMS in only moderate demand, but no further change in values reported. Shoulders dull of sale at lower prices; New Yorks being quoted 84/- to 86/-, squares 88/- to 91/-, and picnics 80/- to 89/- per cwt. LARD on the spot is steadily held at late rates for both prime steam and American refined, but buyers again operate merely for their actual needs. CHEESE again attracts little attention, but no further decline in prices is reported. BUTTER quiet, and in some cases favouring buyers, New Zealand being reduced to 162/- to 168/- per cwt. EGGS firm and dearer, Irish fresh hen being now held at 15/6 to 18/-, and Polish 12/6 to 12/9 per 120.

MANCHESTER.—BUTTER—Danish shipments for week ended September 25th totalled 27,176 casks (1,003 casks less). Swedish fairly plentiful; other descriptions of Scandinavian in smaller arrival; market steady in consequence. Irish creameries slow, and favouring buyers. Choicest qualities quoted—Danish 186/- to 188/-, special dairies extra; Finnish 178/- to 180/-, Swedish 175/- to 178/-, Irish creameries 152/- to 156/-. BACON—Shipments of Danish and Swedish 11,984 bales (884 less). Irish fairly firm; Danish also held for full rates; Dutch and Swedish moderate request; American and Canadian quiet. Irish 124/- to 130/- according to average weight; North of Ireland rolls 134/- to 140/-, according to weight and cure; Danish 121/- to 127/-, Swedish 110/- to 116/-, Dutch 106/- to 112/-, Canadian 102/- to 108/-. LARD—English refined the turn dearer: 79/6 boxes wholesale; American steady, 75/- to 75/6 according to brand. CHEESE—Home-produced firm for best grades, but lower qualities in poor request, even at low prices. Choicest Cheshire 9½d. to 10d., Lancashire around 11d. Colonial quiet at reasonable figures: New Zealand white 89/- to 90/-, coloured 88/- to 89/-, Canadian 87/- to 89/-. EGGS—Shipments of Danish and Swedish, 4,308 cases (increase 136 cases). Firm, with upward tendency. Irish extra selected 18/6, selected 17/-, medium and trades 14/-, ducks 16/-, Danish 18lb. 19/-, 17lb. 18/6, 15½lb. 17/6, 13lb. 14/6; French all-browns 20/-, extras 18/-; Dutch 17/-, Belgians 16/6, Polish 12/-.

DUBLIN FRUIT AND VEGETABLE.—Home-grown vegetables in good supply, and everything of prime class sold satisfactorily; the smaller descriptions of stuff, however, were slow to move. York cabbage 20/- to 40/- and 55/- load; sprouts 2/- to 5/- per tray and float; Swede turnips 1/3 to 1/9 cwt.; cauliflowers 1/4 to 2/- and 2/6 dozen; carrots 1/- to 2/- bunch; parsnips 1/- to 1/6 bunch, also at 3/- to 5/- bag; celery 1/- to 2/6 and 4/6 bunch, small beetroot 4d. dozen, large 1/- to 1/6 dozen; marrows 2/- to 5/- dozen, extra 9/- dozen; turnips 3d. to 8d. bunch; parsley 6d. float; beans 1/6 to 3/6 tray; O. jellies 3d to 6d. bunch; leeks 4d. to 6d.; scallions 4d. to 6d.; lettuce 9d. to 1/- dozen; radish 6d. dozen; mint 2d.; scarlet runners 1/- tray; spinach 6d. tray; rhubarb 2/- bundle; tomatoes 3d. to 7d. per lb. Irish fruits—Damsons 6/- tray, 9/- per half bushel; blackberries 2d. to 3d. punnet; apples 45/- barrel, 2/- to 3/6 tray; peaches 1/3 each; pears 7/- to 11/- tray; grapes 1/- lb.; plums 7/- float; cucumbers 3/- dozen. There was also a good all round arrival of imported fruits, and trade generally for such was fair, with a sell up of everything on market. Prices remain practically par with last quotations:—Apples 30/- to 45/- per barrel; Gravenstein 18/- per crate, 26/- per box; reds 15/- to £1 per box, cookers 12/- to 14/- per bushel, Jonathans 20/- per case, Cox orange pippins 24/- per case; Sunkist oranges 30/- to 32/- per case, Cape oranges 28/- to 30/- per case; lemons 15/- to 27/- per case, extra large lemons 35/- per case; bananas 20/- to 25/- per crate; pears 30/- per case; grapes (black) 1/- to 1/6 per lb.; grape fruit 28/- to 40/- per case; Lisbon grapes 20/-, Almeria 25/- to 40/-; English tomatoes 4d. to 5d. per lb., French 3d. per lb.; onions, 8/-, 9/-, 5/- 11/-; pears 25/- to 30/- per case.

DUBLIN POTATO.—Arrivals are fairly large—in fact, beyond requirements. Trade shows no improvement, and prices are as previously recorded—viz., 4/- to 4/6 per cwt. for best lots.

DUBLIN POULTRY AND GAME.—Arrivals of all classes of seasonable poultry are large. Chickens, however, were in slow demand at easier prices; but large well-finished ducklings cashed readily; stores, however, were neglected, and could only be sold at low rates. Prime quality heavy turkeys met a fair inquiry and sold freely at late rates. The Michaelmas sales for fat dead geese opened here yesterday morning with good arrivals, and demand was keen for choice well-finished birds at satisfactory prices, but there was a good attendance. Coarse and stubble geese sold to clear. Young grouse, partridge, and well-handled rabbits in request. Best quality table chickens 11d. to 1/2 per lb., small chickens 1/6 to 2/- each; large fat hens 2/- to 2/6 each, others 1/6; fatted ducks 3/- to 3/6 each, stores 1/6 to 2/-, old ducks 3d. to 1/- each; fatted geese (per lb.) 9d. to 11d., stubble qualities 4/6 to 6/- apiece; turkeys 7/6 to 10/- and 12/6 each; young prime grouse 3/6 to 4/3 each, old 2/- to 2/6 apiece; young partridge 2/- to 2/6 each, old 1/- each; best fresh rabbits, well handled, 1/2 to 1/5 each, graziers 4/- to 9/- dozen.

DUBLIN BUTTER AND EGG.—The market for creamery produce continues steady, but trade is quiet, with good supplies of creams. Little business, however, is passing for secondary descriptions of butter. Finest Irish creams yesterday 1/5 per lb., with 28lb. pyramids at 1/5½ per lb.; fair quality creams 1/4½ to 1/4½ per lb.; farmers' butter of fine grade 1/2 to 1/3 per lb., secondary 1/- to 1/1 per lb., coarse descriptions, lumps, etc., are hard to cash at cheap rates. Fine quality factory butter 1/3 per lb., ordinary grades 1/1 to 1/1½ per lb. Eggs—Really reliable fresh selected hen eggs meet a fair inquiry, with prices tending higher; but faulty, stale, or doubtful descriptions are hard to clear at any price. Extra selected retail lots hen eggs 18/4 to 19/-.

per 120, case lots ordinary and selected 16/- to 18/- per 120, smalls and mediums 13/6 to 15/- per 120. The supply of duck eggs is limited; selected packed and tested lots 16/- to 16/6 per 120.

CORK BUTTER.—Steady market, with prices firm. Creameries 148/- to 153/- per cwt., choicest mild 150/-, special dairies extra.

DUBLIN FISH.—Demand was good for the equally good supply of fish yesterday, which was mainly comprised of codfish, whiting and hake, totalling 590 boxes from two steamers, 15 chests lobsters, and a small arrival from country and local hookers and wind trawls. Prices ranged as follow:—Large lobsters 12/6 to 17/6, seconds 7/6 to 10/-, smalls 2/6 to 5/- per lot of 13; large soles 30/- to 40/-, mediums 20/- to 25/-, and slips 5/- to 7/6 per 6; plaice, turbot 6d. to 15/- each, brill 6d. to 5/- each. Box fish—Plaice 17/6 to 70/-, codfish 20/- to 50/-, whiting 10/- to 30/-, white soles 30/- to 40/-, haddocks 25/- to 50/-, hake 20/- to 60/-, ling 15/- to 20/-, pollock 15/- to 25/-, congers 15/- to 20/-, ray 10/- to 20/-, gurnard 3/- to 5/- per half-box.

BILLINGSGATE FISH.—Fair supplies; steady demand. Soles 21d. to 27d., slips 15d. to 21d. per lb.; live eels 12/- to 24/-, dead 10/- to 20/- draught; turbot 18/- to 21/-, brill 16/- to 18/-, plaice 11/- to 14/-, halibut 16/- to 18/-, lemon soles 15/- to 17/-, whitches 13/- to 16/-, cod 5/- to 8/-, whiting 3/- to 5/-, hake 8/- to 9/-, skate 6/- to 8/-, haddocks 5/- to 6/- per stone.

MANCHESTER DEAD MEAT.—Home-killed beef, best sides 9½d., others 8d. to 9d.; best beasts 10d.; lambs, best small weights 1/-, others 10½d. to 11½d.; best ewes 7d. to 7½d.; chilled beef, hindquarters 7d. to 7½d., forequarters 4½d. to 4¾d.; mutton, wethers 4½d. to 5¾d., ewes 4d. to 4½d.; lambs 7d. to 10d.

LONDON POTATO.—Supplies rather lighter, but sufficient for the slow demand. Prices, however, maintain steady, especially for best samples. Best King Edwards 6/- to 7/-, Sharpe's Express 4/6 to 5/-, and Eclipse 4/- to 5/- per cwt.

PRODUCE.

LONDON.—SUGAR—Quite a buoyant market on renewed consumptive demand and reluctance of sellers to offer. English-grown granulated held for 6d. advance at 29/9, and Kidderminster 30/3. Messrs. Tate and Lyle's sugars advanced 3d. per cwt. all round. Imported kinds dearer. Dutch 1/- spot sold 28/4½ to 28/5¼. Definite offers from the Continent and America remain scarce. All raw refining sugars are very sparingly offered. Cuban 14/- c.i.f. Weston terminal active and dearer. October delivery sold 14/10½ to 15/0¾. December 15/3¾ to 15/6, March 15/9¾ to 16/- and 15/11½, May 16/1½ to 16/-, August 16/5 to 16/7½. COFFEE—Spot market steady, with a moderate inquiry for finer sorts. COCOA steady, quiet. Accra November-January quoted 41/6 f.o.b. SPICE—Pepper firm. Lampong August-October sold 8¼d.; October-December 8¼d.; Muntok August-October 1/3¾. JUTE—Market lower, lightnings pressed for sale. Firsts September-October sold £30, November-December £29 15/- to £29 10/-; lightnings August-September quoted £28. HEMP—Manila quiet, unchanged. COPRA easier. Straits November-December Rotterdam quoted £27 12/6. PALM KERNELS—October-November to Liverpool £20 11/3.

RUBBER.—Market slightly unsettled. Sheet sold on spot 1/9½ to 1/9¾, October 1/9¾ to 1/9⅞, December 1/10 to 1/9⅞, January-March 1/10¼, April-June 1/10⅛ to 1/10¼ and 1/10⅜. TEA—In auction about 23,400 packages were catalogued, and, with active and well-distributed competition, prices were mostly ¼d. to 1d. per lb. dearer. Continued improvement in quality is manifest. Pekoe sold 1/3¼ to 2/1, broken ditto 1/4 to 2/2, orange 1/7 to 2/3¼, broken orange 1/6½ to 2/6½ per lb. OILS—Linseed quieter and easier, but steadier since. Spot quoted 30/-, naked ex mill, October-December sold 29/3, January-April 30/3. Rape quiet. Crude spot 46/6, refined 48/6, Chinese drums September-October 43/6. Cotton dull and weak; crude Egyptian spot 34/-, Bombay 33/-, common edible 41/-. Cocoanut dull; Ceylon spot pipes 47/-, forward 45/-. Turpentine steady; American spot 64/-, October-December 64/9, January-April 66/9, May-June 65/6. CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR.—The market opened with a strong tone on further advances in the American market. Quotations were all dearer and spot sugars extremely scarce, firecock prices for forward positions advanced 6d.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LIVERPOOL COTTON.—American Futures—Values declined at the opening on the lower overnight advices from New York, and during the day the market ruled quiet, with only slight fluctuations. Spot sales 6,000 bales; sales for export included in above 500 bales. American Futures—Tendency quiet. September 7.83d., October 7.72d., November 7.68d., December 7.72d., January 7.77d., February 7.77d., March 7.84d., April 7.84d., May 7.91d., June 7.92d., July 7.95d., August 7.91d., September 7.90d. Egyptian Futures (basis F.G.F. Sakels)—Tendency barely steady. October 14.80d., November 14.65d., January 14.55d., March 14.55d., May 14.55d.

MANCHESTER TRADE.—Cloth buyers still holding off; considerable inquiry; too many low offers. For sales for India. More offers from China. Fragmentary sales for the Straits, the Levant, Egypt, and West Africa. Bleaching and dyeing cloths sold for Brazil and the Argentine. Voiles wanted for the United States. Colonial demand small. Home orders fairly numerous. Yarns spinners selling about a third of normal production.

DUBLIN HAY AND STRAW.—Choice descriptions of hay only were in active request, although supplies generally were rather large, but mainly of secondary and inferior stuff, which were slow to cash. Hay crop 4/- to 4/3 and 4/6 per cwt.; 2nd crop and seed crop 3/6 to 3/9 per cwt.; mixed 3/- to 3/6 per cwt., inferior sorts around 2/- to 2/6 per cwt. Straw in smaller compass than before, which resulted in an early clearance; demand, however, not too good. Oaten straw 2/6 to 2/9 and wheat 2/- to 2/3 per cwt., whaten 3/- to 3/3 per cwt.

LONDON HAY AND STRAW.—Market quietly steady with adequate supplies. Best meadow hay £5 5/- to £5 10/-, medium £4 to £4 10/-, inferior £3 to £3 10/-, mixtures and sainfoin £5 7/6 to £5 17/6, clover £5 15/- to £6 5/-; mixed straw 80/- to 90/-, and barley and oat ditto 55/- to 95/-, all per ton delivered in London.

LONDON METALS MARKET.

FURTHER RISE IN TIN.

The market for TIN displayed further strength, sellers being reserved, in view of higher foreign advices, combined with a steady demand. On balance cash ruled 50/- and forward 35/- per ton above compared with the closing rates of Monday. Standard cash quoted £313 10/- to £314, three months £302 15/- to £303, settlement price £313 10/-. Sales amounted to 900 tons, comprising £314 to £315, three months £302 to £304 5/-, £302 10/-. Straits finally £303. English ingots quoted £312 to £313 10/-. COPPER in good request, and market steady at 2/6 per ton advance. Standard cash quoted £58 7/6 to £58 10/-, three months £59 5/-. Sales £59 5/-, settlement price £58 7/6; 1,300 tons changed hands; cash at £58 7/6, three months £59 2/6; electros quoted £66 5/- to £66 10/-, B.S. £64 10/- to £65 15/-, S.E. £60; wire bars £66 10/-. LEAD slightly irregular, with moderate dealings. 500 tons sold; good soft foreign prompt September at £31 15/-, December £31 12/6 to £31 11/3, settlement price £31 15/-; English quoted £33 5/-. SPELTER firmer, and a good business done. 1,300 tons sold, including September £34 15/-, October £34 12/6, November £34 11/3, December £34 10/- to £34 11/3, January £34 8/9 to £34 10/-, settlement price £34 15/- per ton. TIN PLATES, also QUICKSILVER, unaltered. ANTIMONY dull and largely nominal.

DUBLIN WOOL SALES.

At public sales two catalogues were submitted jointly totalling 11,981 bales, comprising 5,382 New South Wales and Queensland, 2,132 Victorian, 461 West Australian, 204 South Australian, 4,370 New Zealand, 969 Cape, and 244 South American. All suitable growths of merino and crossbred continued steady, while in fairly good demand by Continental operators, but the home trade generally displayed quiet interest. Withdrawals were rather more numerous owing to selling limits not being reached, and inferior descriptions again showed slight irregularity and weakness. New South Wales and Queensland scoured merino combing sold at 38d. to 47d., comeback 40d., greasy merino combing 20d. to 28½d. Victorian scoured merino combing 36d. to 43d., scoured cross-bred combing 16½d. to 27d., greasy merino combing 20d. to 23½d., greasy crossbred 12½d. to 24½d., West Australian greasy merino combing 23d. to 27d., South Australian scoured merino combing 28d. to 36d., New Zealand scoured merino combing 34d. to 42d., scoured crossbred combing 16d. to 37½d., greasy merino combing 16d. to 23½d. Cape snow white 37½d. to 50d. and greasy combing 15½d. to 21½d. per lb.

IRISH FAIRS

PHILIPSTOWN (KING'S CO.).—This fair was well attended by both buyers and sellers. The supply of stock offered for sale in all departments was well up to the average of previous fairs, and first-class buyers being numerous, the demand all round was keen and prices remunerative. First class springers and milch cows cashed easily, and the previous month's rates were well maintained, while store cattle of a good quality changed hands quickly at satisfactory prices. The sheep fair was well filled, and the demand was better than for some time previous, especially for lambs, which showed an advance in price of about 5/- per head. All classes of pigs sold well, bonhams especially being very dear. Quotations:—First-class springers £23 to £30; second-class and inferior, £16 to £20; good milch cows, £19 to £26; second-class and inferior, £13 to £17; three-year-old stores, £18 to £23; two-year-old, £14 10/- to £16; yearlings, £9 10/- to £11 10/-; calves, £3 10/- to £4 10/-; beef, 40/- to 45/- per cwt.; lambs, 40/- to 47/-; fat ewes, 55/- to 60/-; wethers, 70/- each; pigs sold at 70/- per cwt. (live weight); stores (up to six months old), £3 10/- to £5 5/-; bonhams (eight to ten weeks old), 37/6 to 60/- each, while in one case a load of young pigs (aged something under five weeks), from Croghan district, fetched from 42/6 to 50/- each.

AUTUMN SALE OF 4,500 SHEEP.

Messrs. Craigie Bros. will hold their third autumn sale of sheep in the cattle market, Dublin, on Friday next, commencing at 12 noon, when 4,500 head will be offered. The entries include pure-bred and Oxford cross, Galway and half-bred, Cheviot and black-faced horny ewes, also Oxford cross, Galway, Cheviot and black-faced horny wethers, and Oxford cross, Shrop cross, grey-faced and Cheviot lambs. The show of black-faced horny ewes is the largest offered this season. Among those sending consignments are the Marquis of Waterford, Colonel Holland, John J. Smyth, Harry Franks, P. King Joyce, Thomas F. Joyce, Patrick K. Joyce, G. F. Moore, Dr. John Marshall Day, Justin M'Carthy, John J. O'Connor, Martin Moran, Peter Reynolds, John Kirwan, Andrew Nolan, William Whitmore, J. Casey, Joseph Earl, Frank Cannon, William Fair, Isaac Roundtree, John Ferrick, T. M'Cutcheon, etc.

LONDONDERRY Y.M.C.A.

WORK FOR NEW COMMITTEE.

Mr. John McVeigh (Chairman of the Committee), who presided at the annual meeting of the Londonderry Y.M.C.A., said that the year just closed had been the most successful during the long period he had been connected with the Association. There was however, a deficit on the financial side, and the new Committee would have to inaugurate a movement for raising £1,000

Mr. Herbert Lemon, General Secretary, submitted details of the winter's programme, which, he said, exemplified the manifold activities of the Association, and showed that it was full of vitality, and still catered for the social, spiritual and physical welfare of the members.

Mr. A. T. Goligher congratulated the Association on the success of the past year.

Mr. Wallace Edmiston spoke of the success of the Sunday Services and Bible class.

The following were elected on the Committee for the ensuing three years in place of the seven members who retired for a year in accordance with rule:—Messrs. A. A. Crockett, J. A. Piggott, A. L. Stewart, A. J. Adams, Matthew McNeary, W. Roulson and W. H. McCurdy.

ACIDITY CAUSES STOMACH TROUBLES

Stomach pains and inability to retain food often mean nothing more than indigestion resulting from gas and excess acidity. Gas distends the stomach, causing that full, oppressive feeling, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The whole trouble arises from the fermentation, which is not only unnatural, but most dangerous if not attended to. To prevent or stop fermentation and neutralise the acids, half a teaspoonful of 'Bisurated' Magnesia should be taken in a quarter of a glass of water immediately after eating, or whenever pain or fullness is felt. 'Bisurated' Magnesia can be obtained from all chemists at 1s. 3d., and is also sold in tablet form at 1s. 1d., so it need cost you little to get rid of all acid-caused stomach troubles and to avoid them in future.

BOARDED-OUT CHILDREN

BELFAST GUARDIANS AND PENSIONS.

When the Finance Committee's report was submitted to the Belfast Guardians yesterday Mr. J. Wilson, J.P., drew attention to the following paragraphs:—

"The Committee further considered the proposal of the Boarding-out Committee that the pensions received by the Guardians in respect of orphan children boarded-out should be lodged to be used for the benefit of the children under a scheme to be prepared.

"The Clerk reports that, as previously arranged, he had consulted the Board's solicitor in the matter, and there appeared to be difficulties in carrying out the Boarding-out Committee's original intention. He was responsible for receiving the pensions, and he considered that the Guardians should make some arrangement to deal with the amounts received in the meantime

"Recommended (one dissenting) that the Board be informed that the Guardians are paying more for the maintenance of the children in foster homes than is being received in pension, and that for the present the amount received—£70 2s. 6d.—in respect of the eight children concerned be lodged to the credit of the Guardians towards repayment. That the usual procedure be followed in declaring the relief of the children to be by way of loan in the amounts of the pensions, and that the sums received in future be lodged by the relieving officers. That a record be made that, at any time any special arrangement is desired to be made for the welfare of any of these children, the Board would have regard to the fact that the pension was received during the time they were boarded-out."

Proceeding, Mr. Wilson said that he was sorry to say that it had been said that they were lodging the orphan pensions to the credit of the rates without mentioning what the recommendation of the Committee was. In future it would be for the benefit of the children.

Mr. Beattie, M.P., said that the statement referred to was quite correct.

The Chairman (Mr. Thomas Gibb) said that it had been insinuated that they were robbing the orphans.

The report, with the recommendation, was adopted.

KOLYNOS DENTAL CREAM

STARVING THE PORT OF DUBLIN.

CATTLE EXPORTERS' GRIEVANCE.

At a largely attended meeting of the Cattle Exporters' Association at the Commercial Buildings, Dublin, yesterday evening—Mr. R. C. Ross, Chairman, presiding—there was a considerable volume of complaint as to the lack of shipping facilities at the port of Dublin, with the resultant diversion of live stock traffic to Belfast, where every facility for shipment seemed to be provided. One of the principal buyers attending Navan Fair instanced the case of a consignment of live stock which on arrival at North Wall, a distance of 33 miles, could not be shipped and had to be railed on to Belfast, where prompt shipment was assured. Several members commented on the enterprise of the Great Northern Railway who had canvassers at all the principal fairs, and said that these canvassers were able to assure buyers of shipment the same night, if sent via Belfast.

THE CARRYING COMPANIES.

The Chairman said they were forced to the conclusion that there was some tacit understanding between the carrying companies, whereby live stock from the Midlands and South of Ireland were diverted from their natural port of embarkation in the Free State, which was Dublin, to the Northern port, whose trade returns of exports were, in consequence, fictitiously inflated at the expense of the Free State. He thought it was a matter for the serious attention of the Government. As traders in the Free State, they took a certain amount of interest and pride in the progress of their young State, whose existence depended upon its export trade, and they, therefore, viewed with concern what seemed to them the deliberate policy of the shipping companies to starve the port of Dublin.

He had no complaint to make of the Great Northern Railway, who showed commendable enterprise and efficiency in securing business. Mr. Cullen had given an instance of traffic from Navan to Dublin, a distance of 33 miles, diverted through Drogheda to Belfast, a distance of 97½ miles! The natural port of that traffic was Dublin. This is only one of the many instances which could be cited, and it behoved the Great Southern Railway and the Government to bestir themselves and see that the trade went through its proper channel.

SHIPPING COMPANIES' CONTENTION.

It had been contended by the shipping companies in the past that it was to their interest to provide a sufficient service to cope with traffic offering at Dublin, and that they had so provided. That was not the case. The same shipping company which served Dublin also served Belfast, and it had been the experience of the trade time and again to be refused boat space in Dublin and to find Belfast amply provided to take on all-comers. It was grist to the shipping company's mill whichever port the business passed through, only they seemed to have a decided partiality for Belfast. That would require a good deal of explaining, and no partisan Dublin Port and Docks Board Committee of Inquiry could whitewash the companies concerned or explain away the deplorable disparity between the Dublin and Belfast services.

The attendance included Messrs. C. Ross, Frank McGoorty, William Shaw, Daniel McGranaghan, Hugh Clenaghan, Hugh Cassidy, John Cassidy, William Cullen, M. Prendergast, James Barrett, Edward O'Hara.

WATERFORD INFIRMARY MEDICAL STAFF.

PROMOTION SYSTEM QUESTIONED.

An interesting discussion took place at the annual meeting of the Waterford County and City Infirmary yesterday on the appointment of a physician and a surgeon on the intern staff. In accordance with custom, a recommendation was sent up by the governors that the two vacant positions should be filled from the extern staff, and Dr. Mary Strangman and Dr. Philip Purcell were nominated as physician and surgeon respectively, in the room of Drs. Stewart and Jellett, resigned.

Mr. James Aylward moved an amendment that the positions be advertised, so that an opportunity be afforded outside doctors of seeking the positions. Intern staff candidates, he said, should be selected on their merits.

Mr. Joseph Harpur, speaking on behalf of the subscribers in general, said that they were not satisfied with the present system of voting, and a certain amount of jealousy existed amongst members of the medical and surgical professions because of other eligible men being precluded from seeking positions on the intern staff.

Mr. McAuliffe said that he held that the present system of promotion from the extern to the intern staff should be adhered to. They had a precedent for that in the Army, the Navy, and the Civil Services of England, America, France, and Italy. Promotion from within the service meant harmony in the working of the institution, and where harmony did not exist it was natural to suppose that the work suffered.

SYSTEM SANCTIONED BY CUSTOM.

Mr. E. A. Gibbon said that custom had sanctioned the present system, and added that the extern work was at times a very harassing job. Anyone who served his time, so to speak, at extern work naturally did so in the expectation of promotion to the intern department.

Mr. W. E. Jacob said that he thought that it would be a slight on the members of the present extern staff to appoint someone else over their heads, after long years of service given to the infirmary.

The Most Rev. Dr. Hackett, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, said that if the implication of the governors' recommendation was that the extern staff should be promoted, and that it was consequent on that that they made the recommendation, he did not think that it should be departed from. At the same time, he thought Mr. Aylward's principle sound.

Mr. Aylward, in moving his amendment, said that they should not act as a closed borough in the matter of these appointments.

The amendment was lost, and Drs. Strangman and Purcell were appointed as intern physician and surgeon respectively.

A resolution proposed by Mr. Aylward, that in future all positions be advertised, was accepted, and will be discussed at the meeting of the Committee on the 11th of October.

WATERVILLE FISHERY BOARD.

ELECTION OF CLERK AND INSPECTOR.

Mr. Maurice Fitzgerald presided at a meeting of the Waterville (Co. Kerry) Fishery Board, and there were four candidates for the position of clerk and inspector to the Board. On the proposition of Mr. J. Wharton, seconded by Mr. J. Matson, Mr. P. J. Hamilton, Waterville, was elected.

A resolution was passed expressing sympathy with Mr. James D. Butler, a member of the Board, and the Butler family, on the death of Miss E. A. Butler.

DUBLIN ALLOTMENT-HOLDERS.

COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND.

A special council meeting of the United Irish Plot-holders' Union was held at 6 Gardiner's row, Dublin. Mr. Thomas Shaw, President, presided, and Mr. Thomas Johnson, T.D., was present.

The Secretary was directed to reply to a communication from the Dublin Commissioners with reference to the compulsory acquisition of certain lands in the metropolitan area, from which plot-holders were dispossessed in 1923, and other matters pertaining to the Acquisition of Land (Allotments) Act, 1926; and to request the Commissioners to meet representatives of the union at an early date to discuss the procedure to be adopted in putting the Act into effective operation immediately.

Correspondence dealing with the forthcoming conference of allotment-holders of all European countries and America, to be held in Luxemburg on next Sunday, was read and discussed; and the President was directed to send a message of fraternal greeting from the organised plot-holders of Ireland.

The British Ministry of Labour announces that the total number of registered unemployed on September 20 in Great Britain was 1,532,400. This was 19,524 less than last week's number, but 220,442 more than that registered a year ago.

SUGGESTIONS INVITED FROM LISTENERS-IN.

The Provisional Advisory Board which the Ministry of Posts and Telegraphs set up in connection with broadcasting in the Free State has decided, at its first meeting, to invite suggestions from listeners-in on the composition and lay-out of the programmes.

Any communications on the subject addressed to the Secretary, Broadcasting Advisory Board, Department of Posts and Telegraphs, Dublin Castle, will receive careful consideration.

BELFAST SHOP'S LOSSES.

REMARKABLE CONSPIRACY STORY.

A remarkable story was told by a detective in the Belfast Custody Court yesterday, when John McMillen, Woodvale street, and William Jordan, Agincourt avenue, were charged with the theft of a quantity of handkerchief material from the premises of James A. Dowell, Bedford street, McMillen being further charged with receiving.

Detective-Constable Stannage said that he had had McMillen under observation for the past two weeks in the vicinity of McDowell's premises, where Jordan was employed. On the 23rd inst. he saw McMillen at the lift entrance receiving a large parcel, which he took with him to a public-house. On Monday last McMillen was again at the lift entrance. He left with two parcels—which were later found to contain handkerchiefs—and, going back to the public-house, asked the barman for his other parcel. The barman handed him a parcel which contained two wets of handkerchief material.

When cautioned in his employer's premises, the witness went on, Jordan alleged that about two months ago McMillen came to him and promised that if he could produce "the stuff" he would get him a job as manager at £4 a week. "McMillen got round me," said Jordan, "and he never gave me much for it." He gave McMillen parcels about four times, but all he got from him was promises.

When charged at the Detective Office with receiving, McMillen said, "Very well, put it that way. I understood he was trading. He fixed a price, 34s. for eighty yards; that's to-day's price." Jordan interjected and said, "No price was fixed at all." McMillen replied, "He told me his uncle was supplying him." Jordan said, "I did not."

The accused were remanded on bail for a week, it being stated that up to the present about £100 worth of property was involved.

BELFAST LINEN CONTRACT.

QUESTION OF QUALITY.

A letter was read from the Northern Ministry of Home Affairs at the meeting of the Belfast Guardians yesterday with reference to the contract for the supply of twilled linen sheeting.

The letter stated that the Ministry had before it the proposal of the Guardians to accept a quantity of twilled linen sheeting which was not of the quality contracted for, the contractor having offered it at a reduced price to get it taken off his hands. In the Ministry's view, the contractor should be required to furnish material of the quality which he had undertaken to supply.

When the letter was read several of the members of the Board shouted "Hear, hear."

The Clerk (Mr. R. H. Wilson) said that a special arrangement had been made by which they took 762¾ yards of the material. The Master had been authorised by the Board to do so, as the cloth was required. Some of it had been used. There was a second lot which had not yet been delivered.

Mr. John Wilson, J.P.—I propose that the quantity used be paid for at the reduced price at which it was offered, and that we write informing the contractor that the other quantity will not be accepted.

Mr. T. Reid seconded Mr. Wilson's resolution.

The Chairman (Mr. Thomas Gibb, J.P.) said that the action taken with reference to this contract would have far-reaching results for the linen trade of Belfast.

The resolution was passed.

RECENT WILLS.

COTTON SPINNER'S FORTUNE.

Mr. Joshua Barber Lomax, of 106a Castle street Bolton, Lancs., and of the Old Top House, Uffington, Salop, cotton spinner and cotton waste merchant, a director of the Manchester Textile Board of the Royal Insurance Co., Ltd., and of some twenty cotton spinning companies, who died on February 11th, 1924, left estate which has now been valued for probate, "so far as at present can be ascertained," at £461,294 5s. 8d. gross, with net personalty £306,630 19s. 10d. Probate of his will, dated January 23rd, 1924, has been granted to his son, Mr. Joshua Arthur Barber Lomax, cotton spinner, of Ravenshurst, Heaton, Bolton, and Mr. Edward Pilkington Holden, cotton waste merchant, of Oakcroft, Albert road, West, Bolton.

The testator left £1,000, free of all duty, to his executors for distribution amongst, or to be applied for the benefit of, employés and servants in his service at his decease, and not under notice, as his executors in their sole and absolute discretion may think fit; £100 to each executor; and the residue of his property, as to one-third, to his son, Joshua Arthur Barber Lomax, and one-third to his son John Smith Lomax, and one-third upon trust for his daughter, Hilda Mary Thompson, of Shrewsbury, and her issue, whom failing, equally between his said two sons, but stipulating that the distribution of his estate among his children should not take place until five years after his death, his said children during that period receiving a sum not exceeding £3,000 per annum between them from that income, the balance of the income being accumulated and added to the capital.

MYSTERY MILLIONAIRE'S ESTATE.

Mr. McEvera Bayard Brown, of 32 Nassau street, New York, and of the steam yacht Valfreyia, for many years living in this yacht in dry dock at Wivenhoe, Essex, a man of eccentric habits and generally reputed to have been a millionaire, who died on April 8th last, on the yacht, aged 73 years, domiciled in the United States, left property valued for the purposes of the English grant at £13,559 2s. 7d. gross, and net personalty £1,037 15s. 10d. The value of the American property is not stated definitely, but as "exceeding 20,000 dollars." His will is dated February 15th, 1878, and as the surviving executor, his cousin, Mr. Robert Fulton Cutting, is now resident in the United States, administration of his property has been granted to his said cousin's attorney, Mr. John Alfred Willmott, manager, of 61 Chancery lane, London, E.C. The testator left all his property equally between his cousins, William Bayard Cutting and Robert Fulton Cutting, or their respective issue.

THE IRISH PORK TRADE.

SATISFACTORY STATEMENT AT WEXFORD.

At the meeting of Wexford County Committee of Agriculture on Monday last, Colonel C. M. Gibbon, Chairman, stated that on the preceding Friday the consignment of pork from the Wexford Meat Factory to London made up to 10s. 8d. per stone of 8lbs., or 149s. per cwt. On the previous day, when they had no pork from the factory on the market, the price was 11s. 4d. per stone, or 158s. per cwt. Anticipations were that the price would go still higher. In Wexford the meat factory was handling the pigs on behalf of the suppliers, who were satisfied with the returns. As the price of the pork increased, the cost of marketing would remain the same. The commission charged by the factory was a per head commission, and that of the London salesmen was based on weight.

Answering questions, the Chairman stated that the factory would be prepared to take pigs from outside counties. The factory had not fixed a price for pork yet. Their intention was not to make a price for pork, as apart from bacon, until other concerns in Ireland came into the pork trade. It seemed to him that the bacon curers would have no option in the matter, and that they would have to close down or embark upon the pork trade, as several had done already. If the bacon curers who were in the best position to market the pork did not open markets for it they would neither get the pigs for bacon nor pork, because the economic law ensured that if the price of pork went up to 150s. per cwt., no one was going to sell bacon to curers at 100s. a cwt.

AVERAGE EXPENSES.

The average expenses on pork, including the marketing and commission, varied according to weight from 10s. 6d. to 14s. per cwt., so that there was still a huge margin left between the price of bacon and the price of pork obtainable in London. Undoubtedly the embargo was not going to be raised this year, and there seemed little likelihood of it being raised next year. He wished to advise farmers as strongly as he could to retain one or two additional pigs to be used as sows next year. If things changed, and he did not think that they would, the farmer would not be very much worse off in marketing them a little bit heavy, and he would be very well off if he were in a position to have a sow at the present price. It would not be a case of looking over the country for pigs at big prices, but a question of getting anyone to part with them. As far as they could see, the demand for pork was going to be very big, and there was no likelihood of it changing in the immediate future.

Mr. M. Doyle, T.D., said that the report of the chairman was a very optimistic one. He was speaking to the Minister for Agriculture on Friday last, and he said that Ireland would be very foolish to do away with the bacon trade and go into the pork trade altogether. He (Mr. Doyle) did not think that the Minister knew the results as well as their chairman, but he seemed to take a very keen interest in it.

Chairman—I spent two hours on Saturday telling him about it. Their bacon trade, he said, was about the best in the world, and they would be very reluctant to prejudice it in any way, but if they did not take up the pork trade, the mere act of economic law would result in London salesmen coming over to buy the pigs, and the factories could not get them for bacon.

THREATENED SCARCITY OF PORK.

BRITISH TRADERS AND THE EMBARGO.

In a discussion of the British Ministerial ban on the importation of carcases from the Continent, at the National Federation of Meat Traders' Conference, at Scarborough yesterday, Mr. A. C. Knight (London) prophesied a further rise of 4d. to 6d. a pound in the price of pork in the immediate future. The blame for this, he said, would be, not with the meat trader, but with the Ministry of Agriculture, for imposing the embargo.

Mr. H. Adams (London) said that the London public were great eaters of pork in the winter, and great difficulty would be experienced in finding pork for them during the coming season. From September 1 to 17 there were 1,475 tons less pork imported into Smithfield Market than in the corresponding period last year, a decrease of 53 per cent. He contended that there was no danger of foot-and-mouth disease in cleanly-killed and prepared carcases sent to market under the best conditions.

The conference resolved to press for the removal of the embargo.

MOTOR CAR HELD UP IN COUNTY CAVAN.

OCCUPANTS ARMED WITH REVOLVERS.

The holding-up of a motor car at night near Bailieboro' (County Cavan) by Civic Guards and detectives led to a surprising discovery. On searching the three occupants of the car each of them, it is stated, was found to be in possession of a fully-loaded revolver, and three masks were also found in the car.

The names of the men, who were arrested and taken to Bailieboro', were stated to be Patrick Corr (farmer's son), Aughadreena, Ardkill, Ballinagh; B. M'Phillips (labourer), Ardlougher, Ballinagh, and Michael Reilly, Bailieboro'.

The driver of the car, Eugene Lee, College street, Cavan, was taken into custody, and later the owner of the car, Patrick Clerkin, Barrack Hill, Cavan, was also taken into custody.

At a Special Court in Bailieboro' all the accused men were remanded on bail.

"SWALLOWED THE RING."

MISSING PROPERTY FOUND IN SERVANT'S BEDROOM.

At Ballycastle Petty Sessions, Annie Neill, Ballycastle, a domestic servant, was charged with the theft of a gold wristlet watch, value £5, the property of Mrs. Conday, and a gold wedding ring with three diamonds and two emeralds, the property of Mrs. M'Kinley, Castle street, Ballycastle.

Sergeant Smith said that he went to the house at Turnaroan, where the defendant lived, and found the watch and other articles in a bedroom. The ring could not be found, but later, at the barracks, the defendant admitted having swallowed it. He had since received the ring by registered post from the Governor of Armagh Jail.

The defendant, who pleaded guilty, was ordered to be imprisoned until the rising of the Court, and bound over to keep the peace for two years, entering into a personal bond of £20.

The Dancing Hours

The daily use of Icilma Cream—the Cream of Society—enables the woman of fashion always to look her best, despite late hours and the activities of modern life.

Icilma is a cream of exceptional purity, unique in containing the famous beautifying Icilma Water from Algeria.

Because of its extreme lightness, attained by a special process taking nine times as long as the preparation of an ordinary cream, Icilma forms the most reliable of all bases for powder. It contains no grease, never causes any unbecoming shininess, and is guaranteed not to grow hair.

Try Icilma silk-sifted Face Powder, fine and clinging. Loose, or in dainty Compacte for the vanity bag—the powder you can trust.

HATTON GARDEN MAIL ROBBERY.

OFFER OF £500 REWARD.

A reward of £500 has been offered on behalf of Lloyd's underwriters for information leading to the arrest of the thief or thieves in connection with the Hatton Garden mail van robbery on last Saturday, and for the recovery of the stolen property.

The announcement of the reward is accompanied by a list of the jewellery and registered packets which have been stolen. The reward is offered by Messrs. Tyler and Co., 45 Holborn Viaduct, London.

BAG FOUND IN FISH VAN.

A mail bag which was in transit from Woking to Cambridge was found in an empty fish van at Hull, Billingsgate, yesterday. The mail bag, a full one, was sealed and intact.

The General Post Office authorities in London were notified of the discovery, and the bag is being sent by the police to London. Locally it is thought that the bag has no connection with the recent robbery in London.

DONEGAL COUNCIL AND A GRANT.

DISSATISFIED WITH ITS ALLOCATION.

By fourteen votes to eleven, the Donegal County Council yesterday took drastic action regarding the £40,000 grant to the County Donegal under the national road scheme.

Mr. Baxter pointed out that none of the grant was to be expended in the north-western portions of the county, where people were poorest and the roads the worst. He moved that, unless the Government gave the Council an opportunity of reviewing the allocation of the grant, they should refuse to grant the application of the Government for the service of surveyors and the use of road machinery.

Mr. Brennan seconded.

Mr. Clarke proposed that the Government's application be granted, and pointed out that persistence in Mr. Baxter's proposal would result in the Government withdrawing the grant.

Captain Hamilton seconded.

Mr. J. F. O'Donnell pleaded for the withdrawal of the motion because of the danger of losing the grant altogether.

Mr. Baxter refused. He pointed out that this money was their own, as it was out of the motor taxes. Let us raise the plan of campaign now, declared Mr. Baxter, and pay no motor taxes next year. We will pay no more motor taxes if they withdraw the grant.

Further appeals were made to Mr. Baxter, but he refused to withdraw his motion, and Mr. Brennan agreed with Mr. Baxter, declaring that the motion was a manly protest against the unjust manner in which the money was allocated in the county.

The motion was carried.

On the motion of Mr. O'Donnell, the Council passed a resolution calling upon the Government to make an immediate grant of £40,000 to relieve distress in the north-western areas, where extreme poverty exists.

The Irish Times.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1926.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

Mr. P. Monahan, Borough Commissioner for Cork, announced yesterday that he proposed, as soon as the present housing scheme in the city is completed, to raise a loan of £100,000 Corporation Stock for the purpose of financing a scheme for the building of two hundred new houses in the city.—(Page 6.)

The Cattle Exporters' Association, at a meeting in Dublin, complained that cattle from the Midlands and South of Ireland for England were diverted from the port of Dublin and sent by Belfast, and they blamed the shipping companies.—(Page 3.)

The British and Irish Steam Packet Company have offered to purchase the whole of the shares of the Dundalk and Newry Steam Packet Company, and the directors of the latter company recommend the shareholders to accept the offer.—(Page 5.)

At its sitting in Dublin yesterday the Commission on Food Prices heard evidence regarding the wholesale and retail prices of meat and the cost of carrying on the victualling business in the city.—(Page 6.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

ABROAD.

SPORTING.

At Newmarket yesterday Willow Stream won the Great Foal Stakes.—(Page 8.)

FINANCIAL

London Stock Markets were very quiet, and no department displayed exceptional activity.—(Page 9.)

Conditions in Lombard street were easier, but there was further borrowing from the Bank. Overnight loans were made up to 4½ per cent. and down to 4 per cent. Discount rates were steady.—(Page 9.)

Dublin Market was slack, and prices generally were lower. Guinness and Courtaulds both closed under best.—(Page 9.)

Thoiry and After.

M. Poincaré's "week-end" speeches at St. Germain and Bar-le-Duc have robbed the Thoiry idyll of some of its early romance. The French Premier is a strong-willed realist. His more volatile lieutenant, M. Briand, went to Geneva with a certain purpose in view, and, having achieved it, was inclined to indulge in dithyrambic eulogies of the new spirit that had sweetened the relations between Germany and France. This quite natural access of zeal for the cause of a Franco-German rapprochement was misinterpreted by Herr Stresemann, who, at a meeting of the German colony in Geneva, announced blandly that his pact with M. Briand had absolved Germany for ever of the stigma of wilful responsibility for the war. A more tactless statement could not have been made. The civilised world is convinced that the main guilt for the war rests with the German Kriegsherren, and Herr Stresemann's speech had the effect of arousing a storm of indignant protest throughout France. M. Poincaré, at Bar-le-Duc, told the Germans plainly that, while France was ready to join hands with her ancient enemy in the common cause of Europe's welfare, she could "allow no question to be raised as to the responsibility of the Imperial Government for the war." He did not mince his words, and, while his frankness may delay the consummation of the Thoiry pact, it was needed badly. If France and Germany are to come together, there must be no illusions on either side.

The German Press has treated the Thoiry pact from the outset as a purely commercial transaction. Of course, like Herr Stresemann, every German is eager to make political capital out of the new situation, but ultimately the French advances are a matter of pounds, shillings and pence. The German view is that France wants to be "bought out of" the Saar Valley and the Rhineland, and that Belgium is quite willing to name her price for the evacuation of Eupen and Malmédy. A Berlin newspaper estimates that Germany must pay about £12,000,000 for the Saar Valley and half that sum for the two Belgian provinces. As France and Belgium together take some sixty per cent. of the reparations "pool," at least £30,000,000 worth of railway bonds must be mobilised to make these payments. According to banking experts, the market cannot absorb more than £60,000,000 worth of Dawes railway bonds at the present time; therefore, when the Saar, Eupen and Malmédy have been redeemed, only £30,000,000 will remain, of which France's share—52 per cent.—will be less than £16,000,000. Doubts have been expressed in Berlin whether France will be willing to accept such a comparatively small sum in exchange for the Rhenish provinces, especially as, before any issue can be made under the Dawes scheme, she must make a final settlement of her financial obligations to Britain and the United States. Nevertheless, the prospect of a £28,000,000 windfall must be very attractive to France in the present condition of her finances

The Treaty of Versailles was negotiated and signed by all the Allies and Associated Powers, and cannot be revised without their consent. Of course, Britain's acquiescence in any entente between France and Germany is a foregone conclusion. Italy, however, must not be forgotten. She is a party to the Locarno Pact, which guarantees the eastern frontier of France; and, in her view, the occupation of the Rhineland is a valuable pledge not only against Germany's default in respect of reparations, but against a politico-economic union between Germany and Austria. Furthermore, Italy is disturbed at the prospect of a huge Franco-German coal and iron combine. She has no coal of her own, but since the advent of Signor Mussolini has been developing her iron and steel industries with conspicuous success. Her business men, therefore, have no reason to welcome an alliance between German coal and French iron. Hitherto Italy has not been very prominent in the negotiations that have been in progress concerning the revision of the Versailles Treaty; for revision, in fact if not in law, is the ultimate object of all concerned. In the near future, however, much is likely to be heard from Rome. Signor Mussolini has no intention of allowing the affairs of Europe to be ordered without his consent, and advices from Italy indicate that he regards the Briand-Stresemann arrangement with considerable suspicion. Many such difficulties remain to be overcome before the happy promise of Thoiry can be fulfilled. In the circumstances, perhaps, it is well that M. Poincaré should warn his people against exaggerated hopes.

Housing in Cork.

At yesterday's meeting of the Cork Rotary Club it was announced that the Cork Civic Survey would be given to Mr. P. Monahan, City Commissioner, on behalf of the citizens, in order that "a town-plan" for Cork could be prepared. In Cork, as in Dublin, the housing problem is not a matter merely of war-time arrears of building. It is calculated that one in every five families living in Cork needs to be housed in new dwellings, of which some 4,500 require to be built. There are three areas in Cork in which condemned dwellings are packed thickly together, producing slums like those of the Gloucester street neighbourhood in Dublin. To a considerable extent these areas, when a regional system of city development is imposed, will require to be treated as business zones. Mr. John Horgan, President of the Club, remarked at yesterday's gathering that the city ought to be governed in future by a council working in harmony with a commissioner—the council controlling expenditure and policy, and the commissioner directing administration in the business-like fashion which has made commissioners' rule so successful in Cork and Dublin. A combination of this sort undoubtedly promises well for civic advancement. Mr. Commissioner Monahan told the meeting yesterday something of the measures which will be adopted for the attack upon Cork's building needs. A loan of £100,000, he said, will be raised shortly to provide two hundred new houses for wage-earners; but building must be expedited if the problem is to be solved within ten years. The Commissioner indicted masters and men in the building trade for the present slowness of construction. Masters, he said, restrict freedom of tender in the pursuit of contracts; but he laid a heavier weight of blame on labour unions, which insist that the wages of highly skilled labour shall be paid to men engaged in the simple operations of concrete building. If the wage-earners of Ireland were moved by the spirit of the working men of Germany, who, in the years of national bankruptcy, devoted several hours a day to unpaid toil for the restoration of their nation's fortunes, reconstruction would proceed apace throughout our land. Houses would be cheap to build, and in a very short time no family would need to dwell in crowded tenements. Those who have visited the great works of engineering now proceeding on the Shannon have beheld German workers going about their toils with the rapidity and determination of men digging trenches on a battlefield. It is with humiliation that observers have turned to contemplate the slow, talkative and unprofitable methods of native labour in performing works which affect the welfare of the people. An understanding between masters and men by which building costs could be reduced from their present excessive standards would spell happiness for tens of thousands of middle-class and poor families who now dwell in material misery through the indifference of their own people.

Empire Marketing.

As the result of evidence obtained by the Imperial Economic Committee—which in its latest report gave some admirable advice to the Free State butter industry—the British Board of Trade has established an Empire Marketing Board. This Board's purpose will be to popularise in Great Britain the food products of "the Empire overseas," including, of course, the Irish Free State. A sum of £500,000 has been placed at its disposal for the present year, and in future years it will be entitled to spend £1,000,000 annually upon the advertisement of Empire goods. Within the next few days Mr. Amery, the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs, will make a full statement of the Board's policy and methods; but already the first move to help the Dominions has been made. A part of the £500,000 will be used to promote a display of Dominion and Colonial produce at next month's Imperial Fruit Show in London, and the new Board will present the prizes for a window-dressing competition between London fruit-shops. Research grants will be made to the Ministry of Agriculture and the universities; help will be provided for the labelling of produce, and information about consignments and market conditions will be circulated among producers. It is probable, however, that the bulk of the Board's funds will be employed in a thorough campaign of "publicity," through the newspapers and other agencies, which will advocate not only the merits of Empire produce, but the wide benefits of imperial co-operation. The Economic Committee has recommended many reforms in the marketing of meat, dairy produce and fruit in Great Britain, and the new Board will urge importers and distributors to adopt them. In effect, the establishment of the Empire Marketing Board represents the first attempt to organise the British market for overseas produce. Here is a magnificent opportunity for the Dominion which in its close geographical contact with that market has an inalienable advantage over all competitors. How does the Free State Government propose to make use of the opportunity? Are its best brains occupied to-day with plans for the promotion of the Free State's economic interests at next month's Imperial Conference?

Summer's End.

The summer of 1926, which came in like a lamb, is going out like a lion. During the last few weeks Nature has discharged her wrath on many regions of the world. That part of Florida where American millionaires had planted a paradise has been devastated by flood and storm. Fierce gales have destroyed whole fleets of fishing vessels in both hemispheres; heavy rains have caused loss of life and property in India; and in Western Canada untimely snow has impaired the prospects of a bounteous harvest. The latest victims are Switzerland and Italy. To-day wide areas of Switzerland are threatened by serious floods in the Rhone Valley. The great viaduct which carries the railway from Milan to Lausanne has been damaged. In the district of St. Maurice all telegraphic and telephonic communication has been interrupted; and the little town of Lavey, famous for its hot springs, has been wrecked. Troops are guarding bridges, and are digging trenches at places where the Rhone, making a new bed, threatens the highways. There is a danger of landslides which may throw great masses of earth into the raging torrents. Expeditions are being sent to the help of mountain villages which have been without light and water for three days. In Italy floods are sweeping the streets of Trieste, and southwards, at Brindisi, cyclonic tempests have inflicted heavy damage. By this time, no doubt, the last of the summer tourists have left Switzerland; but, if the present floods had come a month ago, thousands of British and American citizens would have known a too exciting holiday. Perhaps, Ireland, in her appeals to tourists, does not lay sufficient stress on her secure foundations and equable climate. If, with a clear conscience, she could add 'good hotels' to the guarantee, "no earthquakes, floods or cyclones," her tourist traffic would go forward by leaps and bounds.

SIR JAMES CRAIG IN CANADA.

MESSAGE FROM ULSTER.

WINNIPEG, Tuesday.

Speaking at a banquet tendered in his honour by the Winnipeg Orange Associations yesterday evening, Sir James Craig brought a message from the people of Northern Ireland, saying:—"I urge upon one and all, no matter what happens at any time, or at any place, never despair so long as you hang together as loyal brothers under the Throne and Constitution which have made our Empire what it is, and under the flag which has flourished over the Empire for generations past." Sir James Craig outlined a scheme for enabling Ulstermen to settle in Canada, and expressed his pleasure at the prosperity of those Ulstermen who had already settled there.—(Reuter.)

FIRE ON EXPRESS TRAIN.

DINING CAR ATTENDANTS BADLY BURNED.

The York to Newcastle express train took fire when travelling between Bradbury and Ferryhill yesterday. The dining car became ignited, and, although the outbreak was subdued in three-quarters of an hour, the kitchen portion was virtually burned out. Two restaurant car attendants—Edward Taylor, of Gateshead, and George Burns, of Newcastle—were badly burned, and were removed to Newcastle Infirmary.

Fortunately no passengers were in the car at the time.

When the fire was discovered the train was stopped and split into three sections to isolate the dining coach, attendants meanwhile tackling the outbreak with fire appliances. Both up and down traffic was considerably delayed.

GOVERNORSHIP OF NEW YORK.

PROHIBITION AND THE ELECTION.

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

Mr. Smith, Governor of New York, who, as an avowed supporter of the "Wets," polled an enormous number of votes at the last election, was unanimously adopted to-day for re-election by the State Democratic Convention, which is in session at Syracuse. Almost at the same hour the Republican Convention, at an enthusiastic meeting here, put forward the name of Mr. Ogden Mills for the same office.

Mr. Ogden Mills is a "Near Dry," and his nomination represents the efforts of the Republicans to appease the "Dry" section of the party, who have been threatening to nominate a candidate of their own, because of their objection to the re-nomination of Senator Wadsworth, who is an outspoken "Wet."

The Republican programme, which is expected to heal the breach, is in favour of the enforcement of the law, and of awaiting the decision of the people, as expressed in the referendum to be submitted to them at the November election, when the voters will be asked to indicate whether or not they favour asking Congress to empower each State to decide for itself what alcoholic content of beverages shall be deemed "intoxicating." Under the law at present this content is one and a half per cent. Similar referenda will be voted in several other States, and it is thought not impossible that a modification of the prohibition law may figure as an issue in the Presidential election in 1928.—(Reuter.)

FEUD IN THE SUDAN.

THREE KILLED: ATTACKERS SENTENCED.

KHARTOUM (By Mail).

On July 15th last some twenty or thirty followers of Sayed Sir Abderrahman el Mahdi, living on the east bank of the Blue Nile, made a murderous attack on two parties of cultivators returning to their respective villages from work, on the lands of Sherif Yusef el Hindi.

In order to proceed to and from their villages to the land on which they were engaged, they had to pass by or across the lands cultivated by Abderrahman's people, and this caused irritation, if not actual damage. But there was no serious provocation for the attack, and it was made by persons armed with spears against totally unarmed labourers. Three of the latter were killed on the spot by spear wounds, and many others were more or less seriously wounded.

Prompt action was taken by the administrative authorities, and twenty-three of the attacking party were arrested, and have been since tried at Wad Medani by a major court. Three have been sentenced to death, and the rest to imprisonment for life; but, on a strong recommendation to mercy received from the court, the life sentences on eight of the latter have been reduced to imprisonment for two years.—(Reuter.)

ALLEGED PLOT AGAINST THE SHAH.

TEHERAN, Tuesday.

It is reported that several persons have been recently arrested, including various high officers, in consequence of the alleged discovery of a plot against the Shah.

After a warm debate on the Government programme, the Mejliss to-day passed the vote of confidence in the Government by 85 votes to 12.—(Reuter.)

JAPANESE CABINET'S DECISION.

TOKYO, Tuesday.

The Cabinet has decided to effect a thorough change of prefectural Governors. Forty-one names are announced for retirement, resignation, promotion, or transfer.—(Reuter.)

STRANDED STEAMER.

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

The ninety passengers aboard the steamer Mexico, of the New York and Cuba Mails Steamship Company, which went aground yesterday on a reef off the Yutacan coast, were all safely removed from the steamer, and will be landed at Havana.—(Reuter.)

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The Prince of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of York have given their patronage to the ball which is being organised to assist in the extension of the Elizabeth Garrett Anderson Hospital as a memorial to the nurses of the British Empire who died during the Great War. The ball will take place in Australia House, London, on Thursday, October 28th.

The Duke and Duchess of York will visit Edinburgh on Saturday, October 9th, when they will have an official reception before the ceremony at which the Duke will be made a Freeman of the city. Afterwards Their Royal Highnesses will be entertained at luncheon by the Lord Mayor and Corporation in the Assembly Rooms, and later in the afternoon the Duke will open the recently completed extension of the Granton Gas-works.

Princess Beatrice, who will shortly return to Kensington Palace, is fulfilling many engagements in the Isle of Wight this week. To-day Her Royal Highness will open a bazaar at East Cowes in aid of the local Congregational Church, and to-morrow she will preside at the annual meeting of the Frank James Memorial Hospital. On Friday she will open the autumn exhibition of the Isle of Wight Horticultural Association, which will be held at Newport.

The Duchess of Atholl, M.P., left London yesterday for Perthshire, and will attend some of the festivities in connection with the Perth Gathering this week. The Marquis and Marchioness of Reading left London last evening for Scotland. The Marquis and Marchioness of Tweeddale and the Earl and Countess of Lisburne were among the guests who were entertained by Colonel and Mrs. J. N. Horlick at Grey Walls, Gullane.

The Marquis of Donegall has left London for Paris, and will be abroad for some months. Rear-Admiral and Lady Florence Boyle will leave London to-day for the Villa Guarda Marigia, Pieta, Malta. The Earl and Countess of Elgin have sailed for New York, and will visit Canada during their tour in the West. Professor Gilbert Murray and Lady Mary Murray have left Liverpool for the United States, where Dr. Murray has accepted the Chair of Poetry at Harvard University.

Among the visitors who have arrived in London this week from Spain are the Duque and the Duquesa de Arion and their son and daughter, the Marqués de Porar and the Condesa de Santa Isabel. The Marqués de Villavieja, who is staying in London, will leave for Scotland this week.

Sir Arthur Grant-Duff, British Minister to Sweden, journeyed by aeroplane last week from Stockholm to Bath, to attend the funeral of his brother, Sir Evelyn Grant-Duff, K.C.M.G., formerly British Minister at Berne, who had resided at Bath since his retirement. His name will be associated with the Swiss movement to aid prisoners during the late war. In this task his wife, who was President of the Swiss branch of the British Red Cross, gave invaluable help, and she was decorated with the Order of St. John of Jerusalem shortly before her husband was made a K.C.M.G.

MR. COBHAM'S RETURN.

PREPARATIONS IN LONDON.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of representatives of the Air Ministry, the Port of London Authority, and the police, it was decided to give permission for the descent of Mr. Alan Cobham's seaplane on the Thames, above Westminster Bridge.

The airman will be received on the terrace of the Houses of Parliament.

Mr. Cobham is expected to arrive home from his Australian flight on Friday next, and will be entertained to luncheon by Sir Charles Wakefield on Monday of next week, when a large and representative gathering will be present.

LORD MILNER'S HOME.

GIFT TO CANTERBURY SCHOOL.

The Dean of Canterbury (Dr. Bell) states that Sturry Court, the home of Lord Milner for the last fifteen years of his life, has been presented by Lady Milner to the King's School, Canterbury. The Governors of the School have gratefully accepted the gift, and are proposing, after the necessary alterations and additions, to use the building to accommodate the junior, or preparatory, department of the King's School.

The beauty and historic character of the house and the estate will give it an interest of its own; but, in addition, the Governors believe that the traditions connected with the name of Lord Milner and his associations with the Dominions, as well as his devoted service to the nation, will have a value even greater for the boys who will in future be educated at Sturry Court.

AN UNUSUAL "KILL."

REMARKABLE INCIDENT AT HARRIERS' MEETING.

The unique experience of hounds killing a fox on top of their prostrate bodies befell two followers of the Minehead Harriers. During a run over Hopcott Hill the fox ran to earth, and a terrier was sent down to draw it. When the terrier dragged out the fox the huntsman gave the signal, and the hounds scrambled round, and in their hurry knocked two gentlemen on their backs into some thick bramble bushes.

The hounds dragged the fox into the bush, and broke up and killed it on top of the two gentlemen, who had to remain in this uncomfortable position till the pack were called off. Other followers derived much amusement from the plight of their two colleagues, but afterwards helped to pick the thorns from their clothes.

"MISS PERKY."

AMUSING INCIDENT IN THE COMMONS.

There was an unusual incident in the House of Commons yesteday when Miss Wilkinson, who had been called by the Speaker, rose in her place and said: "May I ask whether I am to be insulted by members sitting near?"

The Speaker—Certainly not. If I become aware of anything of the kind I will protect the hon. member.

Sir F. Hall—The hon. member apparently did not hear you when you called her name, or else she does not understand the etiquette due to the chair.

The Speaker—I think in that case the hon. member for Dulwich was attempting to perform my duties.

Mr. T. Johnston—Are you aware that it is within the knowledge of many members here that the member for Dulwich addressed the hon. member here as "Miss Perky"? (Loud laughter.)

The Speaker—I must ask the hon. member for Dulwich to restrain his humour. (Laughter.)

Miss Lawrence—Is it in order for vulgar, street-corner insolence to be used?

Mr. MacQuisten—Is it not a fact that the person who repeats a statement is as bad as the originator of the statement?

The Speaker closed the incident by calling on Miss Wilkinson to put her question.

ILLUSTRATED NEWSPAPERS.

ANOTHER PURCHASE BY NEW COMPANY.

It is officially announced by the proprietors of The Graphic and The Bystander and Mr. William Harrison, Chairman of the Inveresk Paper Company, Limited, that contracts have been exchanged for the purchase of The Graphic and The Bystander by the Inveresk Paper Company, Limited, as from 1st July last.

The new company, which is being formed under the title of Illustrated Newspapers, Limited, by the Inveresk Paper Company, Limited, for the purposes of running the publications recently purchased from Sir John Ellerman, Bart., will acquire these well-known illustrated papers, which will in future be issued in conjunction therewith.

THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF YORK.

Yesterday's Court Circular announces that the Duke and Duchess of York have left Balmoral Castle.

LORD BYNG'S FAREWELL TO QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, Tuesday.

Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Byng were given a civic reception on their arrival here this afternoon. They were received by a guard of honour and many provincial and civil representatives, while thousands of cheering citizens lined the streets. Lord Byng replied in French to a civic address, which declared that the French-speaking citizens of Canada were united with the rest of the Dominion in holding him in the highest regard.—(Reuter.)

FREE STATE CONSULAR APPOINTMENTS.

The following appointments, says the Dublin Gazette, have been duly recognised:—

Signor Guglielmo Silcazi, as Consul-General for Italy at Dublin.

Mr. A. M. Weatherill, as Honorary Consul for Japan at Dublin.

LONDON LETTER.

TOWARDS SETTLEMENT.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
TUESDAY NIGHT.

In Government circles to-day there was a disposition to think that some slight progress towards an agreement in the coal dispute had been reached as the result of a long conference between Mr. Churchill and Mr. Cook. It was hoped that there would be further conferences: for in some directions there was an idea that a draft of the lines on which Mr. Churchill and Mr. Cook were proceeding might be submitted to some of the representative coal-owners as well as to the Executive of the Miners' Federation. Explanations given to Mr. Cook have done something to clear up any misunderstandings with regard to the proposed National Arbitration Tribunal. Mr. Churchill has made it apparent that the Tribunal, as the Government sees it, will be able to cover the whole ground of wage interpretation and will be in a position to review either the length of the day or the hours to be worked during the week.

A Pessimistic View.

In the Lobby of the House of Commons this afternoon a good deal of pessimism was expressed, however, concerning the possibility of a settlement, and few members were inclined to agree that there was anything hopeful about the immediate outlook. It is recognised that Ministers, more particularly the Prime Minister and Mr. Churchill, are doing their utmost to secure a satisfactory arrangement, but it is considered that any such outcome is impossible while Mr. Cook remains at the head of the negotiators for the Miners' Federation. I have mentioned that deep resentment is expressed at his repeated abuse of the Prime Minister, and, though his manner is gracious enough when he comes into contact with the representatives of the Government, the fact that he relapses into abuse as soon as he begins to speak in public is regarded as most objectionable. The cold snap has had an effect on all parties, however, and members have been receiving letters calling upon them to do their utmost to secure a settlement before the weather grows too cold for endurance.

Back to Work.

To-day nearly 126,000 miners, or one-tenth of those ordinarily at work, were back at the pits, and in trade union circles it was admitted that the South Wales development, where a number of men signed on at the Dare Pit, was very significant, indeed, particularly as the terms included an eight-hour day with April wages. None of the men has actually begun work yet, but it seems unlikely from the latest reports that anything will be done to dissuade them from starting. The Dare Pit, belonging to the Ocean Coal Company and Treorchy, is the district where Mr. Cook was formerly agent, and is very well known. This fact makes the return of some hundreds of men most significant.

An Owner's Opinion.

Lord Joicey, an authority on coal-mining, points out to-day that the Government's interference in the course of the past few years is largely the cause of the coal situation, and, to make his case good, he offers hard figures to show how officialdom has crippled colliery administration. The Seven Hours Act put two shillings a ton on coal, while social schemes added another shilling. Lord Joicey's company paid £34,900 in rates in 1914. In 1925 the rates were £148,000; this year they are £200,000. Insurance as between 1914 and 1925 advanced from £8,400 to £59,000; the Welfare Fund, not in existence in 1914, was £19,000, and all these sums are increasing. Finally, with some bitterness he says that the interference of the Government in taking the management of the mines out of the owners' hands is almost enough to convert them to nationalisation, disastrous though it would be to the country.

The Imperial Conference.

Ministers intend to remain in London after the rising of the House of Commons in order to be at hand should there be any call for their services in connection with a possible settlement. The Prime Minister, in view of the immediate future, had a long discussion this morning with the Home Secretary, later seeing Mr. Amery, the Dominions Secretary, and a number of high officials in anticipation of the visit of the Colonial Premiers for the Dominions' Conference. The arrangements for the Conference will rest principally with the Colonial Office, and a number of officials have been detailed there for the sole purpose of promoting the comfort of all those attending the Conference.

The Dominion Visitors.

The King is to give a State banquet in honour of the Dominion Premiers and other delegates of the Imperial Conference at Buckingham Palace on November 4th, and, to be in keeping, the Queen intends to give the ladies coming over for the conference a private reception. This is to take place either in the picture gallery of the Palace or in one of the more important State apartments, and morning dress is to be worn by those attending, since the reception is to be as informal in character as possible. The Queen retains the old custom of entertaining guests in her own home without a hat, and this should make the visitors feel more at home. The Queen, it is said, is looking forward with considerable interest to the occasion.

Mr. Cobham's Return.

Mr. Alan Cobham is expected to arrive in this country on Friday on the conclusion of his 26,000 miles flight to Australia and back—that is, if weather conditions remain favourable and he has no breakdown. The arrangements were concluded to-day to permit of his landing on the Thames near the House of Commons, with an official reception on the terrace of the House of Commons by Sir Samuel Hoare, the Minister of Air, and other leading officials of the Air Ministry and the Air Force, as well as those who have organised the flight. It has been demonstrated that a descent can be made safely on the Thames between Westminster and Lambeth Bridges, and plans for regulating the river traffic at the time of Mr. Cobham's arrival already have been made. Mr. Cobham will arrive between two and four o'clock, and will follow the course of the Thames from Gravesend to Hammersmith, then returning to Westminster. It is understood that the famous pilot intends, after the completion of the great ambition of his flying life, to take a long rest from aviation. He will visit America shortly, and will give a series of lectures there on his feats in the air.

An Irish Wedding.

The Duchess of Devonshire will lend her house in Carlton House Gardens for the reception after the marriage of her niece, Lady Katharine Beresford, to Mr. David Dawnay, of the 10th Hussars. The ceremony is to take place at St. John's, Southwick Crescent, and the bride will wear a gown of white georgette, lightly embroidered with pearls, and a train of old Brussels lace, which will be carried by Master Charles Blacque, a grandson of the late Lord Charles Beresford. The four bridesmaids will wear silver lace dresses over rust-coloured crêpe de chine. A guard of honour from the non-commissioned officers of the bridegroom's regiment will be stationed at the church.

MR. ERNEST BLYTHE.

Mr. Ernest Blythe, Irish Free State Minister for Finance, returned to Ireland via Kingstown yesterday evening. Mr. Blythe was one of the representatives of the Free State at the Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva.

THE FIGHTING IN CHINA.

MR. BALDWIN STATES THE FACTS.

WANHSIEN AFFAIR.

A SEIZED STEAMER RELEASED.

THE CANTON BOYCOTT.

IN the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Baldwin made a statement on the conditions in China. He dealt first with the Wanhsien incident, then with the Canton boycott and finally with the civil war in the Central Provinces.

At Wanhsien, he said General Yang Sen seized two British steamers and imprisoned their officers, alleging that another steamer owned by the same company had run down one of the vessels. When representations through the ordinary channels failed to secure the release of the steamers and General Yang Sen refused to obey the orders of his superior, General Wu Pei-fu, a small naval force was sent to Wanhsien.

Shots were fired at the ships as they reached the town and the shots were returned. Two naval officers and three seamen were killed, while three officers and thirteen men were wounded. Five officers from the seized steamers were rescued, and the sixth was drowned. The exact extent of the Chinese casualties had not been ascertained, but they were not so heavy as had been reported.

One of the seized steamers had been released and the other, he believed, was on its way to Ichang. The Chinese authorities had been informed that when both were released the question of an inquiry into the whole affair would be considered.

The vessels conducting the boycott at Canton fled when it was announced that the naval forces had been instructed to seize them. The Canton Government had arranged to remove the boycott not later than October 10th, and proposed to levy certain taxes in order apparently to liquidate the boycott organisation. Regarding Central China, the Premier said that Hankow had been captured by the Cantonese, but so far no interference with British trade in the city had been reported.

PREMIER'S STATEMENT.

TROUBLE CAUSED BY YANG SEN.

In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Ramsay Macdonald asked the Prime Minister whether the action taken by the naval authorities in bombarding the town of Wanhsien arose out instructions given to them by His Majesty's Government, and what action the Government had since taken to ascertain the facts regarding the incident and to institute an inquiry into responsibilities.

Mr. Baldwin—The facts regarding the naval action at Wanhsien are briefly as follows:—At the end of August General Yang Sen, the titular Governor of Szechwan, seized two steamers belonging to the Chinese Navigation Co., Ltd., alleging that another steamer of the same company had sunk a boat carrying some of his troops and a certain amount of money. The six British officers of the two steamers were kept in custody by him.

The Commander of H.M.S. Cockchafer endeavoured to conduct negotiations for the release of the ships and their officers, but General Yang Sen refused to discuss the matter with him, and threatened to fire on H.M.S. Cockchafer if she moved or an ultimatum were delivered, posting troops for this purpose. His Majesty's Consul at Changking proceeded to Wanhsien, and from September 2nd to September 5th was, under instruction from His Majesty's Minister at Peking, constantly using all his exertions to secure a peaceful settlement of the affair, including the offer of an inquiry. But General Yang Sen proved absolutely unyielding and defiant, ignoring even a message sent to him by Wu Pei-Fu, his superior General, and imprisoning the messenger who bore it.

THE RELIEF EXPEDITION.

It was in these circumstances that His Majesty's Government reluctantly decided that if a solution by conciliatory measures proved in the last resort absolutely impossible, the only alternative was to use force to rescue the imprisoned ships' officers. The naval expedition which proceeded to Wanhsien for this purpose was received with heavy fire. The fire was consequently returned. The British casualties were three officers and four seamen killed; two officers and 13 seamen wounded. Of the six imprisoned officers of the mercantile marine five were rescued, the sixth being drowned. The Chinese casualties have not yet been reliably established, but my latest information indicates them to be very much less than originally rumoured.

As a result of this action Yang Sen has offered to discuss further the question of the return of the illegally sized ships, and sent the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs at Changking to Ichang to meet Rear Admiral Cameron, senior naval officer on the Yangtse, for this purpose. In these negotiations our attitude has been that, while we were willing to discuss the holding of an inquiry into the alleged sinking of the boat and of the drowning of General Yang Sen's soldiers, the return of the steamers must be a condition precedent.

ONE STEAMER RETURNED.

I am glad to be able to add that my latest information is that one of the steamers has been returned, and the other is now en route for Ichang, while General Yang Sen is reported to be adopting an amicable attitude. On the arrival of the second steamer the question of holding an inquiry will be considered, and His Majesty's Consul at Ichang is proceeding forthwith to Changking with a view to expediting a settlement of all outstanding points connected with the incident.

Major Colfax asked if any posthumous rewards for gallantry would be made to the officers and men who took part in this gallant engagement.

Mr. Baldwin—I am not aware whether that has been considered.

Mr. Barker asked whether the Prime Minister was aware that there were many foreigners in China who were absolutely unprotected, and that the sending of these boats up the river was likely to provoke the Chinese and endanger life.

There was no reply.

THE REINFORCEMENTS.

Mr. Looker asked the Prime Minister whether any addition had been made to our naval, military, and air strength in the Far East to meet the situation which had arisen there, and whether the Government were satisfied that our forces in China were sufficient to protect British subjects and British interests.

Mr. Baldwin—As far as the naval position is concerned, His Majesty's Government are satisfied that the reinforcements now on the way to China, consisting of H.M.S. Hermes and a flotilla of one leader and eight destroyers, together with our forces already in China, will be sufficient for the present to secure adequate protection to British subjects and interests. As far as our military forces are concerned, the situation up to date has not warranted any military intervention, and no military or air reinforcement has been sent.

Mr. Looker asked whether steps were now being taken to confer with any Powers interested as to the situation which had arisen in China, and whether any joint measures were to be taken for the protection of foreign communities.

Mr. Baldwin—No; His Majesty's Government regard it as a matter for any individual Government concerned to decide for themselves what measure it is desirable or necessary to take for the protection of their nationals or interests abroad according to circumstances arising in each case.

SITUATION IN CANTON.

Mr. Baldwin, in reply to Mr. Pethick Lawrence, said that, as regards the situation

BASIS OF COAL PEACE.

GOVERNMENT'S OFFER TO MINERS.

ANOTHER DEBATE IN COMMONS.

FROM OUR PARLIAMENTARY CORRESPONDENT.

WESTMINSTER, Tuesday.

In the House of Commons this afternoon there was a very poor attendance compared with that of yesterday, while the galleries again lacked occupants. Little time was lost in getting to the business for which members for the second time were called together during the holidays—that was the renewal for another month of the Emergency Regulations. The Home Secretary had little to say about them beyond this—that cases dealt with under the Regulations were more numerous than at any period except in the month of the general strike.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald belittled the whole business. He declared that most of the offences could have been adequately dealt with by the ordinary law, and asserted that the Regulations were wholly unnecessary.

HUMOUR AND SARCASM.

Captain Wedgwood Benn was humorous and sarcastic by turns. He said that he admired the modesty of the Home Secretary for stating in a speech at Hounslow that he was "not the only strong man in the Government," when they all knew he was the only member of the Administration who had any great achievement to his credit—he had got a charter for Twickenham. The laughter that followed became louder when the Speaker wanted to know whether that achievement came under the Emergency Regulations. Thus encouraged to proceed in this vein, Captain Benn parodied a well-known doggerel—

"Jix the boy for work, Jix the boy for play, Jix the lad, when times are bad, to keep the Reds away."

Then for one moment the hon. member for Leith became serious. "The time had come," he declared, "to put a stop to this buffoonery, which is playing chuck-farthing with the Constitution of our country."

The regulations were discussed at considerable length, but the points raised by Labour and Liberal members were somewhat discounted by the fact that they had already been exhaustively dealt with on previous occasions. In the end the resolution approving the renewal of the regulations as a whole was agreed to.

A FINAL PROTEST.

On the motion for the adjournment, Mr. Hartshorn protested against the House rising without Parliament making a special effort to bring the coal dispute to an end. The strain upon the national resources, he said, was enormous, and the future resources of the nation were being mortgaged as never before in time of peace. Debts were being piled up in British homes which would be a nightmare to millions for years. They did not want a patched up peace, leaving the threat of a repetition of the trouble next year, or the year after. Were there no proposals which would provide a basis for a permanent settlement?

The proposals of the miners were (1) an immediate resumption of work to take place in all the mines of the country on the basis of a ten per cent. reduction in wages; (2) a tribunal to be set up, having authority to arbitrate and determine the terms and provisions of agreements based upon the general recommendations of the Coal Commission's report. He confessed that they made these proposals with great reluctance. They would not be popular. There would be no halves for anybody, but they were made in the genuine belief that they would meet the situation, and ought to meet with the approval of both the coal-owners and the Government. Upon these terms the mines could be worked at a profit from the commencement, except in the case of Northumberland.

He was aware the Prime Minister had said that the question of hours would have to be considered, but why quibble about that when the proposals put forward would put the industry on a paying basis?

PREMIER'S REPLY.

The Prime Minister's answer was that the Government would not refuse to accept any proposals which would lead to a settlement between the parties to the dispute. The basis of a settlement was given by himself and the Chancellor of the Exchequer yesterday.

As the Premier proceeded, he was frequently interrupted by members opposite, and the Speaker was compelled to intervene. He asked Labour members to listen to the Prime Minister and to explore every avenue for a possible settlement.

Mr. Baldwin, continuing, said the opinion of the Government was there could be no settlement in which the question of hours was not included. The Government had made a definite offer, which he hoped would be considered by the Delegate Conference to-morrow.

He went on to say that they must be careful not to repeat the mistake they made in 1924 of stabilising in a moment of better trade a wage which could not be paid in normal times. The Government could not say what the ultimate reception of the offer to the miners would be. That offer could only hold good for a short time, but it would not be removed until it had been weighed with a full sense of responsibility.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE'S QUESTIONS.

Mr. Lloyd George asked for a statement from the Government whether under their proposal the general principles which were to dominate the district settlements would be the subject of consultation with the miners' leaders before the bill was drafted; whether in appeals from district settlements the tribunal would be able to revise hours; and whether the Miners' Federation would be able to present the case of the miners to the tribunal.

Mr. Churchill said that he had listened with very great disappointment to the speeches that had been delivered from the opposite side. They had dispelled his expectations. They amounted to mere reiteration of the proposals made last week by the Miners' Federation to the Government, which offered not the slightest prospects of a settlement. If anyone imagined that at the present stage of the business it was going to be settled on that basis they must be living in a world of the wildest absurdity.

The question of an immediate resumption of work did not rest with the Government. The Government were asked to clothe the miners' proposals with statutory force, but that was a tremendous thing to ask. They would never be agreed to by the owners. The Government were asked to legislate in a manner highly disputable and controversial; but they had laid down—and they had a mind of their own in this matter—that they would not in any circumstances legislate except in conjunction with the immediate termination of the dispute, by a resumption of work on district settlements. It was no use pressing them to depart from the position they had definitely and finally adopted.

MR. CHURCHILL AND MR. COOK.

NO INTERVIEW ON MONDAY NIGHT.

The Press Association is requested to state that there is no truth in a statement that Mr. Cook had an interview with the Chancellor of the Exchequer at the House of Commons on Monday Night.

MINERS AT WORK.

A LARGE INCREASE.

According to returns received in London last night, the total number of persons employed yesterday at pits producing coal, including safety men, but excluding safety men at non-producing pits, was 137,478, an increase of 10,457.

During the week ending September 25th 59,213 tons of coal were transported over the London, Midland and Scottish Railway from the Warwickshire coalfields. This is in addition to the amount distributed locally by road and canal, estimated at about 8,000 tons. The total compares with 42,704 tons last week.

SOLAR STORM AREA OF 100,000 MILES

FLOODS IN ADRIATIC VILLAGES.

PEOPLE FLEE TO THE HOUSE-TOPS.

ROME, Tuesday.

Certain districts on the Adriatic are suffering from a spell of very bad weather. Some of the countryside round Brindisi is flooded to a depth of six feet, while vineyards and olive trees have been seriously damaged by hail.

The inhabitants of the country town of San Pietro were obliged to take refuge on the roofs of their houses, which were almost under water.

At Trieste a violent storm turned the streets into torrents, and in the Place Verdi the sewers were unable to carry off the water, which swept into cafés and shops with such force that it carried away tables and chairs and swept them down to the sea.

In consequence of the excessive rain the train service was suspended for some time.—(Reuter.)

UNUSUALLY LARGE SUN-SPOTS.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Monday.

The Astronomical Observatory of Harvard University, in a report on certain unusually large sun-spots observed since September 15, says that these represent a solar storm of extraordinary intensity covering an area of 100,000 miles.

It is purely a matter of speculation still, says the report, whether the gales here are attributable to sunspots, though sunspots have marked electrical and magnetic effects upon the earth.

Solar storms may be expected to increase in number and size during the next two or three years, reaching a maximum about 1928.

The Smithsonian Institution has connected the variation in the radiation of the sun received by the earth with the sunspot cycle, but it is not possible to predict yet whether it will become colder or hotter in a given locality on the appearance of large sunspots.—(Per Press Association, copyright.)

TORRENTIAL RAIN IN AZORES.

LISBON, Tuesday.

A violent storm, with torrential rain, has visited Fayal, the Azores, causing inundations.

Crops were destroyed and road communications were interrupted. The inhabitants of the temporary dwellings, erected after the earthquake, are in great distress.

Loss of life has been reported.—(Times telegram, per Press Association, copyright.)

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK IN VIENNA.

VIENNA, Tuesday.

An earthquake shock was felt here and in other places in Lower Austria at 4.43 this afternoon. So far no damage is reported.—(Reuter.)

THE BLAZING CAR MYSTERY.

VERDICT OF "MURDER AND SUICIDE."

At the resumed inquest yesterday, at Blunham, on Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Howitt Marshall, of South Mills Farm, Blunham, who were found dead in a blazing motor car near their home on the 9th inst., the jury returned a verdict of "murder and suicide."

The manager of the Biggleswade branch of Barclay's Bank said that the bank had made large advances to Mr. Marshall to provide working capital for his farm. There was nothing in his financial position which could possibly be a motive for the mystery.

The loan to Mr. Marshall from the bank was £14,000, partly guaranteed by third persons. No pressure was being put on Mr. Marshall by his guaranty. The life policies were for £4,490. His father's will was something over £40,000, and he was entitled to half. According to a balance sheet which Mr. Marshall had prepared he had a considerable surplus over his liabilities.

Mr. Harry Marshall, brother and sole executor of Mr. Lindsay Marshall, said that he had gone into his brother's affairs, and had found no evidence of any pressure being put upon him by any creditor. His brother's free assets were double the amount of his unsecured liabilities. His brother was happily married. He could not account for the tragedy.

The Coroner described the case as a most remarkable and sensational one. He made a protest against the large numbers of anonymous letters and letters from misguided persons, which the police and he had received. He took no notice of them.

GREEK POLITICAL CRISIS.

QUESTION OF ELECTIONS.

ATHENS, Tuesday.

There is a political crisis here, but it is very improbable that there will be a change of Government.

The meeting of political leaders, both Venizelist and anti-Venizelist, convened to make arrangements for the elections and compose factional differences, took place to-day, General Kondylis being present, and Admiral Konduriotis presiding. Though it lasted for six hours, no definite decision was reached.

MM. Kafandaris, Papanastasiou, Sofoulis, and Michalacopoulos, and General Gonatas favoured Proportional Representation, whilst General Mexatas and MM. Demertzis, Tsaldaris and Zavitsanos were against it. So the question of the electoral system was left to the arbitrament of Admiral Konduriotis, and General Kondylis tendered the Government's resignation in order to ease the situation.

MM. Kafandaris, Papanastasiou, Michalacopoulos, Sofoulis and Zavitsanos, and General Gonatas favoured the retention of General Kondylis in power till the elections, only the anti-Venizelists, General Metaxas, and MM. Demerdzis and Tsaldaris, being against it.—(Reuter.)

MINERS' EXECUTIVE BUSY.

A DAY OF CONFERENCES.

The Press Association understands that at their meeting with the General Council of the Trades Union Congress yesterday afternoon the Miners' Executive asked for a recommendation to the various other unions for a levy for miners, and an embargo on coal. The General Council promised to consider the request, but did not make any proposals to the miners as to their policy, or the course that should be pursued.

An official statement issued subsequently said that the meeting was between the London members of the General Council, acting as Emergency Committee, and the full Executive of the Miners' Federation, and that it was anticipated that another meeting with the full General Council would take place.

It was highly probable that the delegate conference to-day will refer the present position back to the districts, and that a ballot on the Government's terms will be deferred for at least a week. If the ballot is decided upon, a two-thirds majority will be necessary for the continuance of the stoppage.

In the evening there was a joint meeting between the Executive of the Parliamentary Labour Party and the Miners' Executive at the House of Commons, after which each body held separate meetings.

The meeting between the Miners' Executive and the Executive of the Parliamentary Labour Party led to no change in the situation, and the Miners' Executive soon afterwards dispersed for the evening. The latter body, it was learned, is still divided, and, having been unable to arrive at any decision on which to base a recommendation to the delegates to-day, they are leaving open the question of hours.

There was a good deal of activity in the House of Commons last night after the Miners' Executive had gone away. Several of the miners' officials, including Mr. Cook, were in touch with the Government's representatives.

IRISH SHIPPING AMALGAMATION.

PROPOSED PURCHASE OF DUNDALK COMPANY.

TERMS OF THE OFFER.

We have been officially informed that the British and Irish Steam Packet Co., Ltd., have made an offer for the whole of the shares of the Dundalk and Newry Steam Packet Co., Ltd., and, if the offer is accepted by the shareholders, the service between Dundalk and Newry and Liverpool will be re-opened as soon as the necessary arrangements are completed.

PURCHASING COMPANY'S TERMS.

ALL ORDINARY SHARES TO BE TAKEN UP.

According to a circular which has been issued to the shareholders of the Dundalk Company, the British and Irish Company's offer to take up the whole of the 14,100 Ordinary shares of £5 each of the Dundalk Company is made up as follows:—£1 per share in cash and £3 per share in 5 per cent. First Debenture stock of Coast Lines, Ltd., at par. In addition, the directors will receive £1,000, to be divided among them as they decide, as compensation for loss of office.

The offer is conditional upon acceptance before the 12th October, and the directors recommend its acceptance by the shareholders.

It was announced in the Irish Times on the 17th instant that the British and Irish Steam Packet Company had acquired a controlling interest in Michael Murphy, Ltd., Dublin, which carried with it the Dublin and General Steamship Company, Ltd.

If the British and Irish Steam Packet Company's offer is accepted by the Dundalk and Newry Company, it will possess a fleet of twenty-one steamers, which ply between Irish and British and Continental ports. In addition to its own fleet of twelve ships, it takes over five from the Michael Murphy Company, and four from the Dundalk and Newry Steam Packet Company.

HOW THE END CAME.

The Dundalk and Newry Steam Packet Company, Ltd., which is a purely local one, has been in existence for about sixty years.

The trouble which led to the closing of the concern began last April. Notices were posted by the company stating that, owing to serious losses in trading, there would be only one sailing between Dundalk and Liverpool, instead of two as formerly; and that the men employed in loading and discharging the boats would, in future, be paid as casual labourers.

After the publication of the notice, one of the boats, the ss. Iveagh, arrived in Dundalk with a cargo of 270 tons of general merchandise. The men refused to handle the cargo, pleading that they were entitled to a guaranteed week's wages; and forthwith went on strike. A conference, which was called by the Ministry of Industry and Commerce, failed to effect a settlement, and the company imported labour to unload the vessel.

At a public meeting held in Dundalk, Mr. John Cox, Chairman of the Directorate, stated that his company during the previous year had lost between £9,000 and £10,000, and that to continue, as they were going, was merely committing financial suicide.

Subsequently, further futile attempts were made to adjust the trouble, and the company closed down, the boats being tied up.

Later a meeting of the shareholders was held, and by a large majority they agreed to voluntary liquidation, and appointed two of the directors as liquidators.

The closing down of a company, while causing an amount of unemployment, has also held up a scheme providing for the expenditure of £50,000 on improving the port and harbour in Dundalk. The Harbour Commissioners had obtained an Act of Parliament, empowering them to buy out all the private quays, and to improve the river, but as the Packet Company formerly contributed one-half of the entire revenue of the Harbour Commission, the Ministry of Commerce has held back the guarantee necessary for the obtaining of this loan.

These factors, coupled with the miners' strike, have resulted in the almost complete closing down of the port, and unemployment locally is more general than it has been in living memory.

DUNDALK COMPANY'S REPORT.

The following is the report of the directors of the Dundalk and Newry Steam Packet Company to the shareholders for the year ending 31st July, 1926. The general yearly meeting will be held in the company's offices, Dundalk, on Thursday, October 7th next:—

The balance carried forward from the last account amounted to £7,564 15s. 0d.; dividends received for the year on investments, interest, etc., £1,269 2s. 1d., making £8,833 17s. 1d.; from which has to be deducted the loss on the trading for the year, after providing for all working expenses, cost of management, rent, insurance of steamers, repairs, taxation, etc., £8,093 16s. 7d.; leaving a balance of £740 0s. 6d., which the directors recommend should be carried forward to next account.

With the deepest regret your directors have to record the death of the Chairman, Sir T. Callan Macardle, and the vacancy thus caused on the Board has been filled by the appointment of Captain John Ross Macardle.

Your steamers are in good working order. They are insured against fire when in dock and port at the several stations, and against marine risks.

The undermentioned directors retire by rotation, but offer themselves for re-election, viz.:—John M. Cox, Esq.; Thomas L. McGee, Esq.; Frank Fisher, Esq.

Owing to the heavy losses incurred by the company during the past year, with the prospect of further heavy losses in the near future, your directors, with a view of safeguarding as far as possible the interests of the shareholders, have entered into negotiations with the British and Irish Steam Packet Company, Ltd., who have made certain proposals for the purchase of the share capital of the company. The particulars of these proposals, together with the forms of acceptance and transfer, are enclosed herewith.

DIRECTORS' RECOMMENDATION.

The following statement has been issued by the directors of the Dundalk and Newry Steam Packet Company to the shareholders:—

28th September, 1926.

DEAR SIR OR MADAM,—Your directors have received an offer from the British and Irish Steam Packet Company, Ltd., Dublin, for the whole of the 14,100 Ordinary shares of £5 each, fully paid of the company, made up as follows:—£1 per share in cash and £3 per share in 5 per cent. First Debenture Stock of Coast Lines, Limited, at par.

In addition, the directors are to receive the sum of £1,000, to be divided among them, as they decide, as compensation for loss of office

This offer is conditional upon its acceptance on or before 12th October, 1926, by the holders of at least 60 per cent. of the shares of the company.

The directors have given the matter careful consideration, and they recommend the acceptance of the offer by every shareholder.

The interest on the Coast Lines, Ltd., 5 per cent. Debenture Stock is payable half-yearly, on 1st January and 1st July in each year, and you will be entitled to six months' interest due on 1st January next.

If you are prepared to sell the shares held by you, kindly sign and return, as early as possible, the enclosed forms of acceptance and transfer, and attach thereto your share certificate. The transfers and certificates will be retained by this company until completion of the transaction on the 28th October, 1926.

Yours faithfully,
J. M. COX, Chairman.
W. H. PATTERSON, Secretary.

The directors of the Dundalk Company are:—Mr. John M. Cox, Chairman, Derryhale, Dundalk; Mr. Thomas L. McGee, Ardee; Mr. James Rooney, Drummulla House, Omeath; Mr. Richard O'Hagan, Margaret street, Newry; Mr. Frank Fisher, Newry; Mr. Patrick O'Connell, Dundalk; Mr. John B. Harris, Albert place, Warrenpoint; Captain John Ross Macardle, St. Margaret's, Dundalk.

TERRIBLE FIRE AT MANCHESTER.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH.

SEVEN OTHERS INJURED

Terrible scenes were witnessed at Manchester yesterday afternoon, when a woman was burned to death and seven women were injured in a fire at an oil works and silk-shade factory in the Chorlton-on-Medlock district.

It is believed that the woman now dead attempted to escape from a window, but was trapped by the flames.

An eye-witness said that the scene in the street was a horrible one, as the girls dashed from the works, one with her head bleeding. Women in the street fainted. "I heard five big bangs," he added, "as though barrels of oil were exploding."

The lower half of the building was completely destroyed by the outbreak, which raged for an hour and a half, despite the prompt arrival of four fire engines and the splendid work of the brigade. Huge stocks of oil were destroyed.

Two girls are in hospital with burns, and five others are suffering from burns and shock.

The escape of the girls was cut off in an adjoining gas shade works.

Some window cleaners who were passing near the place before the firemen arrived were stopped by a man shouting, "Bring your ladders; something has happened." The cleaners rushed their ladders to the building, but only one of them was long enough to reach the upper windows. A man ran up the ladder and brought out two or three girls, but after a few minutes the ladder began to burn, and soon all attempts at further rescue had to be abandoned.

The dead woman was charred beyond recognition.

ORIGIN OF THE FIRE.

The fire originated at about three o'clock either in the works of Phillip Schulman and Co., silk lamp-shade manufacturers, or in Messrs. Charles Mack and Co.'s oil stores, at the corner of Plymouth avenue and Plymouth Grove, Manchester.

About twelve girls were engaged in the up-stair room of Messrs. Schulman, when they saw smoke drifting past the window. There was a rush for the door, but the staircase was in flames, and the fumes of burning oil poured up the stairs from the oil merchants' premises below. Driven back, the girls tried to escape by the window, and several of them succeeded in jumping twelve or fifteen feet to the yard below.

To add to the horror, a small shed to which the girls jumped gave way. Passers-by picked up three of them, and rushed them to the Royal Infirmary.

All that is left of the premises is an empty shell and a few empty oil drums. Oil and water overflowed into the street, and the tramcar service was disorganised.

Chief Superintendent Corlett, of the Manchester Fire Brigade, said:—"I have never seen anything so terrible and quick. By the time we arrived the flames were breaking out into the street, a distance of forty yards from the seat of origin." The Brigade, with a full complement of engines and men, fought strenuously, but eventually the buildings were destroyed. The heat was terrific.

SEARCH FOR SECOND GIRL.

The dead girl has been identified as Rose Pyrah, of 3 Lothair street, Chorlton-on-Medlock. Her body was found crouched beneath the window, facing the street, where she had evidently collapsed when trying to escape. She was taken to the Cavendish street mortuary.

A second girl is believed to be buried beneath the débris, and the search is being continued.

One of the girls in hospital said:—"It was terrible. We saw smoke, and when we rushed to the door all the flames and smoke were raging on the steps. We could not get out. We rushed to the window and squeezed through. When we jumped, the shed gave way and we all fell through into the yard. I have not seen some of the girls since."

SOME OF THE INJURED.

The following are among those taken to hospital:—Annie Dawson (14), of 25 Mayfair street, Longsight; Rene Woodhouse (18), of 6 Brighton Grove, Longsight; Hilda Armstrong (17), of 20 Norwood street, Chorlton-on-Medlock; Margaret Sheridan (16), of 8 Albert street, Rusholme; Vera Stockton (15), of Craig road, Gorton; Dorothy Norcott (20), of 16 Mulberry street, Hulme—all treated for severe wounds, abrasions and shock; and Flora Hogg (42), of 17 Bold street, Moss Side.

MOTOR FIRM'S HUGE LOSSES.

COSTLY STRIKE AND LOCK-OUT.

How a strike, followed by a lock-out, helped to bring a great motor firm into serious financial difficulties was described at a meeting of the 6½ per cent. Debenture Stock holders in Wolseley Motors, Ltd., held at Winchester House, London, yesterday, to consider resolutions relating to the reconstruction of the company, and to meet liabilities falling due next month.

Sir Gilbert Garnsey, who presided, said that just at a time when every effort was being made to increase output the moulders' strike, which lasted from December, 1919, to April, 1920, ruined any possibility of securing business while the "boom" was on. The difficulties of the situation were further accentuated by the fact that the company, as a member of the Engineering and National Employers' Federation, was involved in the lock-out which lasted from March 3rd to June 6th, 1922. Since 1920 losses each year ran into six figures. At present the assets totalled £2,332,019, and liabilities were estimated at £1,687,971.

On the basis of book values the whole of the Ordinary Share capital of £1,000,000 had been lost, and a third of the Preference Share capital of £300,000. It was proposed to write off the whole of the 1,000,000 Ordinary Shares held by Vickers, Limited, and that firm was prepared to hand over the entire administration of the company to a new board of directors, on which the Debenture Stock holders would be asked to appoint representatives. Negotiations were now in progress with parties who might be induced to take over the management of the business if the scheme when formulated was accepted by all parties.

VICKERS' OFFER.

Vickers, Limited, were prepared to pay off the bank overdraft of £454,000, and to provide a substantial sum in exchange for new Ordinary Shares or other security in the reconstructed company. He, therefore, moved that the holders of the First Mortgage Debenture Stock secured by trustees between the company and the B.S.T. should agree to defer the rights to payments due to them till January 1st, 1927. Such a period would enable the trustees to prepare a well-considered scheme.

Mr. W. Henman, of Birmingham, ascribed the whole source of the trouble to bad management.

The resolution was passed, with four dissentients.

A committee was appointed to deal with matters arising out of the present situation, with powers to add to their number, consisting of Messrs. Gilbert Johnstone, T. W. Horton, and L. R. Stride

LOCAL APPOINTMENTS COMMISSIONERS.

Last night's Dublin Gazette announces that, pursuant to Section three of the Local Authorities (Officers and Employés) Act, 1926, the Executive Council have appointed Messrs. Diarmuid O'Hegarty, Joseph O'Neill, M.A., and Henry P. Boland to be Local Appointments Commissioners for the purposes of that Act.

LITHUANIA AND RUSSIA.

MOSCOW, Tuesday.

The Soviet-Lithuanian Non-Aggression Agreement was signed here to-day. The Treaty stipulates a mutual obligation to refrain from aggressive action against each other, and not render support, military, political, economic or fiancial to any third party in case of an attack on one of the contracting parties.—(Reuter.)

THE FREE STATE'S INDUSTRIES.

CENSUS OF PRODUCTION TO BE TAKEN.

THE MINISTRY'S PLANS.

PREPARATIONS are being made for the taking of a census of industrial production in the Irish Free State, in accordance with an Order issued by the Minister for Industry and Commerce under Section 16 of the Statistics Act, 1926.

The object is to secure particulars of the production of goods in the twenty-six counties during the year 1926. Forms will be sent on January 15th next to all engaged in industrial production, and they must be returned by March 1st, 1927. At present the heads of the Department of Statistics are engaged in the planning of those forms of inquiry, but before their final shape is settled representatives of the principal industries will be consulted. So far the preliminary forms are being planned on the lines recommended by the International Institute of Statistics.

THE ONLY EXCEPTION.

The Order affects every one engaged in industrial production, no matter how small his scale of operations. Agriculture is not included. It will be, to all intents and purposes, the first census of the kind ever taken in the Free State; for an attempt made in the year 1907 to collect information on the subject brought results of little or no value. In conjunction with Great Britain a census of production was taken in Northern Ireland last year. The Ministry of Industry attaches so much importance to the census that it would be well for those concerned to begin to make themselves acquainted with what they will have to do in the six weeks allowed for the filling of the returns.

A schedule to the Act sets out the industries, trades and businesses for which returns must be made. The list covers every industrial enterprise in the country. Special forms will be provided for the principal industries, and for the smaller undertakings a general form is being prepared. The aim of the Department is to make it as easy as possible for those affected to supply the information sought

THE QUESTIONNAIRE.

The information that must be given is set out under the following heads:—

(1) General particulars regarding establishment. Included in this are particulars as to ownership.

(2) Time in Operation—Days worked during the year, stoppages or short time and the causes of same, and the number of hours normally worked per week by wage earners.

(3) Persons Employed—Under this head particulars must be given of the number of people employed in any capacity, including working proprietors, during the week ended October 16th, 1926, or nearest representative date. In addition, there must be given the number of wage earners—not outworkers—actually at work during twelve specified weeks, one in every month of the year.

(4) Salaries and Wages—Total amount paid during the year to (a) salaried employés; (b) wage earners.

(5) Products and Work—Under this head must be given the quantity and value of the principal products of the concern, with a specification of all other products. If the establishment was not working at its full capacity, an approximation of the amount of production possible had it been so working must be returned.

(6) Fuel, etc.—Very full particulars are required of the total quantity and cost at works of the different kinds of fuel, oils and electricity used during the year.

(7) Materials Used—There must be set out the quantity and cost at the works of all materials used in producing or manufacturing the products covered by No. 5 above, or on all repair work done during the year. Only materials used during the year are to be included.

(8) Amounts paid for contract work.

(9) Machinery Employed—Number and description of the more important classes of machines used.

(10) Capacity of engines, including prime movers, like steam and internal combustion engines, water-wheels and windmills, electric generators and electric motors.

DIFFICULT QUESTIONS.

Many problems arise when one sets out to define production, but in the beginning only what is definitely necessary to arrive at actual produce will be sought. For instance, the decision as to whether the bottling of beer is an industry will be left to the future.

The coming census of production goes further than anything yet attempted in Great Britain. The Free State Statistics Act gives the Department more extended powers to secure information than those in the hands of the British Board of Trade. Here particulars must be given of salaries and wages, which are not required in Great Britain. The Department will ask for the quantities and values of the principal raw materials used as ingredients of the final product, whereas the Board of Trade has no power to demand information beyond what was the total sum spent on raw materials.

The difficult work of the first census will be carried out in a spirit of reasonableness and in consultation with representatives of the various industries. For the first six months of the present year figures which are approximately accurate will be accepted. For the second six months the forms must be filled from the actual figures in the books of the concern.

The Act provides stiff penalties for failure to furnish the returns as required.

DONEGAL FISHERIES.

HOW RATE EXEMPTION WILL AFFECT THE COUNTY.

At a meeting of the Donegal County Council yesterday, Mr. James Clarke, D.L., referring to the fisheries in the area, said that the rates payable on the valuation for the year 1926-27 would be approximately £1,460, but he understood that the Council had no right to get that at all now.

Mr. Baxter—You will not be getting it this year. It is going to the Conservators of Fisheries.

Mr. Clarke—This represents a loss of 1½d. in the £ on the whole county, and I think that the general public should know that it is not our fault that we are not getting it.

Captain Hamilton said that he did not consider that this was a loss to the county, because the preservation of the fisheries was a very important matter for the county. It was only reasonable that the fisheries should be supported by the county, as the fisheries were a national asset.

Mr. Edward Gallen said that he was sorry to say that the fisheries were not a national asset. They were not so valuable at all, except to the owners and proprietors, whoever they were, and, certainly, they were not ratepayers in the county, as far as he knew. He did not see why they should get off. They were reaping a rich harvest with this rateable asset.

Mr. Baxter said that some of the fishery owners were very heavy ratepayers.

"All we can do," said Mr. Francis Gallagher, winding up the discussion, "is to protest, and I join in the protest."

FATAL FIGHT BETWEEN FATHER AND SON.

REMARKABLE EVIDENCE.

When Thomas Putland (26) was charged on remand at Bexhill yesterday with the murder of his father on September 4th last, he gave remarkable evidence.

The accused man said that three nights before his death his father came home drunk and wanted to fight him. To appease him the prisoner agreed to fight him, the terms being written in a book produced in court. On the night of September 4th he offered to help his father home, but he attacked him, and the accused man had to fight in self-defence. He believed that he was fighting for his life at the time.

The magistrate reduced the charge to manslaughter, and committed Putland to Sussex Assizes, bail being allowed.

GERMAN AIRMAN IN ESTHONIA.

TALLINN, REVAL, Tuesday.

The Soviet military airman who came down on Esthonian territory about a week ago and explained that he had lost his way and thought that he was landing in Soviet Russia has been released, with his machine, the Soviet Minister expressing regret for the incident on behalf of the Moscow Government.—(Reuter.)

TOLL OF THE AIR.

FRENCH AND SERBIAN ACCIDENTS.

SEVEN LIVES LOST.

CHARTRES, Tuesday.

In the course of night manœuvres, a military aeroplane, belonging to the 22nd Regiment, crashed in flames near Bonneval.

One officer, an under officer, and three men, who comprised the crew of the plane, were burned to death.

The aeroplane was piloted by a lieutenant, with a crew of three sergeants and two wireless operators. It was just midnight when the plane burst into flames above Bonneval. The pilot endeavoured to land, but the machine nose-dived, and the petrol tank exploded.

The Governor-General of Algeria, who is presiding at the Council-General of the Department, to-day visited the wreck, and at this afternoon's sitting of the Council paid a moving tribute to the work of the French airmen.—(Reuter).

PILOT'S SEIZURE IN MID-AIR.

BELGRADE, Tuesday.

A pilot's seizure in mid-air is believed to have been responsible for a fatal accident at Noviead Aerdrome. Lieutenant Kovenko was engaged in a trial flight in an 180 horse-power Brindenburg machine, when, it is thought, he suddenly fainted. The machine crashed to the ground, and Lieutenant Kovenko and his mechanic were killed.—(Reuter).

BRITISH ACCIDENTS.

Flying Officer Arthur Ernest Haes was severely injured in a flying-boat accident at Calshot, on last Monday night, and is now in Haslar Hospital suffering from compound fracture of the thigh. His machine had been night flying, and when alighting it rebounded from the water, and turned over. The pilot and aircraftsman were slightly injured.

Another machine was wrecked earlier in the day when trying to take off. The water was rough. No person was injured.

INQUEST ON FLYING OFFICER.

The inquest on Flying Officer Theodore Wright, Royal Air Force, who was killed through his aeroplane crashing whilst engaged in dropping messages to the troops at Camberley on August 16, was resumed at Frimley yesterday, when the jury found that he was killed accidentally, that every precaution was taken to test the efficiency of the machine, and that no one was to blame.

Lieutenant Roberts, who was acting as observer, said that they had been in the air two hours, when he noticed a difference in the sound of the engine. Within thirty seconds the machine nose-dived, and crashed.

LATE NEWS

THE COAL DEBATE.

ALTERNATIVES BEFORE MEN'S LEADERS.

The Times observes in a leading article:—The main effect of those last two days' debate in the House of Commons has unquestionably been to improve the appearance of the Government's scheme of settlement. No doubt, the two parties to the coal stoppage have reached a point at which the spoken argument is almost ineffective. The owners have long seemed more concerned with victory than with peace. The miners' leaders are discovering that the "organisation of retreat" is always a difficult strategical undertaking, and it is by no means certain that the delegate conference, which has been summoned for this morning, will prove any more effective than it was before. But, at all events, there is no encouragement to be derived from Parliament for the policy either of waiting for better terms or of fighting to a finish. None of the critics of the Government contributed any practical alternative suggestion. Neither Mr. Macdonald, with his meticulous analysis of bygone negotiations, nor Mr. Lloyd George, who is apparently ready to nationalise the mines under the Emergency Regulations, made any serious impression on the offer which at present holds the field. On the other hand, Mr. Churchill's speech of Monday afternoon, which was admittedly the most constructive contribution to the debate, went far to elucidate and commend that offer, and incidentally tore to tatters the theory that he and the Prime Minister had been working at cross purposes.

The situation this morning is that the miners' delegates are face to face with two alternatives. They can accept the Government proposals, as elaborated in the House of Commons, or they can allow the stoppage to come to an end by a gradual process of exhaustion, without any safeguards at all. There is literally no other choice before them. To discuss the offer made by their own Executive is sheer waste of time, and it is equally fruitless to call their leaders to account for the kaleidoscopic change of front which that offer implied. The real charge to be brought against their leaders at this moment is that they have no longer he courage to lead them in any direction whatever.

SAVING THE FRANC.

FRENCH GOLD COIN PURCHASE.

The Paris Correspondent of The Times sent the following message last night:—The doors of the Banque de France, and of its branch offices in the Place Ventadour and the suburbs of Paris, were again to-day besieged with people anxious to sell their gold or silver coins on the terms offered by the bank. The crowd was composed mainly of the middle and working classes, who are offering their "mite"—at a price—to save the franc. It is reported that in many cases hoards of gold of considerable value have passed over the counters of the bank. Amongst the crowd were people from the country, and one peasant, wearing a blouse, carried his gold in a cigar box.

Reports from the provinces show that this process of adding to the gold reserve is proceeding apace all over the country. At Cherbourg 300 people disposed of coins to the value of 100,000 francs, a total which was equalled at Rennes, while at Nancy coins to the value of 350,000 francs were purchased, an average of 1,300 francs per person. It is improbable that the Banque de France will disclose the total of the gold and silver purchased. So far as Paris is concerned, it is calculated that about two-thirds of the coins so far received over the counter are in silver.

WRECK OF THE SIGORSKY.

NEW YORK, Monday.

At the conclusion of the coroner's inquest into the deaths of Islamoff, the Russian-American mechanic, and Clavier, the French wireless operator, who were burned to death in the cabin of Captain Fonck's biplane two minutes after its start on an intended Atlantic flight, the District Attorney to-day declared that the wreck of the machine was a "most unfortunate accident, with no culpable negligence on the part of Captain Fonck, or any other person connected with the venture."—(Reuter.)

BREAKAWAY FROM FEDERATION.

Although strongly advised by their leaders at a big meeting yesterday morning to ignore the ballot upon the offer of the Atherton colliery owners to reopen their pits on a seven and a half hour day, with no reduction save 6½ per cent. reduction to piece-workers, 62 per cent. voted, with the following result:—In favour of the offer, 982; against, 323. The pits will reopen to-day.

The first breakaway in West Lothian County took place yesterday, when a few miners started work at Easton pit, in Bathgate district.

Further signs of the breakdown of the Lancashire miners are reported at Rainford. One hundred men have signed on to start work to-day, and over a hundred at Skelmersdale and Upholland.

Mr. J. Pough, of Kimberley, has resigned his position as one of the delegates to the Nottinghamshire Miners' Council. He proposes to resume his place at New Watnall Colliery to-day, declaring his belief that the only possibility of settlement now lies in the acceptance of district terms.

WORLD POWER CONFERENCE.

IRISHMEN AT BASLE EXHIBITION.

SWISS USES FOR ELECTRICITY.

AN EXAMPLE TO IRELAND.

(SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED.)

IN connection with the International Exhibition of Inland Navigation and Utilisation of Water Power, there was held at Basle this month a meeting of the World Power Conference.

This meeting was for the purpose of discussing such power questions as were relevant to the purposes of the Exhibition. The meeting was the first held since the inauguration of the World Power Conference at Wembley in 1924.

The Conference had a special Irish interest from the fact that several Irish delegates were present.

THE EXHIBITION.

IRISH DELEGATES TO CONFERENCE.

The Exhibition itself was a most interesting one, and dealt with the inland navigation systems of the various European countries, as well as with the development and utilisation of water-power. Needless to state, the Swiss section was particularly well done, and presented a complete picture of Swiss power development and utilisation. The exhibit of the Federal Technical High School, usually known as the Zurich Polytechnic, was specially worthy of notice. There were so many items of interest that it was not possible for the World Power delegates to make more than a general inspection, as the official programme of the Conference absorbed practically all their time.

The Irish delegates included Colonel O'Brien, Mr. William Hewat, T.D., the President of the Electricity Supply Association of Ireland; Mr. G. Marshall Harriss, the General Manager of the Dublin United Tramways Co.; Mr. Commissioner Hernon and Mr. Kettle, the City Electrical Engineer; Mr. J. A. Kenny, the well-known consulting engineer, and Mr. William Ryan, Barrister-at-Law, Managing Director of the North Kerry Electric Supply Co. Messrs. Raftery and Wright were also present in an unofficial capacity at the Conference proceedings.

SUBJECTS DISCUSSED.

The Conference consisted of 580 members, representing 39 different countries. Seventy-five papers were read, dealing with the following subjects:—

(A.) The exchange of electrical energy between countries.

(B.) The economic relation between electrical energy produced from water-power and that produced from fuel.

(C.) Electricity in agriculture.

(D.) Railway electrification.

All these subjects are of interest and importance to Ireland, particularly in view of the great electrification scheme which the Free State Government has undertaken. Even the interchange of electrical energy between countries may one day be of importance, as no electricity boundary should exist between the Free State and Northern Ireland.

The economic relation between electricity from water-power, from peat, and from coal, and from oil is closely involved in the Shannon scheme, as, no doubt, supporting and supplementary stations will be necessary. There are large steam stations already working in Belfast, Dublin, Cork and Derry, as well as many gas and oil stations throughout the country, and it will be interesting to determine the part which these stations will play in the future power supply schemes. Considerable emphasis was laid on the fact that it does not always pay to develop water-power for all requirements, but to utilise thermal stations, even when fuel is comparatively dear.

ELECTRICITY ON THE FARM.

Electricity in agriculture was apparently one of the subjects of most interest to the delegates, and produced considerable discussion. In Switzerland quite an extensive use of electricity is made on the farm.

An important paper on "Some Economic Aspects of Railway Electrification" was contributed by Colonel O'Brien, late Chief Electrical Engineer to the London, Midland and Scottish Railway. No other papers were submitted by the Irish contingent, but they followed the discussions with great interest and contributed to them. The discussions were a little long drawn out, and in a measure unsatisfactory, as the official interpreters were compelled to translate the greater part of the proceedings into two other languages. The interpreters' work was done in a remarkably able and accurate way.

VISITS TO GREAT WORKS.

Apart from the reading and discussion of papers, a great deal of work was done in the way of visiting power and manufacturing works. The power stations of Augst, Rheinfelden, Amsteg, Laufenburg, Elisau, Rheinfall and Waggital were amongst those visited. The engineering works of Brown Boveri, the Swiss Locomotive Works, and Sulzer were also inspected, as well as the famous Zurich Polytechnic. In addition to the official visits, the Irish engineers' group paid special visits to the works of the well-known Oerlikon Company, who supplied all the machines for the Dublin Electricity Works; to Sprecher and Schuh's switch-gear works, to the power works at Aarau and Gosgen, and to the big outdoor sub-station of the Federal Railways at Olten, and to a number of electrified farms.

Of the power stations, by far the most interesting was that at Waggital. This station, or rather two stations, serve as a winter load supply station for the City of Zurich, and also for the network of the N.O.K., the great transmission company which supplies half a dozen of the Cantons of North-East Switzerland. Surplus energy is also given to the Bernische Kraftwerke, which is the other great Swiss transmission and supply organisation.

STORED-UP ENERGY.

In summer there is plenty of electric power on account of the melting of the snow, but in winter the water supply, and consequently the power, decreases very much. The other three works of the N.O.K. can produce 900,000 units of electricity per day, whilst the local demand is only 550,000 per day, thus leaving a large margin for export. In February these works can produce only 400,000 units per day, and the demand reaches 900,000 a day. This is where the Waggital works come in. They produce energy only during the five winter months, and employ the remainder of the year in storing up energy. Waggital is the newest and largest water-power works in Switzerland, and is the second largest in Europe. Its maximum capacity is 160,000 horse-power, the average being 140,000 horse-power. In order to store up the water a great dam has been built across the valley of the River Aa, and a lake four and a half kilometres long results from the flooding of the valley. This lake is in places over 200 feet deep, and a whole village lies buried in its depths, being replaced by a new village at a higher level. There is available a fall from the lake of about 1,500 feet, and this is made use of in two power stations, one above the other.

The working of the lower station necessitated a second great dam and a smaller lake. During seven months of the year the water flowing into the upper, or main, lake is allowed to accumulate. In addition to this, the water from the watershed below the lake is pumped up into the lake by the lower station. During the winter this water runs down again through the turbines of both works, and supplies the winter demand. The transmission lines from the Albula works to Zurich are brought into Waggital, and Albula is thus supplemented by Waggital at a pressure of 50,000 volts. Six 50,000-volt lines also connect up to the N.O.K. network, and a 150,000-volt line connects to the Bernische Kraftwerke network. The whole work forms a remarkable monument to the skill of the Swiss water-power engineer, for the entire installation from beginning to end is the product of Swiss brains and Swiss industry.

THE SWISS RAILWAYS.

The delegates at the Conference were the guests of the Swiss Federal Railways, who provided a special train to bring them from Basle to the power station at Amsteg and afterwards to Andermatt. The Swiss railways form the most completely electrified system of any country in the world. Twenty-five years ago a Commission was appointed to inquire into the more or less academic proposal to electrify the railways. All the original pioneer work was carried out by the Maschinenfabrik Oerlikon, which can be regarded as the father of the Swiss electrification scheme. In 1912 the Government Commission approved of the system in which single-phase current is used with an overhead trolley line at 1,500 volts. The electrification work was commenced in 1916, and was interfered with considerably by war conditions. By 1926 950 kilometres had been electrified, this including most of the main line, and particularly the stretch from Basle right through the St. Gothard tunnel to Italy. In 1928 the Government programme will be completed. The electrification scheme has not exactly justified itself on purely transport cost grounds. As a matter of fact, the result of the electrification will be that railway transport in Switzerland will be one of the most expensive in the world. One of the reasons for this is that the work was carried out at a time when the cost of everything was exceedingly high.

The scheme, however, conferred benefits of many kinds upon the country. It renders Switzerland independent of imported coal, which is a most important point, particularly in war time. It also provided badly-needed work for many of the Swiss factories and for large numbers of men. The electrification also had the effect of speeding-up the Swiss railways to a very marked extent, enabling much heavier trains to travel at considerably higher speeds. The Federal Railways have power stations and transmission lines of their own, the transmission being at 60,000 volts, transformed down at outdoor sub-stations to 15,000 volts.

A GREAT NEW SCHEME.

It is proposed to run a new transmission line at 130,000 volts from the power station at Barberine. The main power stations at present are Ritom, with 60,000 h.p., and Amsteg, with 90,000 h.p. The Amsteg station has six units, one of which is not for railway power supply, being a three-phase machine, 50-periods, for giving a supply for general industrial purposes. The stations at Ritom and Amsteg work in conjunction with one another, and are both high-fall stations, the Amsteg fall being about 780 ft. In the years 1920-1925 400 million units were supplied from the two stations in question, and it is estimated in this way a saving of 560,000 tons of coal was made. The output from these stations has now increased, and in 1925 they supplied 144 million units for railway traction and 51 million units for industrial use.

A huge power scheme is planned for Andermatt, which is at present a great centre for mountain-climbing tourists and for the training of the Swiss Army. This scheme contemplates a large lake, which will obliterate the present Andermatt and will necessitate the building of a new town. A power station at Goeschenen would thus be enabled to produce 300,000 h.p., and would act mainly as a winter power station for virtually the whole of Switzerland. The project has been put forward by the Centralschweiz Kraftwerke of Lucerne. It would be a Waggital scheme on a larger scale, with the difference that no water would be pumped up.

SWISS HOSPITALITY.

The lighter side was by no means neglected, and the delegates found that Swiss hospitality more than filled in their evening moments. It was a striking contrast to Wembley, but, of course, London is not Switzerland. The delegates were officially entertained by the Governments of Basle and Zurich, as well as by everyone whose works were visited, and the Congress badge was an "open sesame" everywhere. Dr. Tissot, the Chairman of the Swiss Committee, who is a prominent banker of Basle, was everywhere and entertained everyone, while Madame and Mademoiselle Tissot looked after the ladies, of whom there was quite a large gathering. The imperturbable and smiling General Secretary, Dr Huebscher, and the Technical Secretary, Mr Zangger, displayed all the efficiency and courtesy for which their country is famed.

No one who participated in the Congress carried away any but the happiest memories of the only real democratic Republic on earth. Genial weather favoured the whole proceedings, and the Irish contingent claim to have swum in more rivers and lakes in Switzerland than the representatives of any other nation.

DONEGAL AND TARIFFS.

COUNTY COUNCILLORS' VIEWS.

At a meeting of the Donegal County Council Mr. Francis Gallagher proposed that the County Council request the Government to give effect to the recommendations of the Grain Conference, which had apparently been so far ignored. This conference, he said, recommended remedies that would cure the economic ills not alone there, but in the country as a whole. Since the tax was put on foreign oatmeal very striking results had manifested themselves. First of all, instead of there being an increase in the price of oatmeal here, there had been a substantial reduction. Oatmeal was £1 per ton cheaper this year than last year. The milling industry had benefited, because two of the largest mills in the Northern area had thought it worth while to open large mills in the county, while four or five smaller mills that had been idle for years had re-opened through the county; and the farmers had benefited because they found this year that they were getting a better price for their oats than their neighbours in the Northern area.

Mr. E. Gallen seconded the motion. He said that if something was not done, and done quickly, to provide a remedy for the existing state of the farming industry, they would be on the high road to national bankruptcy. He noticed that Mr. Hogan was in Canada, and Sir James Craig was there, too. It might be a sinister or a fortuitous coincidence. Two years ago, by a wonderful interposition of Providence, the Governor-General and Sir James Craig, on another notable occasion, found themselves one Sunday morning sucking oranges in Seville. (Laughter.)

Mr. Quigley said that some people would keep their eye on Mr. Hogan in the near future to see whether there would be any developments following this accidental meeting with Sir James Craig in the backwoods of Canada. (Laughter.)

Mr. Barker proposed a direct negative. He believed in Free Trade. Everything in the shape of a tariff contributed to the cost of living of the people of the country. A tax on manufactured articles or foodstuffs had to be paid by the working people. It would be better for the people to pay £250 a year to the men engaged in protected industries in the country, and let them walk about, than have to pay the taxes which were passed on to them as the result of protective tariffs.

It was ultimately agreed to defer the consideration of the matter for two months.

ART OF SALESMANSHIP.

HOW TO DEAL WITH THE "NEGATIVE" CUSTOMER.

Lecturing on "Salesmanship" at the Technical Institute, Kingstown, last night, Mr. W. J. Byrne said that a salesman must be ever acquiring a fund of useful information if he were to interest the many types of people whom he met. He must know a little of the very things that interested. Therefore, he must be always increasing his stock of knowledge, not alone in connection with his own particular line of business.

He should endeavour to develop a personality along lines of general interest. He must understand the urgent need of sound reasoning in salesmanship when dealing with a "negative" customer.

DUBLIN MEAT TRADE PRICES.

CUSTOMERS' CHANGED HABITS.

SMALLER JOINTS AND DAILY PURCHASES.

At the sitting of the Commission on Food Prices, at 5 Ely place, Dublin, yesterday, Senator S. L. Brown, K.C., presiding, a witness who was giving evidence regarding the meat trade in the city, stated that in recent years the habits of customers had changed. Instead of the large joints purchased formerly at regular times, the tendency now is to buy smaller joints, and to buy every day. People, he said, like to get meat every day now.

The Commission is inquiring into the wholesale and retail prices of meat, and the costs of carrying on the victualling business, and, during the taking of evidence from a Rathmines trader, the Chairman remarked that what struck him in regard to the retail prices of beef, without having some explanation, was that the fall in prices between May, 1926, and the present time was hardly represented in the lowered retail prices.

AUDITOR'S EVIDENCE.

THE NET AND THE GROSS PROFITS.

Evidence was taken first concerning the method adopted by auditors in auditing accounts of such business, not only of ordinary firms that are not companies, but also of limited and liability companies, and on the nature of the certificates which must be given.

Mr. W. A. Davy, of Messrs. Craig, Gardner and Son, was examined regarding the profit and loss account and the trading account of a trader engaged in the victualling business in the city. The gross profit for the year ended 31st March, 1925, in this case was 13.88 per cent. on the total sales and the net profit on sales was 2.4 per cent. The rate of gross profit for the year ended 31st March, 1924, was 15.22 per cent. and the net profit was 4.5.

Chairman—That is, the net profit nearly doubled although the gross profit only went up one-sixth?—That is because the expenses do not bear the same ratio. Expenses are more or less stable in a business of this kind.

So that if it were carried on on a larger scale you would probably make a larger net profit?—Yes.

Mr. Burns, of Messrs. Burns, Griffin and Co., agreed substantially with the previous witness.

A RATHMINES SHOP.

Mr. Meehan, who carries on a victualling business at Rathmines terrace, was then examined. He stated that he had been trading for 16 years and carried on a mixed trade. Producing tables of his trading in a week in October, 1925, and a week in May, 1926, he said that in the week ending 31st October, 1925, he purchased five cattle for £107 4s. 0d., the dead weight cost being 9¼d. per lb. The purchase price of mutton in the same period was 1s. 1d. per lb, dead weight. In the week ending 1st May, 1926, he purchased 4 cattle, the dead weight working out at 11¼d. per lb., sheep, for the same period being 1s. 1d. per lb., dead weight. The average retail prices for these weeks were represented by:—Ribs, 1s. 2d. to 1s. 6d.; sirloin, 1s. 6d. to 1s. 8d.; sirloin steak, 1s. 8d.; round steak, 1s. 4d.; rib, 1s. to 1s. 2d.; brisket (fresh), 1s.; corned, 9d. to 10d.

The price of beef, live weight, in May, 1926, was 59s. per cwt., as against 47s. in October, 1925. This was the dearest and scarcest time of the year, said the witness.

Chairman—Is there any sort of practice in your business as to altering your prices in accordance with the alteration in the price of live weight?

The witness replied that there was. He said that in October of last year the live weight price of cattle was 47s. per cwt. If they thought that the 59s. per cwt. was going to last, they would be justified in raising the price a penny a pound, but in May they could not raise the price of coarse meat—only of fine meat.

Chairman—Therefore, it would be the richer customer who would have his price increased?—Well, yes. As the hot weather comes along it becomes difficult to sell the coarser parts.

What difference in the price of live weight which is going to last some little time would justify you in raising it?—The difference in these two prices would justify it.

Twelve shillings?—Yes.

And, I suppose, like other businesses, you would keep it up till prices came down?—Yes.

How long would it be before you lowered it?—It would not drop from 59s. to 47s. It would take some time. If we saw meat coming down gradually and thought that it might come down to 52s. and further we would be justified, and would reduce it.

PRICES OF MUTTON.

Taking the price of mutton, the Chairman observed that prices in May of this year were lower for sheep than in the previous October. He asked were the sheep better or worse.

Witness—They were about the same price then. It dropped about 1½d.

The Chairman said that what occurred to him was that the difference of 1½d. in the dead weight was not represented by a reduction in retail prices. What struck him in regard to the retail prices of beef, without having some explanation, was that the fall in prices between May, 1926, and the present time was hardly represented in the lowered retail prices.

The witness said that the fall in the price of cattle had been gradual from 59s., and it began, roughly, about the middle or end of June.

Chairman—It has been practically a steady fall from June?—Yes, around 54s.

Has it not been steady enough since June to warrant you reducing the retail prices?—Well, as I have told you, we have, in cases, reduced prices. Our trade is a very difficult trade. The weather has a good deal to do with it. A good deal of the time we have to sell at prices that do not represent fair prices.

The Chairman, referring to particulars before him, said that a beast weighing 4 cwt. 3 qrs. and 14lbs. had cost £21 dead weight. The dead weight price to the purchaser worked out at 9¼d., and he got for the offal £2 3s. 7d., which was 9.5 of a penny. A sheep weighing 78 lbs. cost the purchaser £3 11s. 0d., and the offal worked out at 11s. 3d., the purchaser, therefore, getting practically 1d. per lb. more than the retail price for each lb. dead weight, when he took the offal into account.

SMALLER JOINTS.

The witness agreed that there had been some reduction in the cost of living, but pointed out that wages had remained. He said that the minimum wage for a journeyman butcher was £4 a week. He employed a vanman at 50s. and messengers at from 25s. to 32s. 6d.

Answering Mr. McAuliffe, he estimated the pre-war price of ribs of beef at 8d. to 9d. per lb.; sirloin, 10d.; rib steak, 6d. to 7d.; shoulder of beef, 5d. to 6d. Generally speaking, the price of meat had doubled since pre-war time.

Mr. McAuliffe—Is there any increase in the number of people in that business in your vicinity since the war?—Yes.

Is the increase out of proportion to the increase in the population of that district?—Yes; there are more shops and more employés.

How do you account for that?—Shorter hours; and the fact that meat has to be cut in smaller joints. The tendency now is that people buy these joints daily. People like to get meat every day.

How do you account for a bigger number of butchers setting up in your area?—During the war, when things were dearer, there was not the same tendency to open shops, but since then more people have come in—competitors and customers. The population in our district has increased.

Chairman—Your own sales have not increased?—We might serve more customers, but not more weight.

EVIDENCE FROM RATHGAR.

Mr. James O'Hanlon, victualler, 107 Rathgar road, was next examined. He said that he had been in business for upwards of twenty years, and his business was more or less with the better class people. In the week ending 31st October, 1925, he bought four cattle, the purchase price per lb. being 10½d. He had no record of what he was buying at that week, but it was obvious that he had bought by weight. It would not occur, perhaps, three or four times a year that he would buy by weight.

Chairman—For the week ending 1st May, 1926, you had two cattle which work out at 10¼d., so that that is practically the same as Mr. Meehan. I notice that your cost price per lb. dead weight is higher than Mr. Meehan's, but your retail prices are substantially lower. Curiously, your mutton prices are higher than Mr. Meehan's.

Referring to the present selling prices given by the witness, the Chairman said that those showed a pretty regular decrease on the prices in October, 1925. He asked the witness when he had lowered his prices.

The Witness replied that he had lowered his prices some few weeks or a month ago.

Chairman—Can you give us any idea of what reduction in the price in the live weight of cattle would enable you to give a reduction of even a halfpenny in the pound?—Of course, I do not buy live weight, as I explained.

It works out that way in the end?—It works out that way in the end.

How do you regulate it?—When I get it into the shop I calculate what it stands for in beef.

Do you alter your prices on dead weight?—On dead weight, of course.

Can you tell us what difference in price would enable you to give a reduction?—If I got a reduction of a penny on my animal, that would allow me to reduce it a penny. Sometimes we have to sell at a reduction to entice people to buy.

Can you give us any idea of how soon after there has been a reduction of a penny in the pound dead weight you give it to the customer?—Well——

We substantially reduce things as the price of the animal comes down: we ease off in our prices.

Without having a definite reduction?—Without having a definite reduction.

The witness agreed with Mr. Meehan's evidence regarding expenses. There would be no business objection to a law compelling traders to sell meat by weight.

THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

Mr. W. F. Bowers, who carries on business at Clanbrassil street, said that his firm were wholesale merchants. They sold second-class cow beef and sheep and delivered in sides or bodies. During the week ended 4th November, 1925, he bought twelve cattle, the average dead weight cost being 6d. per lb. The highest price he got for these beasts was 7½d. per lb. The average would be about 6⅞d. What he got for offal averaged about 30s. It was the offal that paid them. They were lucky sometimes to get a farthing a pound profit on the meat.

Chairman—Are there many people in Dublin carrying on your particular trade?

The witness said that there was one other. He explained that he sold to butchers, who, in turn, sold the fine parts of the meat to other butchers, getting rid of the coarse part to poor people.

Chairman—Do you alter your prices to the retailer on any sort of principle?—Yes, according to the markets.

Does your price vary each market?—Oh, yes; it jumps, and these gentlemen know.

You are dealing with experts, not with the ordinary customer. (Laughter.)

The Commission adjourned until 11 o'clock this morning.

The Blackwell Colliery Company announces that between eleven and twelve hundred of its men have returned to work, of whom seven hundred are coalface men.

THE BATTLE OF STONEWOLD.

WESTERN COMMAND MANŒUVRES.

FROM OUR SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE.

BUNDORAN, Tuesday.

When fighting in the battle of Stonewold, on the river Erne, adjacent to the Northern border, had ceased last night, the Blue Army, represented by an infantry battalion and two armoured cars, had retired before the advancing Reds to Lareen House, on the northern shore of Lough Melvin, and here an unsuccessful counter-attack was delivered against the Red forces.

To-day the Blue Commander retrieved his almost decisive defeat of yesterday by holding up along the entire front powerful Red forces, with their objective as Stonewold, and when the "cease fire" was sounded the bulk of the Red troops were still at Drumnagroage, about a mile south of Stonewold.

PROGRESS IN FIELD TRAINING.

To-day and yesterday the object of the operations which are being carried out by units of the Western Command in the difficult ground immediately south of the road from Belleek to Ballyshannon was chiefly to test the progress made by non-commissioned officers and men in field training. The work of the first two days—the operations will not conclude until Thursday evening—indicates an immense improvement, especially in the art of taking cover. Sometimes, indeed, it was difficult on this account to locate the position of the troops of both forces even at a comparatively short range, a fact which shows that the necessity for utilising to the best advantage every inch of cover from view as well as cover from fire is being appreciated. One felt that it was a pity that the device invented by Commandant Stapleton and Lieutenant Doyle for firing blank cartridges from machine-guns was not used. The use of rattles to indicate machine-gun fire created an atmosphere of unreality.

This morning the Blue Army commander issued an operation order stating that the situation on the Western seaboard permitted him to detach a large force to operate against the Red enemy and compel him to retire from Lareen House. Troops from Sligo, the order stated, would effect a landing at Ballyshannon and prevent the Reds from retiring to the north of the Erne via the pontoon bridge at Stonewold.

RED FORCE OUTWITTED.

The Red force General Officer Commanding ordered a retreat via the pontoon bridge, having heard of the arrival of the heavy Blue reinforcements during the early morning. The chief business of both forces was to secure contact with each other, an object which was attained about noon, but it was not until after 2 o'clock that firing actually began.

The skilful disposition of his forces by the Blue commander, Commandant Hyde, was, however, too tough a task for the Red troops, who, it should be mentioned, came all the way from Castlebar for the exercises. At the hour when the Reds should have been at the bridgehead at Stonewold they were still about a mile south of their objective. It was thus that the Blues retrieved their failure of yesterday, when early in the operations almost an entire battalion was annihilated.

HUMOURS OF THE FIGHT.

Several humorous incidents which occurred to-day demonstrated the keen interest that is taken by these young soldiers in the operations. I came across three Blue prisoners who had been brought into the Red lines. They were making a lunch of ripe blackberries from the bushes which abound in the district, and I suggested this was a more pleasant occupation than fighting over heavy country, but the men appeared to resent the suggestion. One of them replied, "We wouldn't mind if we had been captured because of our own fault, sir. We were winning, and somebody else got us put out of action."

When three Blue cyclists ran into each other and fell in a struggling heap on the roadway, one in particular was blamed for the collision. "Can you drive a bike?" said one of his companions, sarcastically; while another somewhat unkindly remarked, "Call yourself a cyclist! You ought to go sick when we reach headquarters."

REDS' BAD DAY.

On the whole, it was a bad day for the Reds. Not only did they fail to gain Stonewold, but they lost an armoured Lancia car, which ran into a ditch and was put out of action for the rest of the manœuvres.

Another Blue armoured car was put out of action through running over a mined road.

CORK'S TENEMENT DWELLERS

ONE-NINTH OF THE POPULATION.

CITY COMMISSIONER'S PROPOSAL.

Mr. P. Monahan, Commissioner for Cork Borough, announced at a meeting of the Cork Rotary Club yesterday that he proposed to raise a loan of £100,000 Corporation Stock, to be expended on the building of 200 new houses in the city.

He criticised the attitude of Labour, and also the combination of the employers, and said that the only remedy for the housing question was to bring down the cost of construction, either by reducing labour costs or the cost of material by the introduction of alternative materials.

HOUSING SCANDAL.

THOUSANDS IN TENEMENTS.

Mr. John Horgan, solicitor, president of the club, gave an address on "Cork—An Examination of Conscience." His remarks were based on the civic survey which was recently published. Mr. Horgan indicated some of the problems revealed by the survey. First, there was the crying scandal of the housing situation. In Cork one-ninth of the total population lived in tenements, averaging per house 12.06 persons, and 18,645 persons lived under unsatisfactory and insanitary conditions. To rectify that shocking and rotten condition of affairs meant the provision of 45,000 new houses and the reconditioning of many tenements. It involved the dispossessing and rehousing upon new sites of 16,000 people, or one-fifth of the population. Liverpool took thirty years to accomplish a similar task, so that it was not easy, but it was the greatest need in Cork.

The death rate was highest in the districts in which the housing was worst.

The problem of what the future civic government of Cork should be was a question to be settled by Act of Parliament. He believed that the solution was to be found in a combination of what was best in the old with what was best in the new system. The citizens should have absolute control of all legislation as regards taxes, by-laws and loans to be promoted, while outside that executive power should be vested in a Commissioner. He suggested that the headquarters of civic activities should be in the Grand Parade, where the new City Hall should be built, and where a very fine free library was about to be erected.

CITY COMMISSIONER'S VIEWS.

Mr. Monahan, the City Commissioner, said that he agreed that the Grand Parade would be an ideal centre, and intimated that he had evidence that there would be no difficulty in securing the necessary site.

Proceeding, he said that many casual critics of public administration said that the housing problem would solve itself if long term loans were made available. Unfortunately that was not the case, because houses constructed in Cork, for example, on the Wycherley site cost roughly £750 to build. Had it been possible to get a loan for seventy years at 3½ per cent. the rent would be about 12s. per week, which was regarded as very high. If it was desirable that housing should be available, the cost of building should be reduced by some means or other. The provision of long term loans would not solve it. The only remedy was to bring down the cost of material, or of labour costs.

The cost of materials should be tackled by the provision of alternative materials to ordinary brick-building. Unfortunately, as they had seen from a recent controversy in England, there was a tendency on the part of Labour bodies to insist that they must pay the same rate of wages as on the present houses. That view was unsound. It meant, if labour persisted in it, that there would be no solution in any reasonable time for the housing problem. Houses of concrete or of steel would help very much to solve the problem if local authorities were not subjected to irksome restrictions by trade bodies. Until labour could face that fact, he really thought that there was no possibility of reducing the cost of building.

PLASTERERS AND ROAD-MAKING.

He was perfectly convinced from an examination of the facts, that there was no solution of the housing question unless they got reduction of labour costs, or, alternatively, introduced other materials than brick and mortar, and would not be compelled to pay a rate of wages that was not justified. A particular case came before him that morning. They were making a concrete road at Anderson's quay, and at the power house he received a demand from the Plasterers' Society, who said that they must employ a plasterer on the job. He had no intention of submitting to the threat. If all labour in the city was to be withdrawn, it could be withdrawn, but he would not put any extra cost on the making of the road. (Hear, hear.)

On the other hand, there was the further difficulty that employers in the building trade had attempted to form a combination to prevent anyone from taking a tender from firms who were not members of their Federation. That was a form of tyranny to which they would not submit. The solution of the housing problem was there for the employers and the employed who wished to be reasonable and treat the community fairly. It was a question of giving a reasonable chance of living to thousands who are compelled to live in the most unfortunate circumstances.

THE ISSUE OF STOCK.

The main question was the finding of capital. He proposed after the present scheme of 150 houses was completed to proceed with a further scheme for 200 more houses, and to finance it by the issue of Corporation Stock to the extent of £100,000 in the next couple of months. There should be a ready response to that proposal. If people had faith in the future, he had no doubt that within the short space of ten years all the problems that Mr. Horgan had outlined would be solved, and satisfactorily solved.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Horgan for his address was proposed by Mr. J. C. Foley, who announced that it was proposed to hand over the civic survey, which had been completed at considerable cost by the citizens, to Commissioner Monahan, as representing the citizens, so that a town plan of the city would be prepared. It was the intention, he thought, to go further and to get legislation which would enable the city authorities in Dublin and Cork to have compulsory powers for sale, which would be necessary for such purposes as the widening of streets.

LIMERICK POWER STATION.

SUPPLEMENTAL SUPPLY FROM ARDNACRUSHA.

At a meeting of the Limerick Electric Lighting Committee, the Borough Electrical Engineer submitted a report on a conference which took place between the Harbour Board and the Corporation relative to securing way leave over harbour property for the erection of high tension electric transmission cables to carry a supplemental supply of current to the power station in the city from Ardnacrusha.

A suggestion that the height of the steel lattice work towers should be seventy feet above high water mark did not meet with the approval of the Harbour Board, who were of opinion that the altitude should be one hundred feet, so as not to interfere with navigation. Dr. Sothman, who was present at the conference, said that the Harbour Board should not go in for "fancy heights," and pointed out that the cost of these transmission cables would fall on the consumers of current.

The conference came to an agreement on all matters, but the Corporation expressed disapproval at the action of the Harbour Board in holding out for an altitude of one hundred feet, as towers of that height would have to be specially manufactured.

NOTICE TO COUNTRY STUDENTS.
124 Successes by means of Postal Tuition were obtained since January, 1925, by Students of SKERRY'S COLLEGE, 76 St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, at Bank, Railway, Civil Service, etc., exams.—(Advt.)

DUBLIN AND THE PROVINCES.

DUBLIN.

Ex-D.M.P. Man's Sudden Death.—Mr. William Montgomery (64), 2 Lower Beechwood avenue, Ranelagh, an ex-member of the D.M.P., died suddenly in Rathmines yesterday. The body was taken to the Meath Hospital, where an inquest will be held to-day.

Council of Justice to Animals.—Miss Violet Wood, secretary of the Council of Justice to Animals, 42 Old Bond street, London, is to visit Dublin this week. The chief objects of this Society are the promotion of the humane slaughtering of animals, and the painless killing of horses, dogs, cats, etc., as well as the general welfare of animals.

PASSENGERS BY B. AND I. LINE, VIA LIVERPOOL.

ARRIVALS—T. O'Loughlin, T. McKeever, G. Newell, R. Salisbury, R. Fidler, E. Tinsley, G. Porter, the Rev. W. Heffernan, T. Bathurst, J. N. Johnston, A. E. Boyd, T. Bagnall.

DEPARTURES—The Hon. Mrs. Bramwell, J. Barbour, F. Gordon, T. Murphy, M. H. Clarke, H. Bewley, J. Gahan, M. Byrne, T. Devine, R. Goodman.

LEINSTER.

Price of Pigs.—At Callan Pig Market yesterday, 96s. per cwt. was the highest price obtained for best bacon pigs.

Fianna Fail in the Midlands.—Twenty-seven delegates, representing eight areas, including Athlone, Moate, and Ballymore, attended a Fianna Fail conference, when a Comhairle Ceanntair for South Westmeath was formed.

Girl Charged with Forgery.—At a special court at Kill (Co. Kildare), a young girl, Annie Broughall, of Tuckmill, Milltown, Straffan, was remanded in custody on a charge of forgery.

Dangerous Driving. — Michael Hamill, Ferbane, King's County, was fined £2 by District Justice Kenny for driving a motor car at an excessive speed, as a result of which he collided with and damaged the motor car of Miss Smith, Portlick, Co. Westmeath.

Town Tenants' Cause.—Mr. D. Morrissey, T.D., spoke at a meeting held in Templemore on last Monday for the purpose of establishing a branch of the Town Tenants' Organisation. He criticised the recent legislation in the Dail, which, he said, was detrimental to the interests of town tenants. Soon, he feared, the tenants would be at the mercy of the landlord. He advocated a strong organisation throughout the country.

The Absent Doctor.—At the meeting of the Kilkenny County Board of Health held at Thomastown yesterday, Mr. J. Gibbons, Chairman, referring to the absence of Dr. P. Heffernan, tuberculosis medical officer, from the meeting, stated that, in future, the Board would refuse to deal with the tuberculosis section of the business if Dr. Heffernan absented himself without a reasonable explanation.

Neglected Cemeteries.—The following have been appointed a committee to look after the Rathdowney and Ballybuggy cemeteries, both of which have been neglected for years:—The Very Rev Canon Brennan, D.D., P.P.; the Rev. Canon Greene, M.A.; Messrs. P. P. Daly, County Councillor; J. Daly, R. R. Mitchell, Thomas White and D. Quigley. Regarding the new cemetery at Rathdowney the engineer estimated the cost of necessary improvements at £90.

Food and Drugs Inspectors. — Guard Nicholas Carroll, Thomastown, has been appointed Inspector of Food and Drugs for the District Court area. Guard E. P. Flynn, The Rower, Inistioge, has been appointed to a similar position for the Co. Kilkenny portion of the New Ross District Court area; Guard Michael Fleming, Kilmacow, for the Co. Kilkenny portion of the Waterford District Court area, and Sergeant William Kelly, Graiguenamanagh, for the latter district.

MUNSTER.

Treatment of Tuberculosis.—The Local Government Department has approved of the Skibbereen County Hospital, and the district hospitals at Dunmanway, Bantry and Castletownbere for the reception and treatment of cases of tuberculosis arising in West Cork, in pursuance of the provisions of the National Health Insurance Act of 1911.

Charge Against Traveller.—At Roscrea District Court on last Monday, a commercial traveller, James Delaney, was returned for trial in custody to Nenagh Circuit Court, on a charge of obtaining £2 18s. 4d. from Mr. Thomas Maher, Roscrea, by means of a forged cheque.

CONNAUGHT.

Sligo Water Supply Scheme.—A sworn inquiry was held in Sligo yesterday by Mr. Ryan, Engineering Inspector of the Department, into the application of the Corporation for a loan of over £9,000 for the purpose of extending the water and sewerage facilities to the south and west area of the borough, in conjunction with the building scheme. Evidence was given by residents of the urgency of the scheme, and by the Mayor, who stated that in recent years the Corporation loan had been greatly reduced. The Inspector said that the result of the inquiry would be made known later.

False Pretences Charge.—Arrested in Leeds, John Rochford, Castlerea, who was charged at the District Court with obtaining from Mr. Peter Rooney £3 by false pretences, and converting to his own use goods to the value of £2 2s., pleaded guilty. He contracted an unhappy marriage, it was stated on his behalf, and took to drink. Canon Forde, Rector, gave him a good character, and the accused man was bound to the peace in £20 and two sureties of £10, on giving an undertaking to make good the £5 2s. to Mr. Rooney. Rochford is an ex-British soldier, with a pension, which, the Justice was informed, would be stopped if the defendant were imprisoned.

Sued for Maintenance of Wife.—Richard Waldron, farmer, Grange, Ballinlough, who was sued by his brother-in-law to recover £21 for his (Waldron's) wife's maintenance, was decreed in the full amount at Castlerea District Court. Mrs. Julia Waldron, sister of the plaintiff (Peter Rogers) said that she brought her husband £230 at their marriage. She left him four years later because he beat her. She returned to America, but seven years afterwards came back to him, bringing another £370. All that money was now spent; and her husband refused to support her or her son. The husband admitted striking his wife once. He said that it was he had the money at their marriage. He denied getting a penny from her. The Justice said that he believed that the loan of £21 that the wife got from her brother was for her maintenance, and, therefore, gave a decree.

ULSTER.

Malicious Injury Claims.—Mr. Roche, K.C., will hold a sitting at Lifford, commencing on October 1st, for the purpose of dealing with claims under the Damage to Property (Compensation) Act.

Hay Burned.—News reached Strabane yesterday of the burning of two stacks of hay, the property of a farmer, Philip Martin, of Mullefin, Convoy, Donegal.

Presentation to Bank Manager.—Recently a pleasant function took place at Rathmullen, Co. Donegal, when a small deputation from Ramelton presented Mr. M. T. Coulter (late manager of the Northern Bank, Ramelton) with a valuable 4-valve cabinet listening-in set, and Mrs. Coulter with a handsome gold bracelet watch. Mr. M. T. Coulter, who recently retired from Northern Bank, after forty years' service, is now residing at Rathmullen.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

Cruelty to Fowl.—Five Armagh and Dungannon poultry dealers, who were summoned at Dungannon Petty Sessions for cruelty to fowl, were allowed off on paying costs, and warned against future cruelty.

Price of Grass Seed.—Over 1,000 bags of grass seed were scated in Dungannon market yesterday. Perennial seed fetched 29s. to 30s. per cwt., while mixed seed and Italian realised from 18s. per cwt., downwards.

Farmer's Fatal Injuries.—Hugh McFarland, farmer, Broughderg, Cookstown, who was severely injured when his horse bolted, died in Dungannon Hospital yesterday.

Turf in Demand.—The coal supply in Dungannon is exhausted, and over thirty loads of turf yesterday readily sold at from 10s. 6d. to 13s. per load. Messrs. Hale Martin's spinning mill boilers are kept going for the past week by turf fuel.

Dole Fraud.—Robert Carroll, Gortgonis, a tenter, employed in Coalisland Weaving Factory, was fined 20s. and 20s. costs in each of two cases for making false representations for the purpose of obtaining unemployment benefit.

Workhouse Master's Gun.—At Enniskillen Board of Guardians yesterday, relative to the application of the Board for permission for the use of a gun by the workhouse master, the Ministry of Home Affairs wrote stating that the Ministry did not view with favour the proposal to use firearms near the workhouse hospital, and, therefore, they were unable to sanction the request of the Guardians.

THE FIGHTING IN CHINA.

in Canton, the House was aware that for over a year past an agitation had been on foot directed exclusively to the destruction of British trade. The attacks by the boycott organisation on British traders became so intensified as to compel His Majesty's Government to adopt measures to resist such acts of piracy, and orders were accordingly sent to the Commander-in-Chief, China Station, to take steps to seize and disable all boycott control boats and to remove all pickets from British wharves.

Operations to this end were taken on September 4th, but at the first sign of naval activity all boycott patrol boats fled, so there was no necessity to effect seizures, nor did His Majesty's ships fire a shot.

These steps evoked a prompt response from the Cantonese Government, who arranged with His Majesty's Consul-General that Chinese police should patrol the river and guard the wharves, and accordingly the naval activity was suspended. This arrangement has been scrupulously observed by the Cantonese Government, and no further incident has occurred. On September 18th the Cantonese Government informed His Majesty's Consul-General that they had made arrangements to end the boycott of Hong-Kong, at the latest, by October 10th, and that they proposed to levy certain taxes on imports and exports for the purpose, it was understood, of liquidating the strike organisation.

A notification to this effect was published in the Canton Gazette on September 24th, and at the same time the strike pickets guarding the approaches to Shameen were removed. In the meantime British steamers have been plying to Canton without obstruction, and have secured passengers and full deck cargoes.

CENTRAL CHINA.

As regards Central China, the Cantonese forces have captured Hankow and Hanyang, although Wuchang, the capital of Hupeh, continued to hold out against them. Some fear was felt lest their advent on the Yangtse might lead to a spread of the boycott to that area, but he was glad to say that, although there had been a certain amount of agitation, there had been no interference with British trade and industry at Hankow.

The extension of the war zone to the Yangtse Valley led to a certain amount of firing on British and other steamers. Representations were made to the Cantonese Government, and attacks of this nature now appeared practically to have ceased. Anti-British agitation broke out in the latter half of this month at Changking, and considerable depredations on British property were committed. It became necessary to evacuate all British women and children. The latest reports, however, indicated a slight improvement in conditions there, and it was hoped that with the return of the second captured ship a further improvement would shortly take place.

THE FISCAL CONDITIONS.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald asked the Prime Minister whether the Government had taken notice of the fiscal conditions attached to the removal of the boycott by the Cantonese Government.

Mr. Baldwin replied that that was a matter which was engaging the attention of the Government at present.

Mr. MacQuisten—How much of the agitation and boycotting in China is due to Soviet Russia? (Laughter.)

There was no reply.

THE ANTI-BRITISH CAMPAIGN.

MOB THREATENS WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
SHANGHAI, Tuesday.

The wave of anti-British feeling is gathering force in Western China as a result of the Wanhsien incident on September 5th. The Szechuenese are broadcasting resolutions demanding that the whole of China shall unite against British Imperialism, that the Canton Government shall be authorised to conduct negotiations with the British instead of with the Peking Government, and that the various military factions should bury the hatchet for the purpose of uniting against British influence in China.

Seventy-six foreign residents, mostly British women and children, at Chungking, Szechuen province, were threatened by a mob of Chinese students, labourers and local armed militia last night, whilst being evacuated on boats to Ichang, Hankow and Shanghai, and for some time were in danger of their lives. The mob had been excited by anti-foreign demonstrations. They made ugly rushes towards the foreign party, threatening to throw several into the river. The British Consul at Changking was engaged elsewhere at the moment when the mob started their attack, but the American Consul, Mr. Walter Adams, intervened successfully, and was able to get the party away without loss of life.

FOREIGN MINISTER'S STATEMENT.

PEKING, Tuesday.

According to a Peking message, Admiral Tsai Ting-Kon, the Foreign Minister, declared, in an interview, that it was desirable that negotiations arising out of the Wanhsien incident should be conducted locally between the Chinese Commissioner of Foreign Affairs and the British Consul at Ichang.

As regards the imposition of surtaxes by the Canton Government, if the proposed taxation were put into force without the Premier's approval the Canton Government would naturally be held responsible for the consequences. The Foreign Minister feared that such a move might possibly affect the other provinces, particularly Fengtien and Chekiang.—(Reuter.)

SITUATION AT HANKOW.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.
SHANGHAI, Tuesday.

The situation at Hankow has not changed, but there are indications of approaching activities further downstream, where Sun Chuan-Fang is in a strong position in Northern Kiangsi. He prefers to keep his Army intact, and awaits the Cantonese on ground of his own choosing, instead of adventuring in the mountainous regions of Western Kiangsi.

According to reasonably trustworthy reports, the Northerners are coming down to Yangtse from Ichang, and the Cantonese are withdrawing down the Peking-Hankow Railway from Kwangshan, 80 miles north of Hankow. Such withdrawal would appear to be due to nervousness in regard to their position.—(Per Press Association. Copyright.)

MUSSOLINI AND CHINA.

ROME, Tuesday.

It is announced here that the report published in a foreign newspaper stating that Signor Mussolini would be favourable to a policy of intervention in China is absolutely incorrect.—(Reuter.)

BELFAST GROCERS' EXHIBITION.

OPENED BY LORD MAYOR.

The Lord Mayor of Belfast yesterday afternoon declared open the Grocers' Exhibition, which is being held in the Ulster Hall. It will remain open until October 9th. There was a very large attendance.

The Lord Mayor said that an exhibition of this sort was a great help in enabling the people to realise something of what was being done to ensure a pure and healthful supply of foodstuffs. The grocery trade was making great advances in the handling of the necessities of life, and one had only to look around to realise that year by year more commodities were being prepared in up-to-date factories, under the most hygienic conditions, and put up in most attractive packages ready for consumption. That in itself was a great advance, and the food reached the consumer with the minimum of handling and in the best possible condition. It also acted as a guarantee against adulteration.

HANDBALL.

THE GAME IN MUNSTER.

Munster clubs are making good use of the fine weather to get through their engagements, as the following results show. Details:—

Limerick County Championships, at Limerick City Court—Senior Soft-ball Singles (Purcell Cup)—Final—E. J. Bourke beat J. P. Kirby, 21-6, 21-17. Junior Hard-ball Singles—D. Kelly (Ballingarry) beat T. Meaney (Limerick), 21-6, 21-14, 21-10. Junior Hard-ball Doubles—J. Connors and J. Ryan (Bruff) beat B. Tansley and R. O'Brien (Rathkeale), 12-21, 21-15, 21-20, 21-5.

At Bruff—Senior Hard-ball League (Div. II.)—J. Carroll beat D. Conway, 21-16, 21-20, 21-15. Junior Soft-ball Doubles—Semi-final—P. Long and J. Butler (Ballyneety) beat W. Gleeson and T. Shinney (Fedamore), 21-8, 21-14, 7-21, 21-5.

U.S. MARKETS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

Stocks opened heavy, but buying of high-grade Industrials turned the market upward after early irregularity. The bears, taking advantage of stiff call money rates and heavy calling of brokers' loans, endeavoured to unsettle the general list, but made little headway, and rushed to cover when large buying orders appeared for U.S. Steel Common, American Smelting, General Motors and Dupont. U.S. Steel Common crossed 150, and General Motors reached a new high "record" at 161⅞. Dupont gained 10 points and American Smelting 5, the latter on reports that the directors of the company may declare an increased or extra dividend at the next meeting. Unusually favourable August earnings stimulated a demand for some Railroads, while other Rails and Equipment issues receded under bear selling and realising. The market closed irregular. Government Bonds irregular; Railroad Bonds irregular. The day's sales totalled 1,370,000 shares.

Money on call closed firm at 5½ per cent. bid and 5½ per cent. asked. All business was transacted at 5½ per cent. Sterling exchange steady. Silver ⅛c. higher at 58¼c.

According to Bradstreet's statement, the visible supply of wheat increased 9,110,000 bushels on the week, and the visible supply of corn east of the Rockies decreased 38,000 bushels on the week.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Tuesday.

WHEAT opened firm, 1⅛c. to 1⅛c. higher. The market ruled firm owing to an unexpected advance at Liverpool and buying by Eastern operators and shorts due to reports of a fair export demand, the firmness of cash premiums, and predictions of unsettled weather in the North-West of America and Canada. Then realising brought partial reactions. The close was steady at ⅛c. to ⅛c. gain. Spot firm.

AN OLD DUBLIN STREET.

QUAINT FOLK WHO LIVED IN SKINNER'S ROW.

SKETCHES OF EARLY PUBLISHERS.

Skinner's row is not a high-sounding name for a neighbourhood, but the street which once bore it and stood in what is now Christ Church place was a very important locality in its day and housed a great deal of wealth and consequence in the way of business. It was not an imposing-looking street, being only about seventeen feet in breadth, and even that space was curtailed by projecting shop fronts and cellars, leaving only a space of about twelve feet for vehicles. It was the main thoroughfare from the eastern side of the city, leading to the Law Courts, which made it a busy and crowded spot, especially during Term time. The beginning of its decline in prosperity came at the time of the removal of the Sessions to Green street; then the opening of the new Law Courts, and the transfer of the Cornmarket put the finishing touch to its palmy days.

In 1821 the city authorities, in the carrying out of certain alterations, caused the whole of the north side of Skinner's row, as well as the buildings known as Christ Church Yard, to be swept away. Among the about-to-be indispensable services represented there in the early days, bookselling and printing were well to the fore.

DICK'S COFFEE-HOUSE.

Near the end of the reign of Charles II. a portion of a great house in the row, which had originally been the property of the Butler family, was converted into a coffee-house by Richard Pue, a printer, and became known as "Dick's Coffee-house," and rapidly grew to be one of the most popular establishments of its kind in Dublin. Several rooms in the building were let to booksellers for auctions, and were so sought after for this purpose that trouble arose between two claimants to one room. Serious controversy arose in the matter, the details of which were afterwards printed and published under the title of "The Dublin Scuffle." The little pamphlet contained, in addition to the rights of the squabble—from the point of view of one of the combatants—a wandering eulogy on the good qualities of the proprietor of the coffee-house and of his wife.

In this coffee-house Pue started publication in the year 1700 of one of the first Dublin newspapers. It was known as Pue's Occurrences. Originally it was a Tory paper, and was issued in quarto, and later it grew to large folio size. After the death, in 1758, of its first publisher, it was "run" by his nephew, James Pue; then by Sarah Pue, and, after passing through many hands, its career terminated in 1792.

NOT THE FIRST.

Although Pue's Occurrences was stated by many to have been the first Dublin newspaper, this was was not the case. It had a predecessor. In 1685 a bookseller named Robert Thornton, who was the first holder of the office of King's Stationer, issued The Dublin News Letter. This paper carried the statement that it was "printed by Joseph Ray, in College Green, for Robert Thornton, at the Leather Bottle in Skinner's row." It appeared as a single leaf of small folio size, printed on both sides, and was written in the form of a letter, beginning with the word "Sir."

Old records say that Richard Thornton was "a very obliging person, having sense enough for a Privy Councillor, and good nature enough for a primitive Christian." Joseph Ray, the printer, is also the subject of a diverting little sketch. Slender in body, we are told, head rather big than small, his face thin and of moderate size, a smooth tongue, a voice neither deep nor shrill; his countenance ever intermixed with joy and sadness, a courteous man in his shop—a difficult person to size up from all this welter of interesting detail.

Publishers seem to have come in for a good deal of critical comment in those days. Durton, one of the participants in "The Dublin Scuffle," describes another of the publishers in Skinner's row as "perfect innocence, yet a man of letters; he knows no harm, therefore, commits none; he is what we might truly call a religious printer."

COTTON TRADE CRISIS.

DRASTIC ACTION IN LANCASHIRE.

With the object of securing uniform action in the present crisis in the cotton trade, a meeting of the American yarns section yesterday afternoon at Manchester considered a proposal that production should be further curtailed from 50 to 66⅔ per cent., making the working hours only sixteen weekly.

A circular from the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Associations convening the meeting said that the basic selling price did not legislate for the enormous increase on yarns production costs resulting from the increased cost of coal.

The proceedings were private.

Mr. Frederick Mills, who presided, said that the enhanced price of coal and oil entailed an average increase of a halfpenny per pound on yarns. Inferior coal was costing two or three hundred per cent. above predispute rates. The recent fall in the price of raw cotton had not brought any increased demand, and the need for husbanding the already impoverished capital of Lancashire was as urgent as it had been at any time during the past five years. He personally thought that the best course for the trade would be a complete "shut down" until the coal dispute was over.

By an overwhelming majority the meeting adopted a recommendation to close the mills two weeks out of every three, commencing October 4.

The Lord Chancellor of England has appointed Mr. William Frank de Roland Davies to be Judge of County Courts, on Circuit thirty-one, Carmarthenshire, in place of His Honour Judge Lloyd Morgan, who has resigned.

LABOURERS' COTTAGES.

STRABANE BUILDING SCHEME ADJOURNED.

When the Strabane Rural District Council met to consider almost 200 representations from labourers for the erection of new cottages, it was suggested by a member—Mr. M'Crea—that the condition of affairs in the country was such that contractors would add at least £100 to each house to ensure against loss.

The Chairman (Mr. William Rankin, J.P.) strongly advised the Council to adjourn the scheme until the new Council was elected, in eight months' time, and urged that the time was inopportune to embark on a scheme for erecting cottages, more especially as the Council were obliged to face a heavy repair scheme in respect of existing cottages.

Several members spoke in favour of the Chairman's suggestion, while Mr. Mills and Mr. O'Doherty urged that a building scheme be undertaken, and alleged that many labourers had mere hovels to live in.

After an animated debate, the proposal to adjourn the scheme was carried by a large majority.

The Clerk intimated that the Council's treasurer, the Belfast Banking Company, were prepared to grant the Council a loan of £5,000, repayable in ten years, at 6 per cent., or ½ per cent. below the current bank rate, for the purpose of carrying out repairs to labourers' cottages. The average repayment of principal and interest would amount to £665, and the Council had increased the rents by £474, leaving about £190 to be placed on the rates.

On the motion of the Chairman, it was decided to accept the loan and proceed with the repair scheme.

THE THIRD ORDER OF ST. FRANCIS.

PILGRIMAGE TO ASSISI AND ROME.

Upwards of 130 members of the Third Order of St. Francis left Westland Row Station, Dublin, last night, on a Pilgrimage to Assisi and Rome. The Pilgrims were under the directorship of the Rev. Rev. Father Aloysius, and were seen off by the Very Rev. Father Mark, representing the Father Provincial, and the Rev. Father Edward, Guardian of Church street.

The party will pass through London and Paris, and stay overnight in Florence, arriving at Assisi on October 2nd. At Assisi the pilgrims will take part in the Franciscan celebrations on October 3 and 4, and will then continue their journey to Rome, where a stop will be made for three nights.

The return journey will occupy several days and the pilgrimage is not due back in Dublin until October 14th next.

A large crowd assembled at the station last night to give a send-off to the party, and just before the train was due to start the hymn to St. Francis was sung.

PILGRIMS LEAVE LONDON.

A special train left Victoria, yesterday, taking 250 Pilgrims to Assisi, for the Feast of St. Francis, on October 4th. They were members of the Franciscan Order in England, and came from all parts of England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland. The men were in the majority in the party, which was organised by the Catholic Association. The party will be away for a fortnight, spending three days in Assisi. They will also visit Rome, Pisa and Florence, and other towns, and will be received by the Pope.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

DOUBLE INCOME TAX.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I do not think that either the British Government or that of the Irish Free State has the legal right to instruct the banks to deduct income tax when such has already been done. Why should the public suffer by the deprivation of part of their income, and also have the trouble of recovering it? After all, if British tax has been deducted from a dividend warrant payable to a resident in Southern Ireland, Free State income tax is not due by him, but by the British Revenue Department, and should be subject to an arrangement between the respective Governments. As matters now stand, the public is made a sort of scapegoat. I should like to know what the Attorney-General thinks about it.—Yours, etc.,

ST. AUDOEN'S BELL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—A notice in your issue of to-day's date has attracted my attention. You speak of the bell in St. Audöen's Church, dated 1423, as being the oldest in use in the British Isles, basing your information, doubtless, on the report of the visit of the Kildare Archæological Society last week. Though, as Rector of the Church, I would naturally like to believe this to be true, I fear I have never been able to verify it. I remember reading an article about three years ago, in which it was stated that this particular bell was "the oldest in use in Ireland, if not in these islands." This statement is in part supported by the late Judge Cherry, a leading authority on bell-ringing, who, in a letter now in my possession, says—"There are very few pre-Reformation bells in Ireland, and I think this one is by far the oldest." This establishes its antiquity so far as Ireland is concerned, but I fancy that there must be not a few bells in England of an even earlier date. There are two other bells in the church tower which are probably of the same date, as the lettering is of the same type, but they have not been used for many years. This particular one has been calling people to worship for 503 years, and is still quite pure in tone.

I am gratified to know that the Kildare Archæological Society enjoyed their visit to St. Audöen's. Mr. Donovan is always ready to show visitors the many interesting antiquities associated with this church, on due notice being given to me.—Yours, etc.,

JOHN TOBIAS, Rector, St. Peter and St. Audöen.

MEMORIES OF A DOG.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—It is a far cry from August, 1882, when the Sherwood Foresters came from Chatham to Letterkenny (or was it Castlebar?). General Smith-Dorrien was with them then. There came with them, too, and on to the South an unknown English native, so winning and to become so dear and faithful that, when they lost him many years after, those that loved him could never seek to replace him.

He was a black and white terrier, but with little of the black, of a prize strain, and his name was Trot. Dogs differ in their character and disposition just as much as men do. Trot was of the gay and happy kind; but, strange to say, this loyal English subject, abiding in a "true-blue" Irish home, hated to see a policeman enter the gate. His hair would stand on end and he would charge as from a catapult upon the foe. Passing policemen on the road or outside their barrack—barracks is now beginning to be written; but barracks are for soldiers, a barrack for policemen—he was loftily unconscious of them.

Early in the morning you would hear his long-lasting barking down the lawn, and you would know that he had found his dear delight, a granyogue (gráineog). As he found when he tried to seize it, his prickly treasure was not much good to him; yet granyogues allured him to the end. On the heathery hilltop he would "go out of his skin" with joy; but best of all he loved the river. In what was once the millstream of the Cistercian monks' "boultin' mill"—Chaucer's word and pronunciation—where it joins its music to that of the river—sweetest of all sounds!—Trot would dive for stones hour after hour, dragging them out and placing them in a straight row, whining all the time. Thus he broke his splendid teeth. When at last he had "his 'nough" of it he would lie down in a nook behind a reader and sleep peacefully.

He would go wild about kittens and was always great friends with cats. A huge white cat, with "a back like a sheep," as a cat-lover used to say, would lie on the hearthrug between Trot's legs, whose side was the pillow, and contentedly roast. This cat, one day at family prayers, stept softly on to a kneeling friend's back, then on the table, and, sitting by the cream-jug, enjoyed its contents by pawfuls until he knew the last sentence was being read, when he stept back the same way to Trot's warm side. Other white cats were his good friends, too.

These wheeling days are dismal for dogs, who love a walk above all things. A laburnum was planted on Trot's grave. It grew to be a beautiful tree, its golden splendour seen against the blue sky and the many-hued clouds. Now it and all is gone.—Yours, etc.,

APPLE-GROWING IN IRELAND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I am rather late in referring to the subject of apple-growing in Ireland, which was mentioned in your paper a couple of weeks ago; but I thought that some of your readers might be interested in hearing what a friend of ours told us. In the "fall" of 1897 she was in the United States, and from Boston took train. She says: "After two or three hours in the train en route for the White Mountains, I got into a buggy and drove mile after mile on very wide roads, with grass on each side, and in the grass at intervals were apple trees loaded with fruit. The man who was driving told me that the State planted them for the benefit of the people, and that on a certain day it was published in all the papers that the apples were ready for gathering, and then the people went and took the quantity they needed."

If this were done in Ireland, even here and there, surely the boys would learn to respect the endeavour that the State was making both for their benefit and for the farmers, who might wish to try fruit-growing for market. Some of our roads would be too narrow, I suppose; but, perhaps, the trees could be planted near the hedgerows and in places where there was a little more space. I feel sure that many of the people of the neighbourhood would help such a scheme, both from self-interest and from kindness of heart.

The vision carries us a little further, to groups of trees in the parks of the cities, and some to take the place of some of the forest trees planted on the roads. The advantages would be great—benefit to farmers and to private growers, enjoyment and health to the youngsters, employment for some of the unemployed, and the beauty of country and cities a joy to all in spring.—Yours, etc.,

THE LATE MR. W. J. RYAN.

A resolution expressing their deep sense of loss at the death of Mr. W. J. Ryan, formerly editor of the Dublin Evening Telegraph, and conveying sympathy to his relatives, was adopted at a meeting of the Committee of the Dublin and Irish Association District of the Newspaper Press Fund, on the motion of the Chairman, Mr. W. "WIFE BURNT ALIVE."

TROUBLES OF MERSEY MAN CHARGED IN BELFAST.

"I was in terrible trouble. My wife was burnt alive," declared James Smith, alias W. R. Bell, alias J. Edmonson, stated to be a native of Liverpool, when, in the Belfast Custody Court yesterday, he was returned for trial in custody, charged with having, on the 29th June, 1925, by means of false pretences, obtained from James Martin £2 2s., and on other dates obtained, by the same means, various other sums of money, amounting in all to about £40, with intent to defraud.

Miss Nan McCoubrey, secretary of the Devonshire Laundry, Belfast, said that on the 29th June, 1925, a man called at the laundry and said that he was collecting the account for the Great Victoria street Presbyterian Church blotter and calendar. She gave him a cheque for £3 10s., and received a receipt signed "Robb." The prisoner resembled the man who called.

The Accused—I admit having collected the account.

Edward McGovern gave evidence of a man having called in 1925 for an advertisement to be inserted in the Ormeau Bowling Club fixture sheet. The witness gave the man an order, and on the 22nd June, 1925, another man called with the account, and the witness paid that man £2 2s. in cash.

The prisoner, in the witness box, said that he had got six months' imprisonment in Manchester, and thought at that time that the present charge had been taken into consideration.

SMALL FIELDS.

THE FAILURE OF L'AINE.

2,400 GUINEAS FOR IRISH-BRED FILLY.

From Our Travelling Correspondent.
NEWMARKET, Tuesday Night.

A dull, cool morning here for the opening of the First October Meeting gave place to a pleasant, sunny afternoon, and the conditions were entirely pleasant. The sales in the morning were, on the whole, good, one of the best prices being made by an Irish-bred animal by The Tetrarch or Tetratema out of Lady Earn, sent up by Mr. Dan Sullivan, and knocked down for 2,400 guineas to Felix Leach.

The racing throughout the afternoon was little patchy, and in some cases the fields very small. Two races between them yielded six runners, a circumstance that be put down largely to the very hard that still prevails here. Indeed, had it been for the rain yesterday the Rowley would have ridden almost as hard as a d. Grande Vitesse was not saddled for Buckenham Stakes, in which only Jennie ans, Totem Dance, and Avalanche ran. Jennie Deans made all the running and won a common canter by six lengths from Totem Dance. This winner is a steadily improving filly, whose dam, the Orby mare, Eleanor M., was sold some time ago by Mrs. Croker to Mrs. Whitburn, who bred Jennie Deans herself. She is a striking example of the success which is attending the mating of Orby mares with Buchan.

JOY RIDER'S EASY WIN.

The other race with three runners was the Triennial Produce Stakes, which Joy Rider won very easily, indeed, from Diagram and Son of Spring.

The reappearance in the Great Foal Stakes of Rosehearty, which had been looked forward to with some interest, was not attended with success. The colt looked well in himself, but he went so badly in the market as to suggest that his success was not expected with any confidence, and after opening favourite he was soon displaced by Willow Stream. Rosehearty was obviously not at his best, for he could not keep up with the rest of the field for any length of time, and Harry Beasley at half-way had accepted the situation, and did not give him a severe race. Willow Stream, a useful son of Dairy Bridge, began to draw away at the Bushes, and, easily resisting the challenge of Pantera, he beat him by two lengths, with Legality's very good-looking half-sister, Law and Order, third.

The best finish of the day was that for the First October Nursery, which the outsider, Valois, who was thought to be too backward to do himself justice, won by a neck and a head from Happy Singer and Nadia. The winner, who takes a lot after his speedy sire, Poltava, should make up into a good sprinter next year.

There was some crowding at the start for the Isleham Two-Year-Old Selling Stakes, and the favourite, Golden Wand, was one of the sufferers, as was Blairgowrie. Vision was one of the quickest away, and she won very easily from Clatter. At the sale De Mestre went to 820 guineas to buy her.

Dawson City was not started for the Trial Selling Plate, which fell to Pandarus, who started life in this class of event, then won a Wokingham Stakes, and has now returned again to plating.

DEFEAT OF L'AINE.

We saw a much-talked-of Cambridgeshire candidate in the Irish colt, L'Aine, run for the Apprentices' Plate, confined to apprentice riders who had not ridden more than two winners. Wootton's boy, Field, who was on L'Aine, kept him to anything but a straight course, and did not seem able to ride one side of him, with the result that he was beaten by a neck by Sopron. I do not think, however, that the result was anything like the true measure of the form of L'Aine.

Some of the races here to-morrow look to be one-sided. CALL BOY, who divided Damon and Sickle in the Champagne Stakes at Doncaster, will be a general choice for the opening race, the Linton Stakes. He may not, however, have it all his own way, for I believe that Mr. Persse has tried Royal Earn—a colt owned by Mr. Dan Sullivan—particularly well. In the Boscawen Stakes the same trainer will oppose Sickle with Treat—the fine-looking, big Tetratema colt, who made a big impression on his only appearance. I shall choose SICKLE to win. With Hot Night and Caption not likely to run for the Hopeful Stakes I choose FRIAR DOMINIC to beat Baby Polly. The Great Eastern Handicap is open, and a good chance has to be given to the top weight, Ethnarch. Nothing Venture is sure to run well, but I give the best chance to SPRINGSHOOT, who was unlucky when beaten by Donnina at Manchester, for she had to carry the winner for some distance.

At Pontefract MARIE ROCKET may be a good thing in the West Riding Autumn Handicap.

It was common gossip in the sale paddocks this morning ... developments in Germany recently over the sale of ... some time ago.

LIMERICK.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

There is promise of entertaining sport on both days of the Autumn Meeting at the well-managed Limerick Meeting, in connection with which a special train leaves Kingsbridge this morning at 9 o'clock and returns to-morrow at 6.30 p.m. The entries for the various events are very satisfactory, and, judging by the stabling ordered, there will be no dearth of runners. Several Irish Cesarewitch candidates are engaged in the Stewards' Plate, which should prove one of the most interesting races of the day. Selections are appended:—

LONDON BETTING—YESTERDAY.

There was a fair amount of business in the principal London offices yesterday on the Cesarewitch, Glommen, Perfect Son, and Foxlaw were each well supported at their previous rates. Templestowe hardened to 16 to 1, Miss Sport remained stationary at 20 to 1, and Hidennis shortened from 25's to 20's.

There were enquiries for one horse only for the Cambridgeshire. Very few succeeded in obtaining the overnight rate of 20's about Prompt, eventually 100 to 7 being taken and vainly asked for. Mr. Sol Joel's candidate was backed for several thousands, leaving 100 to 8 the top offer. Details:—

Betting.—"Sporting Chronicle"—5 to 2 agst. WILLOW STREAM, 3 to 1 Rosehearty, 6 to 1 Tenacity, 7 to 1 Pantera, 8 to 1 each Law and Order and Spontoon, 100 to 8 any other. "Sporting Life"—Same.
Plymouth Hoe, attended by Tenacity, cut out the work from Law and Order, Rosehearty, Martial Array and Pantera, with Cistus last. After going five furlongs Rosehearty weakened while Willow Stream moved up into third place and headed on the leaders at the bushes. At this point Plymouth Hoe was beaten, and Willow Stream went on from Pantera and Tenacity. Pantera challenged Willow Stream racing out of the dip, but was easily resisted, the favourite staying on to score comfortably by two lengths; three lengths separated second and third. Tenacity was fourth, Plymouth Hoe fifth, Martial Array sixth, Rosehearty seventh and Spontoon last.

Won by a neck; four lengths. Sand Hill was fourth and Our Bill last.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

It is difficult to decide as to which event in the second day's Newmarket card will evoke most interest. From a betting point of view the Great Eastern Handicap may be the most attractive, but from the point of view of high-class racing it is possible that the Hopeful Two-Year-Old Stakes will take pride of place. In the latter Baby Polly, who did well to finish half a length behind Treat at Kempton in the International Stakes, will take a deal of beating. Friar Dominic (better known as the Welfare colt), who defeated Jennie Deans by a head at Derby last month, comes well into the reckoning, but has to give 17lb. to Gilpin's charge. Caption and Priscilla look dangerous, but Baby Polly should win. The Great Eastern Handicap sets a rare puzzle for backers, and half the entry can be made out to be worth support. Ethnarch, who is set to carry top weight of 9st. 5lb., invariably runs well under big imposts. Strictly on "the book," of course, Sunstone should beat him, as Sir Abe Bailey's colt, who beat Ethnarch by a length and a half when receiving 10lb., now receives 8lb. Nothing Venture ran well over this distance when finishing a neck behind Lord Wembley at Ayr this month, and Pillion, who beat Compiler at level weights over this distance at Nottingham a few weeks ago, can be depended upon to be thereabouts at the finish, and most danger to Sunstone may come from this filly. Selections:—

Linton Stakes—Call Boy.
Great Eastern Handicap—Sunstone.
Hopeful Stakes—Baby Polly.
October Handicap—Mandelieu.
Boscawen Stakes—Sickle.
Triennial Produce Stakes—Comedy King.

1.30—LINTON STAKES of 10 sovs. each, with 300 sovs. added. Second receives 50 sovs. 5 f.

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

Owners and trainers should note that entries close to-day for the Curragh, Leopardstown, and Mallow meetings.

According to a telegram from Lisbon, the match between H. K. Lester and F. Ribeiro on Sunday in the lawn tennis match between the British team and a Portuguese side resulted in a victory for Lester by 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4.

The Press Association's Newmarket Correspondent states that, after a gallop with Mount Etna and Bright's Boy on the Racecourse side, Newmarket, yesterday morning, Blackwell's Cesarewitch candidate, Sir Joshua, appeared to pull up lame.

COOMBS'S Saorstat, Ceylonese, Bachelor's Point, May Pan Out, Leander, Don Pat, Brennie and others of the team were usefully employed.

DAWSON'S Dunmurry, Elgar, Miss Amundsen, Kildarra Boy, Chicane, Toy Island and the two-year-olds were usefully employed.

DOYLE'S Fariray, Scarlet Stripes, May Cub, Andy, Wiskit, Scarlet Satin, Chesmint and the two-year-olds cantered.

FORDRED'S Geraint, Louvaun and Amatoi came a good six furlongs; Coinage, Caustic, Hermetic and No Deceit covered five furlongs.

GLEESON'S Scarlet Pimpernel, Glentworth, Tea Leaf and Carrif went six furlongs; the two-year-olds cantered five furlongs.

HARTIGAN'S Tara Prince, Fedamore and Nantenan went six furlongs; Gainsharp, Loch Hume, Banogue, and Friarstown cantered five furlongs.

MACAULAY'S La Petite Chose and Eager Hen went a mile and a quarter.

PARKINSON'S Louvixen, Lomond's Lake, Templelyon, Pearl Oyster, Athgarrett, Athshannon, Mirabeau, Castle Casey, Grosvenor's Reward, Grosvenor's Pride, O May and the two-year-olds were usefully employed.

ROGERS'S Royal Miller, Vesington Star and Ettington went a good six furlongs; Ragura, Sparsholt, Georgie's Pet, Archway, Queenstown, Silver Trout, Ballybrophy and others of the team cantered.

STAUNTON'S Newtown Park, Child of the Hills and Sweet Honora went a mile and a half steadily.

CESAREWITCH AND CAMBRIDGESHIRE GALLOPS.

At Newmarket yesterday:—

Earl gave his Cesarewitch candidate, Glommen (Carslake), a nice striding pace gallop of one mile and three-quarters with Green Fire (Wragg). Glommen went well throughout the spin.

Gilpin's Cesarewitch representative, Finglas, moved well in a rousing pace gallop of one mile and a quarter with Tom Bowling and Nonchalant.

Walter Griggs' Cesarewitch candidate, Loch Sen (Wedgewood), in company with Stephania, had a striding gallop of one mile.

Watson gave his Cesarewitch Stakes representative, Goodwin (Perryman) a rattling pace gallop of one mile and a quarter with Shining Light, Linkman, and Arcade.

R. Day, in the presence of Sir Abe Bailey, Lady Bailey, Sir John Rutherford, and the Duchess of Newcastle, subjected Solario (J. Childs), Foxlaw (Carslake), and Right Ho (Crickmere) to a good stripped six furlongs gallop, the first two going well within themselves.

PONTEFRACT.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME AND SELECTIONS.

Sport at Pontefract Meeting, which opens to-day, will be interesting, and the six events in to-day's card promise to be well contested. The West Riding Autumn Handicap figures as the most valuable event, but the Leeds Handicap will probably attract the most spirited wagering. Selections are appended:

Fryston Nursery—Gay Corinthian.
Trial Selling—Fitzroy.
Leeds Handicap—John Clanchy.
West Riding Handicap—Nottingham Pet.
Lowther Selling—Dollar Girl.
Nostel Plate—Touch and Go.

NEWMARKET SALES.

That there is still a demand for yearlings of good breeding and promise was demonstrated at the opening session of the First October Newmarket Sales yesterday morning, when twenty lots were disposed of at an aggregate of 8,100 guineas. It is true that five-eighths of this sum was realised by two of the youngsters, but there are many other fashionably-bred and attractive colts and fillies coming up on the three following mornings.

The top price yesterday was 2,600 guineas for Gramarcus, a bay filly, by Friar Marcus out of Grizzle Grim, the property of Mr. Charles F. Stokvis, and bred in Belgium.

Running her close was Mr. D. O'Sullivan's chestnut filly, by The Tetrarch or Tetratema—Lady Earn. Following an initial offer of 800 guineas bids rapidly rose to three times that amount, when Mr. Felix Leach, sen., was declared the buyer.

Mr. Sullivan also put in the ring a chestnut colt, by Abbot's Trace—La Paloma, but he was passed out at 1,350 guineas.

The best price among the remainder was 480 guineas, given by Mr. O'Reilly for Mr. H. C. Miller's chestnut filly, by Marten—Mountain Mist, who was reared at the Brownstown Stud, Curragh. Details:—

ROWING.

GROWTH OF GERMAN R.A.

COLOGNE (By Mail).

The German Rowing Association has decided to send crews to compete in the Olympic Games to be held at Amsterdam in 1928. Since the inaugural meeting of the German Rowing Association, which was held at Cologne in 1883, when 34 rowing clubs were represented, German rowing has progressed so rapidly that to-day the Association has a membership of 50 regatta societies and 507 rowing clubs, with a membership of over 90,000.

Hopes have been expressed that some of the best English clubs would send crews to the Rhine next year to compete in the regatta which is held in May, at which the Championship of the Rhine is rowed for.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

TONE AND COMMENT.

DUBLIN IRREGULAR.

COURTAULDS UNDER BEST.

Business turned quite slack on 'Change yesterday, with dealings mostly limited and often fitful, while irregular price movements were the rule. Government National and other Loans were supported, with the Compensation Loan scarce. British Funds scarcely moved. Banks were buyers, with higher prices for Munsters and Nationals. The market in Guinness Shares was fairly busy, with a dull close—just over 60. Castlebellingham Pref. Shares were absorbed at half-price. Grand Canal Pref. were harder. Marconis remain rather on offer, but Canadian Marconis advanced, and Radio Common were also higher. Rails were scarcely altered. Great Northern Pref. and Great Southern Guaranteed and Deb. Stocks were in steady request at generally slight gains. Tramways were quiet, with Dublin United Pref. scarce. Parent Trust Pref. were wanted, but the Def. fell back. Dunlop Rubber Ord. were again bought for the other side at an advance. Drapery Deb. Shares were wanted. Among Textiles, sound support was forthcoming for Courtaulds at higher prices, but the shares closed under best. Coats opened slightly easier, but then were bid for, and closed the turn higher. Tobaccos were firm, but nearly idle. Gresham Hotel Shares improved, and Dolphin Hotel Ord. were held for 40s., against 34s. 6d. the previous price. Shell Transports were still dull.

LONDON QUIET.

GODFREY PHILLIPS ACTIVE.

Business remained on a small scale in the majority of sections of the London Stock markets yesterday, but the general tone continued steady. Even the more speculative departments, such as Rubbers and Mines, were quieter, and in these the tone was, if anything a trifle easier. Among the latter, however, Tin shares continued firm in tone on a further advance in the quotation for the metal, which closed 50s. higher at £313 15s. Foreign Government stocks also experienced an extremely quiet session, but in this department quotations, where altered, showed a small margin in favour of holders. Although a firmer tendency was manifest in Home Rails, the absence of any appreciable volume of business kept prices down to their previous levels. Colonial and Foreign Rails were marked up the turn in places, Argentines hardening in several instances, while Entre Rios Ord. also closed better. Business continued small among Industrials, and prices, as a rule, showed but little change on the day. Among Tobaccos, Godfrey Phillips were a fairly active centre, following the interim dividend announcement and the news of the amalgamation with the Abdulla Company; but others were quiet and easier inclined in places. Textiles showed little movement, but Courtaulds were slightly harder at one time. A dull tone ruled in Oils, and closing values were lower in some directions.

CONVERSION OF 5 PER CENT. TREASURY BONDS, 1927.

The British Treasury announces that the Bank of England has been authorised to receive applications from holders of 5 per cent. Treasury Bonds, due on 1st February, 1927, for conversion into 4½ per cent. Treasury Bonds, 1934, at par, with a cash payment of £1 for each £100 5 per cent. Bonds surrendered. Prospectuses and forms of application will be available at the Bank of England on Thursday.

LARAS (SUMATRA) RUBBER ESTATES.

As intimated yesterday, the list of applications for Debentures was closed yesterday at 12 noon, the issue having been substantially over-subscribed.

MARCONI WIRELESS.

Dissatisfaction among shareholders in the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company, Ltd., continues to grow, due to the delay in publication of definite information by the company. It is understood that a private meeting of some of the principal shareholders is about to be held to consider the position and to press for the formation of a shareholders' committee.

Shareholders are being invited to join the movement to secure the appointment of a shareholders' committee to be formed "to investigate the causes of, and remedies for, the unfortunate position in which the company now finds itself." The circular states that—"It seems particularly lamentable that, just at the very epoch when wireless transmission has become a popular institution, this pioneer company of ours should have been allowed to drift into this unfortunate position."

IRISH SHIPPING DEAL.

We recently recorded the amalgamation of the Dublin General Steamship Company with the British and Irish Steam Packet. Particulars are now available of some of the companies identified with this transaction. One undertaking, Michael Murphy, was registered in 1905, to carry on business as steamship owners at Dublin, Cardiff and Swansea. All the issued capital of £90,000, except to the extent of £310, is held by members of the Murphy family. The company holds the controlling interest in the Dublin General Steam Shipping, owning 3,606 £10 shares out of 4,000 shares issued. The Dublin General was incorporated in Dublin in 1920 as a private company. Associated with the group is M. J. Begg and Co., shipping agents, Cardiff, registered October, 1920, also as a private company. The issued capital is £15,000 in 1,500 £10 shares, of which 1,404 stand in the name of Michael Murphy, Ltd., which thus holds control.

SWEDISH MATCH AND INCOME TAX.

Swedish Match issues were a dull market in London on the news that the Swedish Government is claiming income tax on the dividend paid to foreigners for the year 1925. The position is a complicated one in that the tax is on a graduated scale, the holder of 1,000 shares paying a relatively higher rate than the owner of 100 shares. In the case of 800 shares the assessment would amount to only about 3 per cent. of the dividend. It was pointed out in the market that the offer for sale in connection with the issue of 271,500 "B" shares in May, 1924, by Messrs. Higginson and Co. expressly stated that "in accordance with Swedish law the taxes in respect of the profits of the company are paid before dividends are declared. Accordingly, no deduction in respect of Swedish taxes is made in the dividends paid to the shareholders." As it would be difficult, if not impossible, for the Swedish Government to levy the tax on the large number of shares held in Britain, the market does not take a serious view of the demand made. If it is pressed it is thought that the company would pay the tax as the simplest way out of the difficulty.

HARRISONS AND CROSFIELD.

Holders of the Deferred Ordinary shares will have the option to take up at par Deferred Ordinary shares to the extent of one half the amount of the final dividend (announced elsewhere), less income tax, fractions of a £ being ignored.

Note—The increase of £3,873 in the Great Southern traffic last week consisted of £2,780 from passengers and £1,095 from merchandise over the totals of the same week last year.

LONDON MOVEMENTS.

The volume of business put through in the Gilt-edged section yesterday was again on an extremely small scale, but despite the slackness of interest a generally steady to firm tone was maintained. Funding Loan were quoted ex dividend at 84.

Little of interest transpired in Foreign Government stocks. French Loans, however, displayed a firmer appearance, and at the close the Fives showed an improvement of ½ to 9½. Turkish Unified were marked a further ¼ firmer at 17¼.

RAILS FIRMER.

Home Rails experienced another extremely quiet session, but despite the paucity of business the general tendency was, if anything, a trifle firmer. Actual price movements, however, were noticeable by their absence, and final values, as a rule, were the same as before.

Colonial and Foreign Rails, however, were the turn better in several directions. Buenos Ayres Great Southern at 101¼ were marked ½ firmer, and the Pacific at 89½ also gained ¾ on the day. Antofagasta Ord. firmed up to 79, and Central Argentines to 77, a rise of ½ in each instance. Entre Rios Ord. were marked ½ better to 69.

RUBBER SHARES INACTIVE.

A distinctly quieter tone was manifest in the Rubber Share market yesterday, while the volume of dealings put through was on a noticeably smaller scale. Here and there an easier tendency became apparent, but, taken as a whole, price movements again favoured holders. An easier tendency was also manifest in the commodity market, and quotations for the raw material went back the turn for some positions. Spot opened at 1s. 9¼d. per pound, but later eased to 1s. 9⅝d., while December finished at 1s. 9⅞d., after commencing at 1s. 10d. per pound. January to March sold at 1s. 10¼d., and April to June, after opening at 1s. 10⅝d., dropped to 1s. 10¼d., but later rallied and closed at 1s. 10⅜d. per pound. In the Share market, Anglo-Sumatra at 102s. 6d. were 2s. 6d. firmer on the day. Anglo-Malay put on 7½d. to 38s. 9d. and General Ceylon were finally 9d. to the good at 63s. 6d. Kuala Muda at 55s. 7½d. were 7½d. better, and Linggi at 56s. 10½d. were 10½d. up. Pegoh finished at an advance of 1s. 3d. to 66s. 3d. c.d. and Sembilan gained a similar amount to 82s. 6d. Tandjong at 75s. 7½d. and Toerangie at 58s. 1½d. were 7½d. firmer. Anglo-Dutch, on the other hand, were finally marked 6d. down to 56s. 4½d. and United Sua Betong at 113s. 9d. were 1s. 3d. lower. Soember Ajoe at 4s. 4½d. and Rubber Trust at 46s. 10½d. were both 1½d. easier.

TEA SHARES SLACK.

The volume of business transacted in the Tea share market yesterday was on a slightly smaller scale than was the case on the opening day of the week, and as a result of the slackness of interest price movements were not so numerous as has been the case recently. A generally firm tone prevailed, however, and in the majority of instances alterations were in favour of holders. Amalgamated Estates firmed up to 42¹⁄₁₆, or ¼ better. Consolidated Tea and Lands hardened to 32½, or ½ to the good, and Dooars at 84s. 6d. showed a gain of 2s. on the day. Doom Dooma was finally 10½d. easier at 98s. 9d., while Empire at 63s. 1½d. and Deundi at 28s. 3d. were 3d. and 6d. lower respectively.

OILS FIRMER FINISH.

In many respects the course of the Oil share market yesterday was similar to that of the preceding day, although finishing rather firmer. Business in the leaders was small, and, following Paris advices, there was a tendency to offer international favourites, but they hardened again at the end. From the overnight's level of 4½ Shells weakened to 4⁷⁄₁₆, following Paris advices, but an indication was afforded of the fact that there are few shares about by the demand which set in later, resulting in a recovery to the opening price. Royal Dutch suffered from sales on Paris account and by subsequent local offering, and fell to 31¼, but these shares also rallied, and closed steady and unchanged at 31⅜. Anglo-Persians, which at one time were no better than 4¹⁵⁄₁₆, received support later and improved to 5, which left them ¹⁄₃₂ up on the day; but the 8 p.c. Prefs. weakened to 26s. 4½d. Burmahs weakened to 5⁴⁄₃₂, but recovered to the overnight's level of 5⅛. Business in Mexican Eagles was small, but the Ord. hardened to 19s. and the 8 p.c. Part. Prefs. to 17s. 9d., while the 7 p.c. 1st Prefs. remained at 16s. 10½d. The brightest spot was once more to be found in the Trinidad group. Trinidad Leaseholds continued in strong request on favourable dividend anticipations, and further advanced ¹⁄₁₆ to 3¹⁄₁₆. Business in Venezuelans was not of much importance, and had little influence on quotations. British Controlled were dull at the start. The Common Shares opened at 3s. 3d., but the recent decline led to some speculative buying, and the price improved later to 3s. 7½d., which left them 3d. up on the day, while the Prefd., after touching 5s. 7½d., rallied to 5s. 10½d. V.O.C. Holdings were quiet, finishing without alteration. Lagos, following New York advices, fell at one time to 4¹⁄₁₆, but rallied at the end to 4¹¹⁄₁₆, which left them unaltered on balance.

SMALL BUSINESS IN INDUSTRIALS.

Although trading in the Industrial market yesterday remained on a restricted scale, dealers in the Coal, Steel, and Engineering sections were rather more optimistic with regard to the coal situation, and quiet buying of the leading shares was reported. Powell Duffryns were marked up 1s. to 30s., while William Corys at 47s., and Lamberts at 46s. 3d., both 6d. higher. Ocean and Wilsons were bid up to 22s., and buyers appeared for Dorman Longs at 10s., and Guest Keens at 36s. 3d. On the other hand, Swan Hunters eased slightly to 24s. 9d., and Vickers to 9s. 1½d., with Mond Nickels a rather weak spot 1s. down at 42s. 6d. Electrical Equipments continued to move within narrow limits, but the tone, if anything, was harder. There was little doing among Textiles, and, apart from Fine Spinners, which shed 3d. at 43s. 9d., quotations were hardly tested. Bleachers, Bradford Dyers, Calico Printers and Sewing Cottons all finished without alteration. Of the Artsilks, quiet support was seen for Courtaulds, which gained the turn at 5¹⁵⁄₃₂, with Snias still a dull market at 1⅞. Apart from Distillers, which further declined ¹⁄₁₆ to 2¹⁄₁₆ on the reported overstocked state of the market for whiskey, Brewery issues generally had a firmer appearance, and Watney Defd. put on a point to 264½. A disposition was shown to support prices in the Tobacco section, but Godfrey Phillips, which opened well at 5⅞, gradually fell back, and eventually finished ⅛ down on balance at 5⅞. Carreras were a good spot throughout, improving ¼ to 16¹⁄₁₆, with "Bats" 3d. harder at 96s., and "Imps." 6d. higher at 114s. 9d. Imperial of Canada recovered 6d. to 22s. 6d.

A bout of profit-taking after the recent movement occurred among News issues, and left Associated Defd. ¹⁄₁₆ lower at 7¼, "Mirrors" ¹⁄₁₆ down at 7¹⁄₁₆, and "Pictorials" ⅛ lower at 4. Amalgamated Press shed 3d. at 43s. 9d., and "Daily Mail" Trust ¹⁄₁₆ at 3¹⁄₁₆. Allieds held at 47s. 9d. Sudans continued the centre of interest among Land shares, and gained a further fraction at 5½. Another distribution is expected shortly. Shipping descriptions were easier for choice. A seller appeared for P. and O. Defd., and the price fell 5 to 255. Cairn Line closed 3d. easier at 15s. 6d. Telegraphs and Telephones were idle. Further support was witnessed for Lautaro in the Nitrate group, and the price improved ¹⁄₁₆ to 3¹⁄₁₆. Stores maintained a firm front, with buyers in evidence for Harrods at 51s. 6d., with Harrods B A marked another 6d. up at 11s. 6d. Traction issues were mostly easier. Brazilian Common shed a point to 123. There was some demand for Home Banks, where Lloyds put on 3d. to 62s., and Williams Deacon "A" shares 6d. to 49s. 6d. In the Miscellaneous department a revival was seen in Dunlops, which changed hands freely at advancing prices, eventually finishing 7½d. to the good at 29s., at which figure they were bid for after official hours in the "street." Swedish Match issues had a steadier appearance, the "B" shares rallying slightly to 14⅞. British Aluminiums at 46s. 3d., and Brunner Monds at 35s. were each 3d. easier. Nobels were slightly harder at 28s. 10½d., and British Oil Cakes at 27s. 3d. Dealings commenced in London and Irish Trust £10 shares, £5 paid, on the basis of ⅝ discount. Gordon Selfridge Trust Ord. eased to ½ prem., with the Pref. at 9d. discount.

DUBLIN BUSINESS DONE.

GUINNESS AND COURTAULDS UNDER BEST. DUNLOPS HIGHER. PARENT TRUST DEF. LOWER.

Government National 5 per cent. Sterling repeated 99½, and Land Bonds 4½ per cent. 89¼, but Compensation 5 per cent. Stock rose ¼ to 96¼.

In British Funds, Consols repeated 54½, Conversion 3½ per cent. 74¹⁄₁₆, and War Loan 5 per cent. 101¹⁄₁₆, with a later fall to 101¹⁄₁₆, but do. 4½ per cent. fell ⅛ to 94¾.

Banks closed firm. Bank Stock repeated 285. Munster and Leinsters rose ¹⁄₁₆ to 7, and Nationals ⅛ to 20⅝, while Provincials were still ineffectually bid for at 23¾, or ¼ over last business done level.

In Breweries, Castlebellingham and Drogheda Pref. repeated 5 for an exceptional lot, and closed in demand. Guinness Ord. opened ⅛ better at 60⅛, but 60⅛-¹⁄₁₆, 60, 60¹⁄₁₆ followed. The Pref. ¹⁄₁₆ to 11⅜ for cash.

Grand Canal Pref. rose 2s. 5d. to 72s. 6d. Marconi Ord. repeated 12s. 6d., but Canadians rose 3d. further to 3s. 10½d., and Radio Common ⅛ to 10⅛.

Rail Ord. Stocks were neglected, but Great Northern Pref. remain bid for at 40½, or ¼ over last business done level. Great Southern Pref. were busy at 36¾, ½, ⅜—a fall of ⅛; while the Guaranteed rose ¼ further to 49½, and the Deb. Stock repeated 60.

In Trams, Dublin United Ord. repeated 6½, but the Pref. closed ⅛ higher at 8¼-½ nominally.

Parent Trust Pref. were called 14s. 3d. bid, and the Def. for an odd lot realised 29s. 9d. Dunlop Rubber Ord. rose 6d. to 28s. 7½d.-28s. 10½d.

In Drapery Shares, Arnott Debs. repeated 6½, and Switzer Debs. rose ¹⁄₁₆ to 6⅞ for a broken lot. Walpole Brothers Pref. improved 2s. to 75s.

Among Manufacturing Shares, Coats Ord. opened 1½d. lower at 60s. 3d., and closed at 60s. 6d.—a rise of 1½d. Courtaulds opened 1s. higher, and were active at 111s.-111s. 3d., but later eased back to 110s. 6d.—a rise of 3d. on the day. Cottons repeated 50s. 9d. Lever Brothers 7 per cent. Pref. again quoted 19s. Imperial Tobaccos rose 3d. to 114s. 6d.-114s. 9d.

In Trading, etc., Hugh Moore and Alexander Pref. slumped from 25s. to 15s. for a small lot. Irish-American Oil Pref. eased 1½d. to 21s. 7½d. Gresham Hotel rose ¹⁄₁₆ to 6⅝, and Irish Times Pref. were firm at 71s. 9d. for an exceptional lot. Dolphin Hotel Ord. were held for 40s., or 5s. 6d. over last marking; while other business done included Shell Transports, which eased 6d. to 89s. 3d.-89s. 1½d. Victoria (Malaya) Rubber Estates quoted 2s. 6d. Heiton Pref. marked 59s.

LONDON MINING MARKET STEADY.

TIN SHARES IN FAVOUR.

The Mining Market could boast few features yesterday, though the tone generally was harder, and the public evinced a greater desire to buy good-class shares than on the opening day of the week. In the Kaffir section the publication of the terms of the acquisition by the Union Corporation and the Geduld of the Geduld East Area created a good impression, and that the market regarded the transaction favourably may be gathered from the fact that good buying of Unions was in progress, and the shares left off harder. Geduld, however, were subject to profit-taking, and receded the turn. Most of the other usually active counters were content to maintain former levels, neither the home public, nor Paris, taking much interest in these descriptions. "Plat." issues generally were dullish, and both the Hendersons fell back. Rhodesians presented a much brighter appearance, and Chartered recovered from their recent depression, while Rhodesian and General Asbestos were again in demand for investment. A feature was provided by Globe and Phœnix, which came into good request on the receipt of private advices to the effect that developments in the mine are exceptionally good. Diamonds were still rather neglected, and De Beers Pref. were marked down, while Cons. Diamond Options lost the turn. The further rise of £2 10s. to £313 15s. per ton in the price of tin, and the significant advance in the forward quotation, directed increased attention to the share market, the Eastern descriptions—many of which, by the way, are in short supply—being particularly favoured. Sungei Besi, Renong, Tronoh, Kamunting, and others were in steady demand, and Anglo-Burma registered a smart gain, but Siamese, which have lagged behind somewhat in the forward movement, after being in favour, reverted to the overnight level. Tin Selection Trust were a good market, and several of the Nigerians shared in the better tendency, among them being the Bauchis, the Kadunas, Ropp, Associated, Daffo and Keffi. Naraguta were the turn lower. Rio Tinto, in the Copper section, marked a sharp recovery, but Canadians were still under the influence of the low price of silver. Elsewhere, Santa Gertrudis jumped up smartly, good buying being induced by a wider appreciation of the progress which the company is making, but San Francisco, and one or two other Mexicans, were easier inclined. Closing prices:—

CONDITIONS EASIER.

DISCOUNTS STEADY.

Conditions were rather more comfortable in Lombard street yesterday, but further precautionary borrowing took place at the Bank of England, which lent another small amount for a week at 5½ p.c. Up to 4½ p.c. was again paid for day-to-day loans, but towards the close the rate eased off to 4 p.c. Old weekly money was renewed at the latter figure, but up to 4½ p.c. was charged for fresh advances into October. The discount market remained steady, with little business doing. The general quotation for fine three months' bank bills was 4¹⁄₁₆ p.c., and new Treasuries were offered at a shade over 4⅝ p.c.

There were no bullion movements on foreign account at the Bank of England yesterday. No further change took place in silver, quotations remaining at 27d. for the spot, and 27⅛d. per ounce for two months' delivery. The market price of gold was unaltered at 84s. 11½d. per fine ounce. A small amount was dealt with, and was divided between the Continent, India, and the trade.

A further improvement was shown by French and Belgian francs and Italian lire, especially the last-named, the rate for which further fell 1 lira to 127. This is the lowest quotation since June 3 last, and it compares with over 152½ touched on July 27. The Paris rate dropped nearly ⅜ to little over 173, and Brussels ½ to 180⅝. Swiss francs also moved against us, and there was some improvement in Greek drachmae, Rumanian lei, and Austrian schillings. Polish zlotys depreciated, and the Norwegian and Danish currencies were a little cheaper. The Spanish rate further rose to 31.95½. There was no further alteration in the American Exchange, which closed 4.85¹⁄₁₆. In the South American group the Brazilian currency depreciated, and Peruvian pounds were cheaper, but still described as nominal. The Hong Kong dollar eased to 2s. 0¼d., and the yen further gave way to 1s. 11⅜d.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

BERANANG (SELANGOR) RUBBER.—A final dividend of 10 per cent., less tax, making 20 per cent. for year.

CONSOLIDATED MALAY RUBBER.—Interim dividend of 4d. per share (16 2-3 per cent.), less tax.

EDINBURGH INVESTMENT TRUST.—Interim dividend on the Deferred Stock at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum, less tax (same as last year).

HARRISON AND CROSFIELD.—Final dividend of 30 per cent., less tax, on Deferred Ordinary, making 40 per cent. for the year. (Last year 20 per cent., making 30 per cent. for year.)

JOHANNESBURG CONSOLIDATED INVESTMENT CO.—The report for the year ended 30th June, 1926, states that, after providing for English and Colonial income tax and depreciation, the profit for the year is £743,538. This amount, together with £178,161 brought forward from previous year, brings the total profit to £921,699. Since the issue of the last annual report the directors, in the interests of the shareholders, have adopted the policy of declaring the company's dividends half-yearly in lieu of yearly, as formerly. This procedure first took effect in December last, when a dividend of 7½ per cent., free of income tax, was declared on 17th of that month. A further dividend of 7½ per cent., free of income tax, making 15 per cent. for year, was declared by directors on 15th June last. These distributions absorb £592,500. The directors have decided to place a further £150,000 to reserve fund, and the balance to be carried forward to next account amounts to £179,199.

K.M.S. (MALAY STATES) RUBBER.—A final dividend of 15 per cent. in respect of the year ended June 30, 1926, making 20 per cent. for the year.

LAYANG RUBBER.—Net profit for the year was £32,788. Sum of £37,300 received on share premium account has been transferred to general reserve, and, after deducting the whole preliminary expenses and also expenditure incurred in connection with increase of capital, there remains at credit of general reserve £22,797. Directors propose transferring to taxation reserve £6,450, paying a final dividend of 7½ per cent., subject to tax, making 12½ per cent., carrying forward £3,838.

ORIENTAL CONSOLIDATED MINING CO.—Dividend of 50 cents per share.

PABBOJAN TEA.—Interim dividend of 10 per cent., less tax, declared on account of 1926.

RADNORSHIRE COAL.—Dividend of 8 per cent. on Ordinary.

SAN PAULO (BRAZILIAN) RAILWAY CO.—Interim dividend of 5 per cent., free of tax, on the Ordinary. (Same.)

SENGAT RUBBER.—Final dividend of 3d. per share, less tax, making, with interim dividend of 1½d. per share, 18¾ per cent. for year ended 30th June.

UNITED PATANI (MALAYA) RUBBER.—Interim dividend of 5 per cent. actual, less tax, in respect of the year ending 31st December, 1926.

UNITED STATES AND SOUTH AMERICAN INVESTMENT TRUST.—Interim dividend on Ordinary Stock at rate of 8 per cent. per annum for six months, less income tax.

ANGLING.

WATERVILLE, CO. KERRY. WEEK ENDING 26th INST.

Owing to heavy rainfall very little angling was carried out in the beginning of last week, the water being too high and discoloured. But fairly good sport was had during the week-end. The following were among the best catches of sea trout:—Messrs. Day and Sheedy, 41; Messrs. Kerr and Porte, 40; Captain Hart and Mr. Lyons, 19; Messrs. Daunt and Dale, 18; Dr. McDonnell, 18; Colonel Brinkley, 14; Captain Woods, 13; Mr. Kaye, 11, and one salmon, 14lb. Good baskets of brown trout were also had. The upper lakes gave good sport.

A few boats were out in Ballingskelligs Bay last week, and very good sport was had pollock fishing; some mackerel were also got.

ATHLETICS.

PORTOBELLO HARRIER CLUB.

The first meet of the Records Harriers Club took place last evening, over a course embracing Crumlin, Clondalkin and Kimmage. There was a large number of competitors, including representatives of the 23rd and 27th Battalions. There is every prospect of the Club maintaining last season's high standard. The following was the result:—

Corporal Matthews (Records) 1
Private McCormack (27th Battalion)... 2
Corporal F. Kelly (Records) 3

GOLF.

DUNCAN AND HAVERS AT PORTMARNOCK.

INTERESTING FOURBALL MATCHES.

When George Duncan and Arthur Havers concluded the first of yesterday's matches at Portmarnock the former remarked that he found the course a very different one to that which he played over in company with Harry Vardon and Sherlock in 1910. Indeed, he recognised but few of the holes as they existed sixteen years ago. In Duncan's opinion, the links as played yesterday seemed to be on the long side for the average player. Improvements could be easily effected, and he suggested that the second hole could be made into a grand one-shotter, and that the sixth could be converted into an excellent two-shotter, with the green in the hollow to the right and short of the present new green. But in all probability when he and Havers make the attempt to break 73 on Saturday they will find the links even a more difficult proposition than they realised it to be yesterday, for it can be stretched a bit farther. But be that as it may, there is something to be said in favour of the suggestion thrown out by the Scot, and apart from the fact that the changes would make for better golf they would also mean less walking from green to tee.

The big gallery which followed the two matches yesterday had much to interest them. Partnered with Duncan was Mr. H. M. Cairnes, and Havers had as his partner Dr. J. D. MacCormack. In that way the spectators saw four different types of golfer, all in the first flight, each playing his own ball. The contrast was rather interesting. In Duncan they saw a golfer who walks up quickly to his ball and hits it. A little more studious over his shots, and, it might be said, a little more skilful, was Havers. Then in the case of Dr. MacCormack we had an amateur who is a second edition of Duncan, in that he does not believe that anything is to be gained by wasting time over every shot, while in Mr. Cairnes we had the easy-going veteran, who, though lacking the length from the tees which he possessed years ago, treated us to some of the best played approaches of the day. As a matter of fact, Mr. Cairnes, though consistently outdriven by the other three, was there all the time when it came to the shots on the greens, for his approaches were splendidly played, and, if anything, even more accurately executed than those of the others.

Of course, it was not the play of our two amateurs which interested the company; they went to see Duncan and Havers, expecting to see the Scotsman produce some of the fireworks which had made for him so big a name in English golf. But he gave not a glimpse of these golfing fireworks. It was the first time he had played over the course in sixteen years, and he was playing himself in, as it were. There were times when both he and Havers hit some loose shots with wood and iron. Perhaps they were meant to comfort those novices who were in the gallery, to remind them that even reputed masters of golf can have their lapses, and to convey to them the lesson that, when they make a mistake in the playing of a shot, they should not lose heart, but try to do better the next time. All four had occasional lapses; but, taking the whole day's golf, on the whole, there were not many bad shots played, and it can be said of the two games that they formed a very attractive curtain raiser to the week's golf. That the two professionals can play better golf than they displayed yesterday is certain, and they will very likely be seen to much greater advantage to-day, when they will be opposed by the two local men professionals.

If there was an outstanding feature of the play of the professionals it was their partiality for approaching the greens by the aid of the high pitch. Rarely, if indeed ever, did either Duncan or Havers play the run-up shot—they pitched all the time, and hit the ball so high that when it landed on the green there was the minimum of run. These lofty pitches were beautifully played, and, as we have remarked, the pitching of Mr. Cairnes was little inferior to that of the professionals. In fact, it was not more graceful and effective as a rule. Dr. MacCormack hit some great drives and played right well indeed all through. For a time after starting he was well outside the two professionals from the tees, but gradually Havers got on to his game with the wooden clubs, and in the end he was hitting the longest ball, though not always the straightest. On the greens Mr. Cairnes had little luck with his long approach putts, which invariably hung about the hole but he holed a long one here and there. The player who appealed to the onlookers when it came to putting, however, was Duncan, who took his line at one glance, addressed the ball, and sent it without more ado on its way to the hole. Sometimes, however, a little study of the greens would have had better results in his case. It was a thoroughly interesting day's golf, and there was a good deal of instruction to be derived by the novice from the study of the two professionals, whose visit ought to have a very beneficial effect on the game in Dublin.

Each of the matches was won by Dr. MacCormack and Havers, the first in the forenoon by 1 up, and the second by 2 and 1. A remarkable thing about the morning's play was that of the first nine holes eight were halved, Duncan winning the fourth with a 4 by holing from the far edge of the green. A rather amusing thing happened at the seventh green. Playing some distance in front of the four-ball was another four-ball match, made up mostly by novices. Each of them was in the middle of the seventh green from the tee shots, but when the big match had all played the tee shots, not one ball was on the green, Mr. Cairnes being bunkered with Havers on one side, and Dr. MacCormack and Duncan being trapped on the left. The position at the turn was that Duncan and Mr. Cairnes were leading by 1 hole, having gone out in 38 against the opposition's 39. On the way in Duncan made a good start by winning the tenth in 3, pitching his second to within a foot of the hole-side, but the match was level at the thirteenth, where Havers and Dr. MacCormack each had 5. We saw the new fifteenth played for the first time, and Duncan almost getting a 2 at it. His 3 enabled his side to take the lead again, but after Dr. MacCormack had got down in 4 at the seventeenth, following an excellent recovery from the rough, Havers rammed down a 3 to square, and the eighteenth being won by Havers in 4, the latter and his partner won the match by 1 hole.

The golf in the afternoon was better than it had been in the morning, Havers and Dr. MacCormack reaching the turn in 36 for a lead of 1 hole, Mr. Cairnes and Duncan taking one more. The first three holes were halved in fours, and Duncan was the only one of the four to get a 4 at the fourth. Havers, however, neutralised that by a 3 at the next to square, and then at the seventh a 3 by Dr. MacCormack put his side in front. On the return journey Havers and his partner held that one hole lead to the fourteenth, where Havers had another 3 to increase it; but Mr. Cairnes holed a long putt for 4 at the sixteenth, to reduce the arrears, and with Havers getting down in 4 at the seventeenth for the win, his side repeated their success of the forenoon, this time by 2 and 1.

This morning Duncan will be partnered with W. Nolan against Havers and W. Holley in an 18-hole match, and in the evening the two visitors will endeavour to concede Nolan and Holley two strokes, the latter match starting at 3.15.

IRISH ROTARIAN'S SUCCESS.

At St. Augustine's, Ramsgate, yesterday, J. W. Lindsey, of the Cliftonville Club, Belfast, playing from handicap 15, returned a net score of 67, with which he won the competition for members of the Rotary International of Great Britain and Ireland, which is in session at Margate this week.

THE ROYAL AND ANCIENT CLUB.

Mr. Edward Blackwell, the retiring captain, presided at the autumn business meeting of the Royal and Ancient Club, held at St. Andrews yesterday. Baron Francois de Bellet (France) and Mr. Howard F. Whitney (America) were elected to the Rules Committee. The following were elected to the Championship Committee:—Robert Harris, H. M. Cairnes, Captain A. V. Hambro, E. Martin Smith, Douglas Gaunt and J. B. Pease.

Mr. Whitney is the first native-born American to be included in the Rules' Committee, although Mr. C. B. MacDonald, a resident in America and of Scottish parentage, has been on the Committee for several years.

The weather at St. Andrews yesterday was delightful, and the prospects for the autumn meeting, which opens to-day with the new captain, Sir John Gilmour, Bart., of Montrave, driving himself into office, are extremely good.

LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP OF AMERICA.

HOLDER'S CLOSE MATCH.

HAVERFORD, PENNSYLVANIA, Tuesday.

Thirty-two players, who had survived the qualifying test, to-day took part in the first round of the American Ladies' Championship here. Miss Glenna Collett (Rhode Island) had a close match with Mrs. Hill (Meadow Lake, Kansas), and after a brilliant up-hill fight won by two holes. Miss Ada Mackenzie (Toronto), the Canadian champion, was beaten by Mrs. Stetson (Huntingdon Valley), 2 and 1, and Miss Edith Cummings (Onwentsia), holder of the title three years ago, was taken to the eighteenth by Miss Helen Meehan (Oakley). Results:—

SWIMMING.

MOUNTJOY SCHOOL S.C. GALA. CLONTARF DEFEAT SANDYCOVE IN IRISH CUP.

The Mountjoy School Swimming Club, which has enjoyed a splendid run of success in Leinster swimming since its affiliation, held its annual gala at the Iveagh Baths last night before a very large gathering. An excellent programme of club and open events was augmented by the allocation by the Leinster Branch of the Leinster Schools' Squadron Championship, a first round Schools' Water Polo match between Belvedere College A (holders) and Wesley College, and the second round of the Irish Cup tie between Clontarf and Sandycove.

Seven teams were entered for the Schools' Squadron Championship, held by Belvedere College. A fine race resulted in a splendid win for Clongowes Wood in 1 min. 46 secs. The distance of the race was 176 yards. Wesley College gave a walk-over in the Schools' Cup game, and in a friendly Belvedere College beat a scratch team by 2 goals to 1. The Irish Cup match went in favour of Clontarf by 3 goals to 2, a margin that was in full accordance with the play.

An interesting feature of the gala, and which was loudly applauded, was the life-saving display by the Mountjoy team, winners of the Leinster Schools' Life-Saving Cup in 1924 and 1925. The evolutions of the quartette in the land drill and in rescue and release methods in the water were very smartly executed. Mr. H. F. Case, senior, gave a splendid display of fancy and trick swimming, which was loudly applauded. Mrs. W. J. Mayne presented the prizes. Details:—

22 Yards Beginners' Handicap.—First Heat—J. C. Wilson (2), 1; J. Nixon (2), 2; J. Millar (3), 3. Six competed. Time—22 secs. Second Heat—G. W. D. Anderson (scr.), 1; H. Wright (2), 2; L. Storey (2), 3. Six competed. Time—19 3-5 secs. Final—Anderson, 1; Nixon, 2; Wilson, 3. Time—19 2-5 secs.

44 Yards Novices' Race.—First Heat—A. Bell (6), 1; G. McNeill (5), 2; H. Russell (6), 3. Ten competed. Time—42 secs. Second Heat—A. E. Quin (scr.), 1; R. S. Clarke (2), 2; — Morgan (1), 3. Fourteen competed. Time—39 secs. Final—Quin, 1; Clarke, 2; Bell, 3. Time—32 secs.

100 Yards School Championship.—R. W. Case (holder), 1; M. Anderson, 2; S. Anderson, 3. Five competed. Time—75 secs.

Schools' Squadron Championship of Leinster (holders, Belvedere College A).—The following teams competed—Belvedere College (A and B), Clongowes Wood College, the High School, Mountjoy School, St. Andrew's College, Christian Schools (Synge street). First Heat—Clongowes Wood College, 1; Belvedere A, 2. Also competed—High School and St. Andrew's College. Time—1 min. 46 secs. Second Heat—Belvedere College B, 1. Also competed—Synge street and Mountjoy School. Time—1 min. 59 secs. Final—Clongowes Wood College, 1; Belvedere College A, 2. Won a great race by three yards. Time—1 min. 46 secs.

44 Yards Boys' Handicap (Open).—First Heat—E. Lavin (15), 1; D. Healy (11), 2; F. McMahon (10), 3. Six competed. Time—39 secs. Second Heat—P. O'Byrne (3), 1; H. Rudd (5), 2; M. Vaughan (4), 3. Seven competed. Time—30 secs. Final—Levin, 1; McMahon, 2; D. Healy, 3. Time—37 secs.

88 Yards Open Handicap.—Final—C. Brady (15), 1; J. B. Mulally (20), 2; C. Heather (18), 3. Five competed. Time—66 secs.

44 Yards Breast and Back Handicap (Club).—M. Anderson (3), 1; R. N. Case (scr.), 2; G. McWilliam (3), 3. Ten competed. Time—55 secs.

88 Yards Club Handicap.—First Heat—R. Clarke (15), 1; R. E. Richardson (12), 2; R. T. Roy (8), 3. Ten competed. Time—90 secs. Second Heat—J. Ruttledge (7), 1; M. Anderson (2), 2; A. F. Quin (4), 3. Seven competed. Time—84 secs. Final—Ruttledge, 1; Quin, 2; Anderson, 3. Time—83 secs.

Diving Championship of the School.—M. Anderson, 1; J. Ruttledge, 2; H. A. Armstrong, 3. Five competed.

WATER POLO—IRISH CUP (SECOND ROUND).

Teams:—Clontarf—T. P. Walsh; S. Barrett, A. Barrett; J. S. Brady; E. A. Roche (captain), J. Quinn, E. J. Lightfoot.

Sandycove—W. Fagan; W. F. Fitzhugh, T. Ryan; G. C. Higginbotham; C. Fagan (captain), M. Brady, M. Monks.

Referee—Mr. N. M. Purcell.

Clontarf, playing into the deep end, attacked strongly for several minutes, but Fagan was brilliant in goal, saving several times in quick succession. In a Sandycove attack Walsh saved well, and S. Barrett changed the venue. Fagan stopped two fine shots from Quinn and A. Barrett; and in a Sandycove break away Brady opened the scoring against the balance of the play. Clontarf attacked fiercely, and grand play by the brothers Barrett resulted in S. Barrett equalising. Keeping at it E. Lightfoot paved the way for a further score to Clontarf by S. Barrett again. At half-time Clontarf led by 2 goals to 1.

The second half exchanges were very even. J. S. Brady played a fine defensive game, and, with S. Barrett, kept the Forty-Footers out. Near the end M. Brady equalised for Sandycove; but in a great attack, just on the whistle, Quinn put Clontarf in front from a penalty. Clontarf won deservedly. Result:—

Clontarf .... 3 goals.
Sandycove .... 2 goals.

DUBLIN BOY SCOUTS' GALA.

The Dublin Boy Scout Association will hold their annual Gala in the Iveagh Baths to-night at 7 p.m. A varied programme of swimming, diving and "stunt" events will be presented. Good entries have been received and a first class evening's sport is assured.

BILLIARDS.

NEWMAN v. DAVIS.

Davis made some progress during yesterday afternoon's session of his 16,000 match with Newman, at Thurston's Hall, London, scoring 939 against the champion's 597. There was poor play at the start, but afterwards the Midlander scored rapidly, making breaks of 216, 230, 70, 117, 77 and 66. Newman's principal breaks were 136, 141 and 125. Interval scores:—Davis (rec. 2,500), 11,592; Newman (in play), 10,702.

Again outpointing Davis at night, the champion finished the evening session 694 behind. He had a very fine break of 474 (including runs of 27 and 20 close cannons). His other breaks were 83, 75, 164 and 70, while Davis's were 186, 176, 96, 81, and 121. Closing scores:—Davis (rec. 2,500) (to play), 12,287; Newman, 11,593.

SMITH v. EARLAM.

As a result of yesterday afternoon's play in the 20,000 game, in which Smith concedes Earlam 10,000 points, at Liverpool, the latter's lead was reduced to 3,160. Earlam's chief runs were 223 and 122. Smith had breaks of 161 and 182. Interval scores:—Earlam (rec. 10,000), 15,161; Smith (in play), 12,001.

Smith played attractive billiards at night, a feature of the play being a break of 410 by him. At the start he took his incomplete innings to 196, while he contributed other runs of 76 and 260. Earlam's best were 83, 107 and 65. Closing scores:—Earlam (receives 10,000), 15,605; Smith (in play), 13,120.
